

The fixed white space device shall check its location once each day, except when not in operation, and store this information automatically in the device.

(2) If the fixed white space device is located where the incorporated geo-location capability does not function, the fixed device may obtain its geographic coordinates from an external geo-location source that is connected to the fixed device using a secure method that ensures that the external geo-location source has been approved for that function by the Commission's equipment certification program.

(3) The fixed white space device shall transmit electronically its geographic coordinates and antenna height above ground to the white space database from which it obtains its list of available channels for operation at the time it registers. The fixed white space device shall electronically transmit this information to the white space database on a daily basis when the device requests a list of the available channels for operation.

(4) If a fixed white space device is moved to another location or its stored geographic coordinates become altered, the device shall re-establish its:

- (i) Geographic coordinates; and
- (ii) Registration with the white space database based on the device's new coordinates and antenna height above ground level.

(5)(i) * * *

(ii) Operation is permitted only on channels and at power levels that are indicated in the white space database as being available for each white space device. Operation on a channel must cease immediately or power must be reduced to a permissible level if the database indicates that the channel is no longer available at the current operating level.

* * * * *

(iv) Fixed white space devices without a direct connection to the Internet: A fixed white space device may not operate on channels provided by a white space database for another fixed device. A fixed white space device that has not yet been initialized and registered with a white space database consistent with § 15.713 of this part, but can receive the transmissions of another fixed white space device, may transmit to that other fixed white space device on either a channel that the other white space device has transmitted on or on a channel which the other white space device indicates is available for use to access the database to register its location and receive a list of channels that are available for it to use. Subsequently, the newly registered fixed white space device must only use the channels that the database indicates are available for it to use.

■ 3. Section 15.713 is amended by revising paragraph (g)(3)(iii) and adding paragraph (g)(4) to read as follows:

§ 15.713 White Space Database.

(g) * * *

(3) * * *

(iii) Device's geographic coordinates (latitude and longitude (NAD 83)) including the location uncertainty, in meters;

* * * * *

(4) The white space database that receives a fixed white space device registration shall confirm the email address and telephone number of the contact person responsible for the operation of the fixed device. The database shall not provide service to the fixed device nor share the registration information with other approved white space databases until it receives a confirming response from the contact person verifying their information. If the registration record is modified to identify a new contact person or to provide a new email address or telephone number, the white space database shall verify the new information before continuing to provide service to the fixed white space device.
