Becoming an Intervenor

In addition to involvement in the EIS scoping process, once Algonquin files its application with the Commission, you may want to become an “intervenor,” which is an official party to the Commission’s proceeding. Intervenor play a more formal role in the process and are able to file briefs, appear at hearings, and be heard by the courts if they choose to appeal the Commission’s final ruling. An intervenor formally participates in the proceeding by filing a request to intervene. Motions to intervene are more fully described at <http://www.ferc.gov/resources/guides/how-to/intervene.asp>. Instructions for becoming an intervenor are in the “Document-less Intervention Guide” under the “e-filing” link on the Commission’s Web site. Please note that the Commission will not accept requests for intervenor status at this time. You must wait until the Commission receives a formal application for the Project, which is currently anticipated to be sometime in November 2016.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background

The CVP is a large water and power system, initially authorized by Congress in 1935, which spans approximately one-third of the State of California. Congress defined the purposes of the CVP as: (1) River regulation; (2) improvement of navigation; (3) flood control; (4) irrigation; (5) domestic uses; and (6) power. The CVP Improvement Act of 1992 added fish and wildlife habitat to the list of CVP purposes.

CVP power facilities include 11 powerplants with a maximum operating capability of about 2,113 MW and an estimated average annual generation of 4.6 million megawatthours (MWh). The U.S. Department of the Interior, Bureau of Reclamation (Reclamation) operates the water control and delivery system and all of the powerplants with the exception of the San Luis Unit, the operation of which Reclamation contracted to the State of California Department of Water Resources. Western markets and transmits the power available from the CVP. Western owns the 94 circuit-mile Malin-Round Mountain 500-kilovolt (kV) transmission line (an integral part of the Pacific AC Intertie (PACI)), the 84 circuit-mile Los Banos-Gates No. 3 500-kV transmission line, 803 circuit miles of 230-kV transmission line, 7 circuit miles of 115-kV transmission line, and approximately 63 circuit miles of 69-kV and below transmission line. Western also has part ownership in the 342-mile California-Oregon Transmission Project (COTP) 500-kV transmission line. Many of Western's existing customers have no direct access to Western's transmission lines and receive service over
