SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Background

In accordance with the Privacy Act of 1974, 5 U.S.C. 552a as amended, the Department of Homeland Security (DHS) proposes to rename, update, and reissue a current DHS system of records notice titled, "DHS/ALL-014 Personnel Emergency Contact Information System of Records." This system of records allows DHS to collect and maintain necessary records concerning current and former DHS personnel (including Federal employees and contractors) for workforce accountability; Federal employees, contractors or other individuals who participate in or who respond to all-hazards emergencies including technical, manmade, or natural disasters, or who participate in emergency response training exercises; and individuals identified as emergency points of contact. DHS collects information of family members, next of kin, or other designated emergency contact persons for use in the event of an emergency.

As a result of a biennial review of this system, DHS is updating this system of records notice to include changes within the: (1) System name, (2) categories of individuals, (3) categories of records, (4) authority for maintenance, (5) purpose, and (6) retention and disposal. The system is renamed Personnel Emergency Contact Information System of Records to clarify that this system of records stores contact information about all current and former DHS personnel and individuals they have identified as emergency contacts or next of kin. The updated categories of individuals describes the four types of individuals maintained within this system of records: current and former DHS personnel, including Federal employees and contractors; current and former Federal employees, contractors, or other individuals who participate in or conduct exercises; current and former Federal employees, contractors, or other individuals who respond to all hazards emergencies including technical, manmade, or natural disasters; and individuals that current or former DHS personnel have identified as emergency points of contact, including family members and next of kin. The updated categories of records have been expanded to include information collected during a response to all-hazards emergencies and deployment of personnel during such responses. The legal authorities have been updated to include the appropriate sections of the Robert T. Stafford Act and the Post-Katrina Emergency Management Reform Act relevant to the deployment of individuals for emergency response. The purpose of the system has been broadened to increase transparency and clarity on why the information is being collected and how it is used. In addition to contacting individuals and emergency contacts, the information is also used to facilitate the response and deployment of DHS and non-DHS personnel to all-hazards emergencies. Lastly, the retention and disposal have been updated to address the retention of deployment-related records.

In the course of responding to, or planning for, all-hazards emergencies, DHS may contact, locate, and deploy current and former DHS personnel; implement the Continuity of Operations (COOP) Plan; and participate in exercises. This system of records encompasses the collection, storage, and use of information associated with such activities and for all individuals that participate in those activities.

Additionally, for emergency notification purposes, DHS may need to contact the identified emergency contacts of the individual.

Consistent with DHS's information sharing mission, information stored in the DHS/ALL-014 Personnel Emergency Contact Information System of Records may be shared with other DHS Components that have a need to know the information to carry out their national security, law enforcement, immigration, intelligence, or other homeland security functions. In addition, information may be shared with appropriate Federal, State, local, tribal, territorial, foreign, or international government agencies consistent with the routine uses set forth in this system of records notice. This updated system will be included in the Department's inventory of record systems.

II. Privacy Act

The Privacy Act embodies fair information practice principles in a statutory framework governing the means by which Federal government agencies collect, maintain, use, and disseminate individuals' records. The Privacy Act applies to information that is maintained in a "system of records." A "system of records" is a group of any records under the control of an agency from which information is retrieved by the name of an individual or by some identifying number, symbol, or other identifying particular assigned to the individual. In the Privacy Act, an individual is defined to encompass U.S. citizens and lawful permanent residents. As a matter of policy, DHS extends administrative Privacy Act protections to all individuals when systems of records maintain information on U.S. citizens, lawful permanent residents, and visitors.

Below is a description of the DHS/ALL-014 Personnel Emergency Contact Information System of Records.
