SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Background

FDA is announcing the availability of a draft guidance for industry entitled “Ulcerative Colitis: Clinical Trial Endpoints.” The purpose of this draft guidance is to assist sponsors in the clinical development of drugs for the treatment of UC in adult and pediatric patients. Specifically, this draft guidance addresses FDA’s current thinking regarding efficacy endpoints for UC clinical trials.

UC is a chronic, relapsing disease characterized by diffuse mucosal inflammation of the colon. UC involves the rectum and it may extend proximally in a contiguous pattern to affect part of the colon or the entire colon. Clinical manifestations of active disease include bloody diarrhea (with or without mucus), urgency, tenesmus, abdominal pain, weight loss, fever, and malaise. In patients with extensive or severe inflammation, acute complications such as severe bleeding and toxic megacolon may occur. There is an increased risk of colorectal cancer in UC patients compared to the general population; risk factors include long duration of disease, extensive colonic involvement, severe inflammation and epithelial dysplasia, and childhood-onset disease. The signs and symptoms of UC in adults and children are similar; however, abdominal pain, disease involving the entire colon, extra-intestinal manifestations, proctitis

(among girls), and disease severity necessitating colectomy are more common in children.

This draft guidance is being issued consistent with FDA’s good guidance practices regulation (21 CFR 10.115). The draft guidance, when finalized, will represent the current thinking of FDA on clinical trial endpoints for UC. It does not establish any rights for any person and is not binding on FDA or the public. You can use an alternative approach if it satisfies the requirements of the applicable statutes and regulations.

II. The Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995

This draft guidance refers to previously approved collections of information that are subject to review by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (44 U.S.C. 3501–3520). The collections of information in 21 CFR parts 312 and 314 have been approved under OMB control numbers 0910–0014 and 0910–0001, respectively.

IV. Electronic Access
