[Docket No. FDA-2016-D-0435]

Labeling for Permanent Hysteroscopically Placed Tubal Implants Intended for Sterilization; Guidance for Industry and Food and Drug Administration Staff; Availability AGENCY: Food and Drug Administration, HHS.

ACTION: Notice of availability.

SUMMARY: The Food and Drug Administration (FDA or Agency) is announcing the availability of the guidance entitled “Labeling for Permanent Hysteroscopically-Placed Tubal Implants Intended for Sterilization.” This guidance addresses the inclusion of a boxed warning and patient decision checklist in the product labeling for permanent hysteroscopically placed tubal implants intended for female sterilization, and the content and format of those materials. FDA believes that the labeling described in this guidance will help to ensure that a woman receives and understands information regarding the benefits and risks of this type of device prior to undergoing implantation. FDA considered comments received on the draft guidance and revised the guidance as appropriate.

The guidance identifies the content and format of certain labeling components for permanent, hysteroscopically placed tubal implants that are intended for sterilization. The guidance applies to all devices of this type, regardless of the insert material composition, location of intended implantation, or exact method of delivery.

DATES: Submit either electronic or written comments on this guidance at any time. General comments on Agency guidance documents are welcome at any time.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Background

Female sterilization is a commonly performed surgical procedure that permanently prevents a woman from becoming pregnant by occluding her fallopian tubes. Traditionally, such surgery has been performed by surgical bilateral tubal ligation (BTL) through a laparotomy, a mini-laparotomy, a transvaginal approach or at the time of cesarean delivery, and, more recently, laparoscopy. During surgical BTL, the fallopian tubes are cut or physically occluded by using various procedures or medical instruments, such as electrosurgical coagulation or implantable clips or rings. On November 4, 2002, FDA approved the Essure System for Permanent Birth Control, the first permanent hysteroscopically placed tubal implant, as an alternative, non-incisional method of providing female sterilization. As the number of hysteroscopic sterilizations with such devices has increased, additional information, including reports of adverse events, has accumulated. Some of these events have resulted in surgery and/or removal of the implants.

In the Federal Register on July 22, 2015 (80 FR 43440), FDA announced a meeting of a public advisory committee to seek expert scientific and clinical opinion on the risks and benefits of the Essure System for Permanent Birth Control. On September 24, 2015, FDA convened its Obstetrics and Gynecology Devices Panel of the Medical Devices Advisory Committee to discuss available data regarding benefits, risks, and potential mitigation strategies to prevent or reduce the frequency/severity of the adverse events reported in association with this device (Ref. 1).

A draft guidance regarding the labeling for permanent hysteroscopically placed tubal implants intended for sterilization was announced in the Federal Register on March 4, 2016 (81 FR 11577) and made available for public comment. The comment period closed on May 3, 2016. FDA reviewed and considered all public comments received and revised the guidance as appropriate, including revisions to the content and format of a boxed warning and patient decision checklist. FDA intends to require such labeling as part of a premarket approval application (PMA) for hysteroscopically placed tubal implants intended for sterilization (or a PMA supplement for an already marketed device).

II. Significance of Guidance

This guidance is being issued consistent with FDA’s good guidance practices regulation (21 CFR 10.115). The guidance represents the current thinking of FDA on “Labeling for Permanent Hysteroscopically-Placed Tubal Implants Intended for Sterilization.” It does not establish any rights for any person and is not binding on FDA or the public. You can use an alternative approach if it satisfies the requirements of the applicable statutes and regulations.

III. Electronic Access

Persons interested in obtaining a copy of the guidance may do so by downloading an electronic copy from the Internet. A search capability for all Center for Devices and Radiological Health guidance documents is available at <http://www.fda.gov/MedicalDevices/DeviceRegulationandGuidance/DeviceDocuments/default.htm>. Guidance documents are also available at <http://www.regulations.gov>. Persons unable to download an electronic copy of “Labeling for Permanent Hysteroscopically-Placed Tubal Implants Intended for Sterilization” may send an email request to CDRH-Guidance@fda.hhs.gov to receive an electronic copy of the document. Please use the document number 1500051 to identify the guidance you are requesting.

IV. Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995

This guidance refers to previously approved collections of information found in FDA regulations. These collections of information are subject to review by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (44 U.S.C. 3501–3520).
