The OCC is proposing to extend OMB approval of the following information collection:

Title: Leveraged Lending.

OMB Control No.: 1557–0315.

Description: On March 22, 2013, the agencies issued guidance stating that they expected financial institutions to properly evaluate and monitor underwritten credit risks in leveraged loans, to understand the effect of changes in borrowers’ enterprise values on credit portfolio quality, and to assess the sensitivity of future credit losses to these changes in enterprise values. In underwriting such credits, financial institutions should ensure that borrowers are able to repay credits when due and that borrowers have sustainable capital structures, including bank borrowings and other debt, to support their continued operations through economic cycles. Financial institutions also should be able to demonstrate they understand the risks and the potential impact of stressful events and circumstances on borrowers’ financial condition.

The final guidance stated that financial institutions should have: (i) underwriting policies for leveraged lending, including stress-testing procedures for leveraged credits; (ii) risk management policies, including stress-testing procedures for pipeline exposures; and, (iii) policies and procedures for incorporating the results of leveraged credit and pipeline stress tests into the firm’s overall stress-testing framework.

Respondents are financial institutions with leveraged lending activities as defined in the guidance.

Title: Guidance on Leveraged Lending.

OMB Control No.: 1557–0315.

Frequency of Response: Annual.

Affected Public: Financial institutions with leveraged lending.

Burden Estimates:

- Estimated number of respondents: 29.
- Estimated total annual burden: 39,162 hours to build; 49,462 hours for ongoing use.
- Total estimated annual burden: 88,624 hours.

Comments submitted in response to this notice will be summarized and included in the submission to OMB. Comments are requested on:

- (a) Whether the information collections are necessary for the proper performance of the OCC’s functions, including whether the information has practical utility;
- (b) The accuracy of the OCC’s estimates of the burden of the information collections, including the validity of the methodology and assumptions used;
- (c) Ways to enhance the quality, utility, and clarity of the information to be collected;
- (d) Ways to minimize the burden of information collections on respondents, including through the use of automated collection techniques or other forms of information technology; and
- (e) Estimates of capital or startup costs and costs of operation, maintenance, and purchase of services to provide information.
