B. Self-Regulatory Organization’s Statement on Burden on Competition

CBOE does not believe that the proposed rule change will impose any burden on competition that is not necessary or appropriate in furtherance of the purposes of the Act. Specifically, the Exchange believes that, by extending the expiration of the Pilot Program, the proposed rule change will allow for further analysis of the Pilot Program and a determination of how the Program shall be structured in the future. In doing so, the proposed rule change will also serve to promote regulatory clarity and consistency, thereby reducing burdens on the marketplace and facilitating investor protection. In addition, the Exchange has been authorized to act jointly in extending the Pilot Program and believes the other exchanges will be filing similar extensions.

C. Self-Regulatory Organization’s Statement on Comments on the Proposed Rule Change Received From Members, Participants, or Others

The Exchange neither solicited nor received comments on the proposed rule change.

III. Date of Effectiveness of the Proposed Rule Change and Timing for Commission Action

The Exchange has filed the proposed rule change pursuant to Section 19(b)(3)(A) of the Act and Rule 19b–4(f)(6) thereunder. Because the proposed rule change does not: (i) Significantly affect the protection of investors or the public interest; (ii) impose any significant burden on competition; and (iii) become operative prior to 30 days from the date on which it was filed, or such shorter time as the Commission may designate, if consistent with the protection of investors and the public interest, the proposal rule change has become effective pursuant to Section 19(b)(3)(A) of the Act and Rule 19b–4(f)(6)(iii) thereunder. At any time within 60 days of the filing of the proposed rule change, the Commission summarily may temporarily suspend such rule change if it appears to the Commission that such action is necessary or appropriate in the public interest, for the protection of investors, or otherwise in furtherance of the purposes of the Act. If the Commission takes such action, the Commission will institute proceedings to determine whether the proposed rule change should be approved or disapproved.

IV. Solicitation of Comments

Interested persons are invited to submit written data, views, and arguments concerning the foregoing, including whether the proposed rule change is consistent with the Act. Comments may be submitted by any of the following methods:

Electronic Comments

- Use the Commission’s Internet comment form (http://www.sec.gov/rules/sro.shtml); or
- Send an email to rule-comments@sec.gov. Please include File Number SR-CBOE–2016–083 on the subject line.

Paper Comments

- Send paper comments in triplicate to Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 100 F Street NE., Washington, DC 20549–1090.

All submissions should refer to File Number SR-CBOE–2016–083. This file number should be included on the subject line if email is used. To help the Commission process and review your comments more efficiently, please use only one method. The Commission will post all comments on the Commission’s Internet Web site (http://www.sec.gov/rules/sro.shtml). Copies of the submission, all subsequent amendments, all written statements with respect to the proposed rule change that are filed with the Commission, and all written communications relating to the proposed rule change between the Commission and any person, other than those that may be withheld from the public in accordance with the provisions of 5 U.S.C. 552, will be available for Web site viewing and printing in the Commission’s Public Reference Room, 100 F Street NE., Washington, DC 20549 on official business days between the hours of 10:00 a.m. and 3:00 p.m. Copies of the filing also will be available for inspection and copying at the principal office of the Exchange. All comments received will be posted without change; the Commission does not edit personal identifying information from submissions. You should submit only information that you wish to make available publicly. All submissions should refer to File Number SR-CBOE–2016–083 and should be submitted on or before December 28, 2016.
Applicant currently has approximately 393,535 client accounts enrolled in nondiscretionary strategies in MLIAP. Those accounts have approximately $157 billion in assets under management as of June 30, 2016. In the period January 1, 2015 through December 31, 2015, there were approximately 53.9 million trades in MLIAP, involving approximately $79.1 billion in securities. In the period January 1, 2015 through December 31, 2015, 25,114 trades were effected in reliance on the Rule in 5,978 unique accounts, representing an approximate average of 4.2 such trades per account. Approximately 70 percent of the trades done in reliance on the Rule in this period were purchases by client accounts; the average purchase was approximately $55,850. Approximately 30 percent of the trades done in reliance on the Rule in this period were sales from client accounts; the average sale was approximately $41,504.

4. In 2013, the Applicant began transitioning its investment advisory client accounts from five legacy investment advisory programs, including MLPA, to MLIAP. The Applicant currently has approximately 3,239 client accounts remaining in MLPA. Those accounts have approximately $5.5 billion in assets under management as of June 30, 2016. It is expected that these client accounts will either transition to MLIAP or terminate their investment advisory relationship with the Applicant, at which point MLPA will be retired. In the period January 1, 2015 through December 31, 2015, there were approximately 675,000 trades in MLPA, involving approximately $13 billion in securities. In the period January 1, 2015 through December 31, 2015, 11,400 trades were effected in reliance on the Rule in 2,857 unique accounts, representing an approximate average of 4 such trades per account. Approximately 70 percent of the trades done in reliance on the Rule in this period were purchases by client accounts; the average purchase was approximately $77,600. Approximately 30 percent of the trades done in reliance on the Rule in this period were sales from client accounts; the average sale was approximately $77,517.

5. From January 1, 2015 to December 31, 2015, the Applicant relied on the Rule for any principal trades in securities it underwrote. Any principal transactions in securities that are underwritten by the Applicant are effected in accordance with section 206(3) of the Advisers Act.

6. The Applicant acknowledges that the Order, if granted, would not be construed as relieving in any way the Applicant from acting in the best interests of an advisory client, including fulfilling the duty to seek the best execution for the particular transaction for the advisory client; nor shall it relieve the Applicant from any obligation that may be imposed by sections 206(1) or (2) of the Advisers Act or by other applicable provisions of the federal securities laws or applicable FINRA rules.

Applicant’s Legal Analysis

1. Section 206(3) provides that it is unlawful for any investment adviser, directly or indirectly, acting as principal for its own account, knowingly to sell any security to or purchase any security from a client, without disclosing to the client in writing before the completion of the transaction the capacity in which the adviser is acting and obtaining the client’s consent to the transaction. Rule 206(3)–3T deems an investment adviser to be in compliance with the provisions of section 206(3) of the Advisers Act when the investment adviser, or a person controlling, controlled by, or under common control with the investment adviser, acting as principal for its own account, sells to or purchases from an advisory client any security, provided that the investment adviser complies with the conditions of the Rule.

2. Rule 206(3)–3T requires, among other things, that the investment adviser obtain a client’s written, revocable consent prospectively authorizing the adviser, directly or indirectly, acting as principal for its own account, to sell any security to or purchase any security from the client. The consent must be obtained after the adviser provides the client with written disclosure about: (i) The circumstances under which the investment adviser may engage in principal transactions with the client; (ii) the nature and significance of the conflicts the investment adviser has with its client’s interests as a result of those transactions; and (iii) how the investment adviser addresses those conflicts. The investment adviser also must provide trade-by-trade disclosure to the client, before the execution of each principal transaction, of the capacity in which the adviser may act with respect to the transaction, and obtain the client’s consent (which may be written or oral) to the transaction. The Rule is available only to an investment adviser that is also a broker-dealer registered under section 15 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 ("Exchange Act") and may only be relied upon with respect to a nondiscretionary account that is a brokerage account subject to the Exchange Act, and the rules thereunder, and the rules of the self-regulatory organization(s) of which it is a member. Rule 206(3)–3T is not available for principal transactions if the investment adviser or a person who controls, is controlled by, or is under common control with the adviser ("control person") is the issuer or is an underwriter of the security, except that an adviser may rely on the Rule for trades in which the adviser or a control person is an underwriter of non-convertible investment-grade debt securities.

3. The investment adviser also must provide to the client a trade confirmation that, in addition to the requirements of rule 10b–10 under the Exchange Act, includes a conspicuous, plain English statement informing the client that the investment adviser disclosed to the client before the execution of the transaction that the investment adviser may act as principal in connection with the transaction, that the client authorized the transaction, and that the investment adviser sold the security to or bought the security from the client for its own account. The investment adviser also must deliver to the client, at least annually, a written statement listing all transactions that were executed on the account in reliance on the Rule, including the date and price of each transaction.

4. Rule 206(3)–3T is scheduled to expire on December 31, 2016. Upon expiration, the Applicant would be required to provide trade-by-trade written disclosure to each nondiscretionary advisory client with whom the Applicant sought to engage in a principal transaction in accordance with section 206(3). The Applicant submits that its nondiscretionary clients, through the Applicant’s current reliance on the Rule, have had access to the Applicant’s inventory through principal transactions for a number of years, and expect to continue to have such access in the future. The Applicant believes that engaging in principal transactions with its clients provides certain benefits to its clients, including access to securities of limited availability, such as municipal bonds, and that the written disclosure requirement of section 206(3) acts as an operational barrier to its ability to engage in principal trades with its clients, especially when the transaction involves securities of limited availability.

5. Unless the Applicant is provided an exemption from the written disclosure and client consent requirements of section 206(3), Applicant believes that it will be unable to provide the same range of services and access to the same types of securities to its nondiscretionary advisory clients as it currently is able to provide to clients under the Rule.

6. The Applicant notes that, if the requested relief is granted, it will remain subject to the fiduciary duties that are generally enforceable under sections 206(1) and 206(2) of the Advisers Act, which, in general terms, require the Applicant to: (i) Disclose material facts about the advisory relationship to its clients; (ii) treat each client fairly; and (iii) act only in the best interests of its clients, disclosing conflicts of interest when present and obtaining client consent to arrangements that present such conflicts.

7. The Applicant further notes that, in its capacity as a broker-dealer with respect to these accounts, it will remain subject to a comprehensive set of Commission and FINRA regulations that apply to the relationship between a broker-dealer and its customer in addition to the fiduciary duties an adviser owes a client. These rules require, among other things, that the Applicant deal fairly with its customers, seek to obtain best execution of customer orders, and make only suitable recommendations. These obligations are designed to promote business conduct that protects customers from abusive practices that may not necessarily be fraudulent, and to protect against unfair prices and excessive commissions. Specifically, these provisions, among other things, require that the prices charged by the Applicant be reasonably related to the prevailing market, and limit the commissions and mark-ups the Applicant can charge. Additionally, these obligations require that the Applicant have a reasonable basis to believe that a recommended transaction or investment strategy involving a security or securities is suitable for the customer, based on information obtained through reasonable diligence.

8. The Applicant requests that the Commission issue an Order pursuant to section 206A exempting it from the written disclosure and consent requirements of section 206(3) only with respect to client accounts in MLPFA, nondiscretionary strategies in MLIAP, and any similar nondiscretionary program to be created in the future. The Applicant also requests that the Commission’s Order apply to future investment advisers controlling, controlled by, or under common control with the Applicant ("Future Advisers"). Any Future Adviser relying on any Order granted pursuant to the application will comply with the terms and conditions stated in the application.1

Applicant’s Conditions

The Applicant agrees that any Order granting the requested relief will be subject to the following conditions:

1. The investment adviser will exercise no “investment discretion” (as such term is defined in section 3(a)(35) of the Exchange Act), except investment discretion granted by the advisory client on a temporary or limited basis,2 with respect to the client’s account.

2. The investment adviser will not trade in reliance on this Order any security for which the investment adviser or any person controlling, controlled by, or under common control with the investment adviser is the issuer, or, at the time of the sale, an underwriter (as defined in section 202(a)(20) of the Advisers Act).

3. The investment adviser will not directly or indirectly require the client to consent to principal trading as a condition to opening or maintaining an account with the investment adviser.

4. The advisory client has executed a written revocable consent prospectively authorizing the investment adviser directly or indirectly to act as principal for its own account in selling any security to or purchasing any security from the advisory client. The advisory client’s written consent must be obtained through a signature or other positive manifestation of consent that is separate from or in addition to the signature indicating the client’s consent to the advisory agreement. The separate

1 All entities that currently intend to rely on any order granted pursuant to the application are named as Applicants.

2 Discretion is considered to be temporary or limited for purposes of this condition when the investment adviser is given discretion: (i) As to the price at which or the time to execute an order given by a client for the purchase or sale of a definite amount or quantity of a specified security; (ii) on an isolated or infrequent basis, to purchase or sell a security or type of security when a client is unavailable for a limited period of time not to exceed a few months; (iii) as to cash management, such as to exchange a position in a money market fund for another money market fund or cash equivalent; (iv) to purchase or sell securities to satisfy margin requirements; (v) to sell specific bonds and purchase similar bonds in order to permit a client to take a tax loss on the original position; (vi) to purchase a bond with a specified credit rating and maturity; and (vii) to purchase or sell a security or type of security limited by specific parameters established by the client. See, e.g., Temporary Rule Regarding Principal Trades with Certain Advisory Clients, Investment Advisers Act Release No. 2053 (Sept. 24, 2007) at n. 31.
or additional signature line or alternative means of expressing consent must be preceded immediately by prominent, plain English disclosure containing either: (a) An explanation of: (i) The circumstances under which the investment adviser directly or indirectly may engage in principal transactions; (ii) the nature and significance of conflicts with its client’s interests as a result of the transactions; and (iii) how the investment adviser addresses those conflicts; or (b) a statement explaining that the client is consenting to principal transactions, followed by a cross-reference to a specific document provided to the client containing the disclosure in (a)(i)–(iii) above and to the specific page or pages on which such disclosure is located; provided, however, that if the investment adviser requires time to modify its electronic systems to provide the disclosure in (a)(i)–(iii) above immediately preceding the separate or additional signature line, the investment adviser may, while updating such electronic systems, and for no more than 90 days from the date of the Order, instead provide a cross-reference to a specific document provided to the client containing the disclosure in (a)(i)–(iii) above and to the specific section in such document in which such disclosure is located. Transition provision: To the extent that the adviser obtained fully informed written revocable consent from an advisory client for purposes of rule 206(3)–3T(a)(3) prior to the date of this Order, the adviser may rely on this Order with respect to such client without obtaining additional prospective consent from such client. 5. The investment adviser, prior to the execution of each transaction in reliance on this Order, will: (a) Inform the advisory client, orally or in writing, of the capacity in which it may act with respect to such transaction; and (b) obtain consent from the advisory client, orally or in writing, to act as principal for its own account with respect to such transaction. 6. The investment adviser will send a written confirmation at or before completion of each such transaction that includes, in addition to the information required by rule 10b–10 under the Exchange Act, a conspicuous, plain English statement informing the advisory client that the investment adviser: (a) Disclosed to the client prior to the execution of the transaction that the adviser may be acting in a principal capacity in connection with the transaction and the client authorized the transaction; and (b) sold the security to, or bought the security from, the client for its own account.

7. The investment adviser will send to the client, no less frequently than annually, written disclosure containing a list of all transactions that were executed in the client’s account in reliance upon this Order, and the date and price of each such transaction. 8. The investment adviser is a broker-dealer registered under section 15 of the Exchange Act and each account for which the investment adviser relies on this Order is a brokerage account subject to the Exchange Act, and the rules thereunder, and the rules of the self-regulatory organization(s) of which it is a member. 9. Each written disclosure required as a condition to this Order will include a conspicuous, plain English statement that the client may revoke the written consent referred to in Condition 4 above without penalty at any time by written notice to the investment adviser in accordance with reasonable procedures established by the investment adviser, but in all cases such revocation must be given effect within 3 business days of the investment adviser’s receipt thereof. 10. The investment adviser will maintain records sufficient to enable verification of compliance with the conditions of this Order. Such records will include, without limitation: (a) Documentation sufficient to demonstrate compliance with each disclosure and consent requirement under this Order; (b) in particular, documentation sufficient to demonstrate that, prior to the execution of each transaction in reliance on this Order, the adviser informed the advisory client of the capacity in which it may act with respect to the transaction and that it received the advisory client’s consent (if the investment adviser informs the client orally of the capacity in which it may act with respect to such transaction or obtains oral consent, such records may, for example, include recordings of telephone conversations or contemporaneous written notations); and (c) documentation sufficient to enable assessment of compliance by the investment adviser with sections 206(1) and (2) of the Advisers Act in connection with its reliance on this Order.4 In each case, such records will be maintained and preserved in an easily accessible place for a period of not less than five years, the first two years in an appropriate office of the investment adviser, and available for inspection by the staff of the Commission. 11. The investment adviser will adopt written compliance policies and procedures reasonably designed to ensure, and the investment adviser’s chief compliance officer will monitor, the investment adviser’s compliance with the conditions of this Order. The investment adviser’s chief compliance officer will, on at least a quarterly basis, conduct testing reasonably sufficient to verify such compliance. Such written policies and procedures, monitoring and testing will address, without limitation: (a) Compliance by the investment adviser with its disclosure and consent requirements under this Order; (b) the integrity and operation of electronic systems employed by the investment adviser in connection with its reliance on this Order; (c) compliance by the investment adviser with its recordkeeping obligations under this Order; and (d) whether there is any evidence of the investment adviser engaging in “dumping” in connection with its reliance on this Order. The investment adviser’s chief compliance officer will document the frequency and results of such monitoring and testing, and the investment adviser will maintain and preserve such documentation in an easily accessible place for a period of not less than five years, the first two years in an appropriate office of the investment adviser, and be available for inspection by the staff of the Commission.

By the Commission.

Brent J. Fields, Secretary.

[FR Doc. 2016–29297 Filed 12–6–16; 8:45 am]

BILLING CODE 8011–01–P

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[Release No. IA–4581; File No. 803–00234]

Wells Fargo Advisors, LLC and Wells Fargo Advisors Financial Network, LLC; Notice of Application

December 1, 2016.

AGENCY: Securities and Exchange Commission (“Commission”).

ACTION: Notice of application for an exemptive order under section 206A of the Investment Advisers Act of 1940