Title: Mandatory Reliability Standards: Reliability Standard CIP-014.
OMB Control No.: 1902-0274.

Type of Request: Three-year extension of the FERC-725U information collection requirements with no changes to the current reporting requirements.

Abstract: Reliability Standard CIP-014-2¹ requires applicable transmission owners and transmission operators to identify and protect transmission stations and transmission substations, and their associated primary control centers that if rendered inoperable or damaged as a result of a physical attack could result in instability, uncontrolled separation, or cascading within an Interconnection.

Transmission owners and transmission operators must keep data or evidence to show compliance with the standard for three years unless directed by its Compliance Enforcement Authority. If a responsible entity is found non-compliant, it must keep information related to the non-compliance until mitigation is complete and approved, or for the three years, whichever is longer.

Type of Respondents: Transmission owners (TO) and transmission operators (TOP).

*Estimate of Annual Burden:*² The Commission estimates the annual public reporting burden for the information collection as:

FERC-725U—MANDATORY RELIABILITY STANDARDS: RELIABILITY STANDARD CIP-014

	Number and type of respondents	Number of responses per respondent	Total number of responses	Average burden hours and cost per response ³	Total burden hours and total cost

became effective on 10/2/2015 and is now included in the FERC-725U information collection.

² Burden is defined as the total time, effort, or financial resources expended by persons to generate, maintain, retain, or disclose or provide information to or for a Federal agency. For further explanation of what is included in the information collection burden, reference 5 CFR 1320.3.
