Content of Premarket Submissions for Management of Cybersecurity in Medical Devices; Draft Guidance for Industry and Food and Drug Administration Staff; Availability

AGENCY: Food and Drug Administration, HHS.

ACTION: Notice of availability.

SUMMARY: The Food and Drug Administration (FDA or Agency) is announcing the availability of the draft guidance entitled "Content of Premarket Submissions for Management of Cybersecurity in Medical Devices." As more medical devices are becoming interconnected, cybersecurity threats have become more numerous, more frequent, more severe, and more clinically impactful. There is a need to provide manufacturers with specific technical recommendations (e.g., appropriate threat modeling and other premarket testing) to help ensure device cybersecurity. The updates to the existing "Content of Premarket Submissions for Management of Cybersecurity in Medical Devices" guidance is anticipated to better protect against risks, such as ransomware campaigns, that could disrupt clinical operations and delay patient care and risks, such as exploiting a vulnerability that enables attacks on multiple patients. This draft guidance is not final nor is it in effect at this time.

DATES: Submit either electronic or written comments on the draft guidance by March 18, 2019 to ensure that the Agency considers your comment on this draft guidance before it begins work on the final version of the guidance. ADDRESSES: You may submit comments on any guidance at any time as follows:

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Background

The need for effective cybersecurity to assure medical device functionality and safety has become more important with the increasing use of wireless, internetand network-connected devices, and the frequent electronic exchange of medical device-related health information. In addition, cybersecurity threats to the healthcare sector have become more frequent, more severe, and more clinically impactful. Cybersecurity incidents have rendered medical devices and hospital networks inoperable, disrupting the delivery of patient care across healthcare facilities in the United States and globally. Such cyberattacks and exploits can delay diagnoses and/or treatment and may lead to patient harm.

Although FDA issued guidance addressing recommendations for device cybersecurity information in premarket submissions in 2014, <sup>1</sup> the rapidly evolving landscape, and the increased understanding of the threats and their potential mitigations necessitates an updated approach. This draft guidance is intended to provide recommendations to industry regarding cybersecurity device design, labeling, and the documentation that FDA recommends be included in premarket submissions for devices with cybersecurity risk. These recommendations can facilitate an efficient premarket review process and help ensure that marketed medical devices are sufficiently resilient to cybersecurity threats.

FDA plans to hold a public workshop on January 29th and January 30th, 2019.² FDA seeks to bring together diverse stakeholders to discuss, indepth, the draft guidance, "Content of Premarket Submissions for Management of Cybersecurity in Medical Devices" and the subtopic of the draft guidance regarding a Cybersecurity Bill of Materials (CBOM), which can be a critical element in identifying assets, threats, and vulnerabilities.

II. Significance of Guidance

This draft guidance is being issued consistent with FDA's good guidance practices regulation (21 CFR 10.115). The draft guidance, when finalized, will represent the current thinking of FDA on Content of Premarket Submissions for Management of Cybersecurity in Medical Devices. It does not establish any rights for any person and is not binding on FDA or the public. You can use an alternative approach if it satisfies the requirements of the applicable statutes and regulations. This guidance is not subject to Executive Order 12866.

III. Electronic Access

Persons interested in obtaining a copy of the draft guidance may do so by downloading an electronic copy from the internet. A search capability for all Center for Devices and Radiological Health guidance documents is available at https://www.fda.gov/MedicalDevices/ DeviceRegulationandGuidance/ GuidanceDocuments/default.htm. This draft guidance refers to previously approved collections of information. These collections of information are subject to review by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (44 U.S.C. 3501–3520). The collections of information in the following FDA regulations and guidance have been approved by OMB as listed in the following table:

21 CFR part or guidance	Topic	OMB control No.

V. Other Issues for Consideration

The Agency invites comments on the "Content of Premarket Submissions for Management of Cybersecurity in Medical Devices" draft guidance, in general, and on the following topics, in particular:

- Definition of CBOM:
- Whether a CBOM should include both software and hardware components
- Type of information and level of detail that should be included in a CBOM
- Effective mechanisms for sharing CBOM information
- Format the CBOM should take:
- Available formats that could be leveraged
- Whether multiple formats would be able to co-exist
- Appropriate frequency for updating the CBOM
- Features of a CBOM that would make it automatically consumable
