SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Tite: Red Flags Rule, 16 CFR 681.1; Card Issuers Rule, 16 CFR 681.2; Address Discrepancy Rule, 16 CFR part 641.

OMB Control Number: 3084–0137.

Type of Review: Extension of currently approved collection.

Abstract: The Red Flags Rule requires financial institutions and certain creditors to develop and implement written Identity Theft Prevention Programs. The Card Issuers Rule requires credit and debit card issuers to assess the validity of notifications of address changes under certain circumstances. The Address Discrepancy Rule provides guidance on what covered users of consumer reports must do when they receive a notice of address discrepancy from a nationwide consumer reporting agency.

Collectively, these three anti-identity theft provisions are intended to prevent impostors from misusing another person’s personal information for a fraudulent purpose.

The Commission received no relevant public comments on the Rules’ information collection requirements and FTC staff’s associated PRA burden analysis and estimates that appeared in an August 8, 2018 Federal Register Notice. That Notice discusses in greater detail staff’s methodology behind the estimates restated here in summary form, while also providing an overview of the Rules and the statutes that underlie them.

Pursuant to the OMB regulations, 5 CFR part 1320, that implement the PRA,

2 83 FR 39096.

3 This Federal Register Notice, however, corrects summary figures that had appeared in the prior Notice at Part II., page 39,097 (inadvertently carried over from the FTC’s 2015 published PRA estimates). The corrections are not numerically material, however, and the calculation methodologies that appeared in the prior Notice were as intended. Further, in Part III. C. of the prior Notice, at page 39,099, 1,667 hours then intended to be shown as an estimate for address verification were omitted from the hours subtotal for Section 315 and, by extension, the aggregate estimated burden hours for the Rules. However, given statutory changes that had not then been appropriately considered, those hours had been tied to an overstatement of the relevant population affected, as explained further in footnote 9 here. Accordingly, ultimately the estimated burden related to address verification is de minimis.
