SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

(1) PBGC Is Proposing To Amend One General Routine Use in Its Prefatory Statement of General Routine Uses

PBGC is proposing to amend one general routine use in its Prefatory Statement of General Routine Uses. During a routine review of the General Routine Uses, PBGC determined that the language contained in General Routine Use 1—Law Enforcement should be clarified to reflect that information maintained in a PBGC system of records may be disclosed to law enforcement investigating the potential or actual violation of a statute, regulation, rule or particular program. The language will be further amended to clarify that law enforcement includes tribal entities charged with law enforcement. The amended General Routine Use will read: "G1. Routine Use—Law Enforcement: A record from this system may be disclosed to law enforcement in the event the record is connected to a violation or potential violation of law, whether civil, criminal or regulatory in nature, and whether arising by general statute, regulation, rule, or order issued pursuant thereto. Such disclosure may be made to the appropriate agency, whether Federal, State, local, or tribal, or other public authority responsible for enforcing, investigating or prosecuting such violation or charged with enforcing or implementing the statute, or rule, regulation, or order issued pursuant thereto, if PBGC determines that the records are both relevant and necessary to any enforcement, regulatory, investigative or prospective responsibility of the receiving entity."

(2) PBGC Is Proposing To Rescind PBGC-24, Participant Debt Collection

Pursuant to the Privacy Act of 1974, 5 U.S.C. 552a, and as part of its ongoing improvement, integration and management efforts, PBGC is proposing to rescind the following system of records notice: PBGC-24, Participant Debt Collection (last published at 81 FR 63321 (September 14, 2016)).

With regard to PBGC-24, the Agency will continue to collect and maintain records about individuals who may owe a debt to the Agency and will rely upon an existing PBGC system of records titled PBGC-13, Debt Collection—PBGC (last published at 81 FR 63311 (September 14, 2016)), which is also written for the purpose of collecting any and all debts that be owed to the PBGC. The primary difference between the two systems of records being that PBGC-13 and PBGC-24 have different system managers.

Eliminating this notice will have no adverse impact on individuals; rather, its removal will promote the overall streamlining and management of PBGC Privacy Act system of records and reduce the likelihood of any public misunderstanding rooted in the existence of two similar notices. PBGC-13 will be clarified and amended to reflect both the existing system manager and the former system manager of PBGC-24.

(3) PBGC Is Proposing To Establish a New System of Records: PBGC-25, PBGC.GOV Comment Management System

PBGC is proposing to establish a new system of records titled, "PBGC-25, PBGC.GOV Comment Management System—PBGC." The proposed system of records furthers the Agency's commitment to the E-Government Act of 2002 by promoting the use of electronic services, specifically, providing the public with access to proposed rulemaking and the ability to directly comment on those rules or any other area of concern directly to the Agency via comment field(s) on the PBGC.gov website. The public may also submit supporting materials related to their comments or other area of concern. This system of records may contain records of data points supplied by the user of the comment field, which may include names, addresses, phone numbers, email addresses, social security numbers, customer identification numbers, user names, internet protocol (IP) addresses or any other information entered in the comment field. In addition, this system will contain comments individuals have submitted through Regulations.gov about PBGC. While this will be a new system of records, PBGC will continue to respect the privacy of individuals using the website and comment field by encouraging users to provide the least amount of information necessary to respond to rulemaking or initiate contact with the Agency.

The collection and maintenance of these records is new. Prior to PBGC.gov, PBGC did not solicit, receive or collect rulemaking comments through its public website.

(4) PBGC Is Proposing To Add Two Routine Uses to PBGC-2, Disbursements

PBGC is proposing to add two routine uses to PBGC-2, Disbursements (last published at 81 FR 63301 (September 14, 2016)).

PBGC is proposing the addition of routine use 3, which permits the disclosure of information in this system to the Office of Personnel Management, the Office of Management and Budget, or the Government Accountability Office. This addition will facilitate oversight of payments made from PBGC to various entities, as well as promote transparency and accountability during the payment process. Routine use 3 will read: "To the Office of Personnel Management (OPM), the Office of Management and Budget (OMB), or the Government Accountability Office (GAO) when the information is required for program evaluation purposes."

PBGC is proposing the addition of routine use 4, which permits disclosure of information to consumer reporting agencies in order to facilitate and collect claims for money or property due to PBGC. New routine use 4 will read, "A record from this system may be disclosed to a consumer reporting agency in accordance with 31 U.S.C. 3711(e)."

(5) PBGC Is Proposing To Add a Routine Use to PBGC-3, Employee Payroll, Leave, and Attendance Records

PBGC is proposing to add a routine use to PBGC-3: Employee Payroll, Leave, and Attendance Records (last published at 81 FR 63301 (September 14, 2016)). This routine use is necessary as it allows PBGC to collect claims for money or property. The new routine use will read, "A record from this system may be disclosed to a consumer reporting agency in accordance with 31 U.S.C. 3711(e)."

(6) PBGC Is Proposing To Clarify the Types of Plan Information Contained in the System, Amend Two Routine Uses and Add a Routine Use to PBGC-6, Plan Participant and Beneficiary Data

PBGC is proposing the following revisions to PBGC-6, Plan Participant and Beneficiary Data (last published at 81 FR 63303 (September 14, 2016)): Clarification of the types of plan information contained in the system; amendment of two routine uses; and, addition of one new routine use.

PBGC is proposing the clarification of the name of the type of plans records contained in the system of records. Currently, plan information is described as “pension plans.” PBGC would clarify the name of the type of plans to “retirement plans” in order to reflect the inclusion of plans that do not meet the definition of “pension plans.”

PBGC is proposing the amendment of routine use 13, which currently permits disclosure to government agencies in order to verify payment eligibility. After review of the routine use and agency practices, we have determined that information needed to verify eligibility to receive payment may be held by third parties with whom PBGC has a contractual relationship. The amended portion of routine use 13 will permit disclosure and read, “a third party with whom PBGC has a contractual relationship.” This amendment will further the purpose of the Agency by ensuring payments are made only to individuals eligible to receive such payments.

PBGC is proposing the amendment of routine use 16, which currently permits the disclosure of a beneficiary’s name and date of birth to the participant. PBGC wishes to disclose additional types of beneficiary information to the participant. Amended routine use 16 will read, “With the exception of third party social security numbers, all beneficiary information contained in the participant file (such as: Names, addresses, phone numbers, email addresses and dates of birth) provided by the subject of the record may be disclosed to the subject of the record, upon written request to the Disclosure Officer in accordance with the Record Access Procedure outlined below.” Under the existing routine use, PBGC withholds all information except the name and date of birth of a beneficiary that is contained in participant’s file, even though it was often the participant who provided the beneficiary’s personal information (as this information is required from the participant when naming their beneficiary). By allowing PBGC to disclose all information regarding the beneficiary to the participant, except their social security number, the amended routine use will ensure that a participant can readily confirm or amend information about their beneficiary, while still protecting the beneficiary’s social security number. In addition, this routine use will improve customer service without sacrificing any individuals’ privacy interests.

PBGC is proposing the addition of a routine use to PBGC-6. New routine use 18 will read, “A record from this system may be disclosed to a consumer reporting agency in accordance with 31 U.S.C. 3711(e).” This routine use is necessary as it allows the disclosure of information to consumer reporting agencies in order to facilitate and collect claims for money or property due to PBGC.

(7) PBGC Is Proposing To Add One Routine Use to PBGC-8, Employee Relations Files

PBGC’s review of its system of records notices revealed the need to be able to disclose certain records from the PBGC system of records documenting employee grievances to union representatives. Accordingly, PBGC is proposing to add one additional routine use to PBGC-8; Employee Relations Files (last published at 81 FR 63304 (September 14, 2016), in furtherance of resolving a grievant’s complaint and limiting such disclosure to the extent that it is relevant to the subject matter involved in the union issue or proceeding and if disclosure would be in the interest of the subject individual. New routine use 3 will read: “A record from this system may be disclosed to a union representative, Hearing Examiner or Arbitrator for the purpose of representation or in order to conduct a hearing in connection with an employee’s grievance or appeal.”

(8) PBGC Is Proposing To Amend the Name of the System of Record, Amend One Routine Use, Correct the Numbering of Published Routine Uses, and Add Two Routine Uses to PBGC-9, Unclaimed Pensions

PBGC’s review of its system of records notices revealed the need to limit the disclosure of certain information and permit the disclosure of other information from the PBGC system of records containing information on unclaimed retirement funds. PBGC is proposing to amend the name of the system, amend one routine use, correct the numbering of published routine uses and add two routine uses to PBGC-9: Unclaimed Pensions (last published at 81 FR 63306 (September 14, 2016)).

These changes are designed to ensure that the system name adequately reflects the information contained therein and to ensure that the Agency may fulfill its mission of paying benefits to participants or their beneficiaries while still protecting individual privacy rights. The new name of the system of record will be PBGC-9: Unclaimed Retirement Funds.

In the last published version of this records notice, there were two routine uses number 7. PBGC is proposing to amend the first routine use 7 by removing language permitting the disclosure of the last known address of participants and beneficiaries. PBGC believes that not disclosing this information to the public protects the privacy rights of these individuals. Further, the information that will continue to be disclosed pursuant to routine use 7 is more than sufficient to make the public aware and potentially identify and locate individuals who may be owed a benefit payment.

PBGC also proposes the correction of numbering by revising the latter routine use to 8. There are no further changes to this routine use and will be republished to read: 8. Names, social security numbers, last known addresses, dates of birth and death, employment history, and pay status of individuals covered by legal settlement agreements involving PBGC may be disclosed to entities covered by or created under those agreements.

New routine use 9 will read: “Names, social security numbers, last known addresses, dates of birth, and benefit amounts owed may be disclosed to other government agencies under a Memorandum of Understanding or Interagency Agreement in order to locate missing participants.”

New routine use 10 will read: “Names, social security numbers, dates of birth and death, name of plan sponsors, plan sponsor EIN/PN may be periodically disclosed to insurance companies where annuities have been purchased by a terminated plan.”

(9) PBGC Is Proposing To Update and Add Ten Routine Uses to PBGC-12, Personnel Security Investigation Records

PBGC’s review of its system of records notices revealed the need to disclose certain information from the PBGC system of records documenting personnel information to other branches and agencies of the Federal Government. PBGC is proposing to update and add ten routine uses to PBGC-12: Personnel Security Investigation Records (last published at 81 FR 63309 (September 14, 2016)), to ensure consistency with the Federal Investigative Standards and to promote the efficiency of governmental hiring and investigations associated with hiring. The records in this system may be used to provide investigatory information for determinations concerning whether an individual is, or continues to be, suitable or fit for Government employment or military service; eligible for logical and physical access to federally controlled facilities and information systems; eligible to hold a sensitive position (including, but not limited to, eligibility for access to classified information); fit to perform work for or on behalf of the Government as an employee of a contractor; qualified for Government service; qualified to perform contractual services for the Government; and, loyal to the United States. The system is also used to document such determinations. In conducting a review of the system of records, it was determined that information regarding PBGC vendors may be included in the system. The category of vendor has been added to the category of individuals covered by the system and are included in the system of records' purpose.

PBGC proposes the clarification of the name of an office within a federal agency used as an example in routine use 2. The office charged with investigating the suitability of individuals in this system would be the National Background Investigations Bureau (NBIB), a component of the Office of Personnel Management. The clarified example in the routine use example will now include, "National Background Investigations Bureau (NBIB)."

New routine use 4 will read: "To designated officers and employees of agencies, offices, and other establishments in the executive, legislative, and judicial branches of the Federal Government, having a need to evaluate qualifications, suitability, and loyalty to the United States Government and/or a security clearance or access determination."

New routine use 5 will read: "To designated officers and employees of agencies, offices, and other establishments in the executive, legislative, and judicial branches of the Federal Government, when such agency, office, or establishment investigates an individual for purposes of granting a security clearance, or for the purpose of making a determination of qualifications, suitability, or loyalty to the United States Government, or access to classified information or restricted areas."

New routine use 6 will read: "To designated officers and employees of agencies, offices, and other establishments in the executive, judicial, or legislative branches of the Federal Government, having the responsibility to grant clearances to make a determination regarding access to classified information or restricted areas, or to evaluate qualifications, suitability, or loyalty to the United States Government, in connection with performance of a service to the Federal Government under a contract or other agreement."

New routine use 7 will read: "To U.S. intelligence agencies for use in intelligence activities."

New routine use 8 will read: "To the appropriate Federal, State, local, tribal, or other public authority responsible for investigating, prosecuting, enforcing, or implementing a statute, rule, regulation, or order where OPM becomes aware of an indication of a violation or potential violation of civil or criminal law or regulation."

New routine use 9 will read: "To an agency, office, or other establishment in the executive, legislative, or judicial branches of the Federal Government, in response to its request, in connection with the hiring or retention of an employee, the issuance of a security clearance, the conducting of a security or suitability investigation of an individual, the classifying of jobs, the letting of a contract, or the issuance of a license, grant, or other benefit by the requesting agency, to the extent that the information is relevant and necessary to the requesting agency's decision on the matter."

New routine use 10 will read: "To provide information to a congressional office from the record of an individual in response to an inquiry from the congressional office made at the request of that individual. However, to the extent these records may reveal the identity of an individual who has provided information pertaining to the investigation, the investigative file, or the parts thereof, are exempt from release. Further, requests for OPM records contained in this system will be referred to OPM."

New routine use 11 will read: "To disclose information to contractors, experts, consultants, or students performing or working on a contract, service, or job for the PBGC."

New routine use 12 will read: "To disclose results of investigations or individuals records to agencies, such as the Department of Labor, providing adjudicative support services to PBGC."

And, new routine use 13 will read: "To provide criminal history record information to the FBI, to help ensure the accuracy and completeness of FBI and PBGC records."

(10) PBGC Is Proposing To Amend the System Manager and Add One Routine Use to PBGC-13, Debt Collection

PBGC is proposing to amend the system manager and add a routine use to PBGC-13: Debt Collection (last published at 81 FR 63311 (September 14, 2016)). PBGC is proposing the addition of a second system manager due to the proposed rescission of PBGC-24: Participant Debt Collection. The consolidation of the two systems streamlines PBGC processes and eliminates redundancy. Adding the system manager for PBGC-24 ensures that the public has access to the individuals responsible for the collection and maintenance of records in that system.

The section of the system of records notice entitled "System Manager(s) and Address" will be amended to include: Chief of Benefits Administration, Office of Benefits Administration, PBGC, 1200 K Street NW, Washington DC 20005.

PBGC is proposing the addition of one routine for disclosure to a consumer reporting agency. This routine use is necessary as it allows PBGC to collect claims for money or property. New routine use 5 will read, "A record from this system may be disclosed to a consumer reporting agency in accordance with 31 U.S.C. 3711(e)."

(11) PBGC Is Proposing To Add One Routine Use to PBGC-14, My Plan Administration Account Records

PBGC is proposing to add a routine use to PBGC-14: My Plan Administration Account Records (last published at 81 FR 63312 (September 14, 2016)). PBGC is proposing the addition to ensure that the Agency may fulfill its mission of locating and paying benefits to participants or their beneficiaries. New routine use 2 will read: "Names, addresses and phone numbers of plan sponsors, plan administrators, pension practitioners, actuaries and pension benefit professionals who submit plan information to My PAA may be disclosed to the public in order to ensure the public has access to contact information for those individuals submitting information regarding pension plans and those responsible for the administration of pension plans covered by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA)."

(12) PBGC Is Proposing To Add Seven Routine Uses to PBGC-17, Office of Inspector General Investigative File System

PBGC is proposing to add seven additional routine uses to PBGC-17: Office of Inspector General Investigative File System (last published at 81 FR 63315 (September 14, 2016)). During the review of the systems' routine uses, it was determined that additional routine uses were necessary in order to ensure that the Office of Inspector General (OIG) continues to operate with efficiency and transparency. In addition, these new routine uses will facilitate the sharing of information between agencies in order to fulfill the mission of the OIG.

New routine use 10 will read: "A record may be disclosed where there is an indication of a violation or a potential violation of law, rule, regulation or order whether civil, criminal, administrative or regulatory in nature, to the appropriate agency, whether federal, state, tribal or local, or to a securities self-regulatory organization, charged with enforcing or implementing the statute, or rule, regulation or order."

New routine use 11 will read: "A record may be disclosed to federal, state, tribal or local authorities in order to obtain information or records relevant to an Office of Inspector General investigation or inquiry."

New routine use 12 will read: "A record may be disclosed to a bar association, state accountancy board, or other federal, state, tribal, or local licensing or oversight authority; or professional association or self-regulatory authority to the extent that it performs similar functions (including the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board) for investigations or possible disciplinary action."

New routine use 13 will read: "A record may be disclosed to inform complainants, victims, and witnesses of the results of an investigation or inquiry."

New routine use 14 will read: "To the Department of Justice for the purpose of obtaining advice on investigatory matters or in order to refer information for the purpose of prosecution."

New routine use 15 will read: "To contractors, interns and experts who have been engaged to assist in an OIG investigation or in the performance of a service related to this system of records and require access to these records for the purpose of assisting the OIG in the efficient administration of its duties. All recipients of these records shall be required to comply with the requirements of the Privacy Act of 1974, as amended."

New routine use 16 will read: "To the public when the matter under investigation has become public knowledge, or when the Inspector General determines that such disclosure is necessary to preserve confidence in the integrity of the OIG investigative process, to demonstrate the accountability of PBGC employees, or other individuals covered by this system, or when there exists a legitimate public interest, unless the Inspector General has determined that disclosure of specific information would constitute an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy."

And, new routine use 17 will read: "A record from this system may be disclosed to a consumer reporting agency in accordance with 31 U.S.C. 3711(e)."

(13) PBGC Is Proposing To Amend the Category of Records and Add a Routine Use to PBGC-19, Office of General Counsel Case Management System

PBGC is proposing to amend the category of records contained in the system and add an additional routine use to PBGC-19: Office of General Counsel Case Management System (last published at 81 FR 63316 (September 14, 2016)). During the review of the system of records, it was determined that additional categories of records exist in this system. PBGC proposes the amendment of the categories of records to include the following records: Draft and final versions of notes, disclosures and determinations made in accordance with the Freedom of Information Act and the Privacy Act of 1974; records and information obtained from other federal, state, local and tribal agencies and departments, including, but not limited to: Office of Personnel Management, Social Security Administration, Department of Treasury and Department of Justice; ethics inquiries; personnel records; financial records; and, individual tax returns.

PBGC proposes the addition of a new routine use permitting the disclosure of information to a consumer reporting agency in order to collect a claim due to the agency. New routine use 11 will read, "A record from this system may be disclosed to a consumer reporting agency in accordance with 31 U.S.C. 3711(e)."

(14) PBGC Is Proposing To Make Clarifying Changes to Existing Systems of Records

PBGC is proposing to correct and update the following sections in existing system of records notices: Security

Classification; System Location; Categories of Individuals Covered by the System; Categories of Records in the System; Authority for Maintenance of the System; Purpose(s); Routine Uses of Records Maintained in the System, Including Categories of Users and the Purposes of Such Uses; Storage; Retrieval; Safeguards; Retention and Disposal; System Manager(s) and Address; Notification Procedure; Record Access Procedures; Contesting Record Procedures; Record Source Categories; and, Exemptions Claimed for the System.

PBGC is proposing these updates to PBGC-1, Congressional Correspondence (last published at 81 FR 63300 (September 14, 2016)); PBGC-2, Disbursements; PBGC-3, Employee Payroll, Leave, and Attendance Records; PBGC-6, Plan Participant and Beneficiary Data; PBGC-8, Employee Relations Files; PBGC-9, Unclaimed Pensions (amended to Unclaimed Retirement Funds); PBGC-10, Administrative Appeals File (last published at 81 FR 63307 (September 14, 2016)); PBGC-11, Call Detail Records (last published at 81 FR 63308 (September 14, 2016)); PBGC-12, Personnel Security Investigation Records; PBGC-13, Debt Collection (last published at 81 FR 63311 (September 14, 2016)); PBGC-14, My Plan Administration Account Records; PBGC-15, Emergency Notification Records (last published at 81 FR 63313 (September 14, 2016)); PBGC-16, Employee Online Directory (last published at 81 FR 63314 (September 14, 2016)); PBGC-17, Inspector General Investigative File System; PBGC-19, Office of General Counsel Case Management System; PBGC-21, Reasonable Accommodation Records (last published at 81 FR 63317 (September 14, 2016)); PBGC-22, Telework and Alternative Worksite Records (last published at 81 FR 63319 (September 14, 2016)); and, PBGC-23, Internal Investigations of Allegations of Harassing Conduct (last published at 81 FR 63320 (September 14, 2016)). These corrections and amendments will make the system of records notices more accurate and easier to understand individually, and collectively.

(15) PBGC Is Proposing To Republish All Existing System of Records Notices

PBGC annually reviews all system of records notices. There have been minor corrections, changes in system owners due to internal agency realignments, and administrative changes for consistency in the existing system of records notices. As such, PBGC proposes to republish all existing system of records notices in order to clarify and correct information since the last publication.

PBGC proposes to clarify references to law enforcement entities throughout the document to include tribal law enforcement agencies or departments.

Concerning security classification, all systems have been labeled as unclassified.
