SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Background

Since its establishment on December 24, 2002, OCP has served as a resource for sponsors at various stages of development of their products. Sponsors often seek OCP feedback on whether their human medical product will be regulated as a drug, a device, a biologic, or a combination product, and which FDA medical product Agency Center (CDER, CBER, or CDRH) will regulate it, if it is a non-combination product, or will have the primary jurisdiction for the premarket review and regulation of the product, if it is a combination product.

There are two ways that a sponsor can receive such a feedback from OCP. One option is to submit an RFD to receive a formal, binding determination for the sponsor’s product with respect to classification and/or center assignment that may be changed under conditions specified in section 563 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (21 U.S.C. 360bbb-2) and 21 CFR 3.9 in the regulations. The RFD process is codified in 21 CFR part 3, and OCP has issued a guidance about this process (see “How to Write a Request for Designation” at <https://www.fda.gov/RegulatoryInformation/Guidances/ucm126053.htm>). A second more flexible option is for a sponsor to submit an inquiry to OCP to receive a preliminary jurisdictional assessment, which is not binding.

Many sponsors seek to utilize a more flexible, approachable way to interact with OCP and the medical product Agency Centers, to obtain feedback from the Agency before submitting a marketing application to the Agency. Over time, these informal methods of obtaining feedback have become increasingly customary with sponsors, and for some, even preferable to the formal RFD process. Accordingly, FDA is enhancing the transparency and consistency of such interaction, which will now be called the “Pre-Request for Designation (Pre-RFD) Program.”

This guidance describes this structured process with clear recommendations for sponsors wishing to submit Pre-RFDs. It also provides the process for review of Pre-RFDs by FDA staff, the general timeframes for sponsors to receive feedback from OCP, and the process for scheduling teleconferences and meetings in relation to a Pre-RFD.

FDA carefully considered the comments received on the draft guidance, and, where appropriate, has revised the guidance to reflect such comments. FDA encourages stakeholders to contact OCP if they have additional questions.

This guidance is being issued consistent with FDA’s good guidance practices regulation (21 CFR 10.115). The guidance represents the Agency’s current thinking on how to prepare a Pre-RFD. It does not establish any rights for any person and is not binding on FDA or the public. You can use an alternative approach if it satisfies the requirements of the applicable statutes and regulations. This guidance is not subject to Executive Order 12866.

II. Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995

This guidance refers to previously approved collections of information found in FDA regulations. These collections of information are subject to review by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (44 U.S.C. 3501–3520). The collections of information in this guidance regarding how to prepare a Pre-RFD have been approved under OMB control number 0910-0845.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Background

For more than a decade, legislative changes and regulatory process improvements have been implemented to facilitate development of medical devices that serve the unique needs of pediatric populations. The FD&C Act defines pediatric patients, for medical device purposes, as age 21 years or younger at the time of diagnosis or treatment and specifies categories of pediatric subpopulations (see section 520(m)(6)(E) of the FD&C Act (21 U.S.C. 360j(m)(6)(E))). Nevertheless, children and those who care for them continue to have limited medical device options. FDA seeks to identify opportunities to support development and innovation of medical devices designed and labeled for children. Engaging in such opportunities will not only serve children and their families but optimize the medical device ecosystem for all. The Agency invites all stakeholders, including representatives from the medical device industry, academia, recipients of funding under section 305 of the Pediatric Medical Device Safety and Improvement Act of 2007, medical provider organizations, and organizations and individuals representing patients and consumers to collaborate with us in addressing this important public health issue (See Pub. L. 110-85; 42 U.S.C. 282 note).

FDA guidance documents entitled "Pre-market Assessment of Pediatric Medical Devices," "Providing Information about Pediatric Uses of Medical Devices," and "Leveraging Existing Clinical Data for Extrapolation to Pediatric Uses of Medical Devices," provide background information regarding pediatric medical device development (Refs. 1 to 3).

II. Topics for Discussion at the Public Meeting

As mandated by section 502(d) of the FDA Reauthorization Act of 2017 (FDARA), this FDA meeting on the development and labeling of pediatric medical devices is being convened with representatives from the medical device industry, academia, recipients of funding under section 305 of the Pediatric Medical Device Safety and Improvement Act of 2007, medical provider organizations, and organizations representing patients and consumers (see Pub. L. 110–85; 42 U.S.C. 282 note).

As directly outlined in FDARA, the meeting shall include consideration of ways to: (1) Improve research infrastructure and research networks to facilitate the conduct of clinical studies of devices for pediatric populations that would result in the approval or clearance, and labeling of medical devices for such populations; (2) appropriately use extrapolation under section 515A(b) of the FD&C Act (21 U.S.C. 360e–1(b)); (3) enhance the appropriate use of postmarket registries and data to increase pediatric medical device labeling; (4) increase FDA assistance to medical device manufacturers in developing devices for pediatric populations that are approved or cleared, and labeled, for their use; and (5) identify current barriers to pediatric device development and incentives to address such barriers.

A detailed agenda will be posted on the following website in advance of the workshop at <https://www.fda.gov/MedicalDevices/NewsEvents/WorkshopsConferences/default.htm>. Select this event from the list of items provided.
