

Governments; 59 FR 22951), Executive Order 13175 (Consultation and Coordination with Indian Tribal Governments), and the Department of the Interior's manual at 512 DM 2, we readily acknowledge our responsibility to communicate meaningfully with recognized Federal Tribes on a government-to-government basis. In accordance with Secretarial Order 3206 of June 5, 1997 (American Indian Tribal Rights, Federal-Tribal Trust Responsibilities, and the Endangered Species Act), we readily acknowledge our responsibilities to work directly with Tribes in developing programs for healthy ecosystems, to acknowledge that Tribal lands are not subject to the same controls as Federal public lands, to remain sensitive to Indian culture, and to make information available to Tribes. While we notified the Ute Mountain, Jicarilla Apache Nation, Southern Ute, Ute Mountain Ute, and Navajo Nation Tribes of our recommendation to delist the Colorado hookless cactus in our 5-year status review in 2021, we are not aware of any Tribal interests or concerns associated with this proposed rule. We will reach out to affected Tribes upon publication of this proposed rule and invite them to comment on the proposed rule and/or initiate government-to-government consultation.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background

On August 18, 2021, we received a petition from the Center for Biological Diversity to list the sunflower sea star (Pycnopodia helianthoides) as a threatened or endangered species under the ESA. On December 27, 2021, we published a positive 90-day finding (86 FR 73230, December 27, 2021) announcing that the petition presented substantial scientific or commercial information indicating that the petitioned action may be warranted. We also announced the initiation of a status review of the species, as required by section 4(b)(3)(A) of the ESA, and requested information to inform the agency's decision on whether this species warrants listing as threatened or endangered. We completed a comprehensive status review for the sunflower sea star. Based on the best scientific and commercial information available (including the draft status review report), and after taking into account efforts being made to protect the species, we determined that the sunflower sea star is likely to become an endangered species within the foreseeable future throughout its range. Therefore, on March 16, 2023, we proposed to list the sunflower sea star as a threatened species under the ESA. The proposed rule opened a public comment period through May 15, 2023.

Public Hearings

We will hold two in-person public hearings, with associated conference calls, to accept comments on the proposed rule to list the sunflower sea star as threatened under the ESA on the dates and at the times listed above (see ADDRESSES and DATES). Please see the Public Comments Solicited section of the March 16, 2023, proposed rule regarding the types of information and data we particularly seek (88 FR 16212).

During each public hearing, NMFS will provide a brief opening presentation on the proposed ESA-listing rule before accepting public testimony for the record. The hearings will be recorded for the purpose of preparing transcripts of oral comments received. Attendees will be asked to identify themselves before giving testimony in-person or before joining the hearing via teleconference. For the teleconference, once connected to the call, telephone lines will be automatically muted. During the public testimony portion of the hearing, the teleconference moderator will ask participants if they have comments. The teleconference moderator will inform participants with comments when it is their turn to comment. When it is your turn to offer your comment, the moderator will unmute your individual line. Commenters will be asked to state their full name and the identity of any organization on whose behalf they may be speaking. In the event that attendance at the public hearings is large, the time allotted for each commenter may be limited.

Anyone wishing to make an oral statement at the public hearing is encouraged to also submit a written copy of their statement to us during the comment period by either of the methods identified above (see ADDRESSES and DATES). There are no limits on the length of written comments submitted to us. Written statements and supporting data and information submitted during the comment period will be considered with the same weight as oral statements provided during the public hearings.

These public hearings are physically accessible to people with disabilities. People needing reasonable accommodations to participate in these hearings should submit a request as soon as possible, and no later than 10 business days before the accommodation is needed, by contacting Sadie Wright (see FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT).
