Description

In 1957, human remains representing, at minimum, one individual were removed from Netarts Bays sand spit (35Ti1A), in Tillamook County, OR. They were collected during legally authorized excavations by University of Oregon archeologists and accessioned under Accession Number 163. The human remains are isolates collected in fill from units 7-8x/6-8y (cat.# B1437), 7-8x/8-10y (no cat.#), and 7-9x/4-6y (cat.# B1438), likely associated with House 12. They were found in the Museum's collections during study of non-human faunal remains from the site. The human remains represent one adult, possibly male, 40-45 years old. No associated funerary objects are present.

According to published materials, most radiocarbon dates indicate that houses at 35Ti1A were in use for at least several hundred years, from ca. 1400-1800 CE.
