

section) and 534 feet long, 32 feet high (western section), and a smaller 16-foot-high, 530-foot-long dam located immediately downstream of the main western dam; (2) an impoundment with a surface area of 2,108 acres and a gross storage capacity of 50,000 acre-feet at an elevation of 184 feet Barge Canal Datum (BCD) (1-foot-high flashboards seasonally installed during the navigation season add 2,000 acre-feet of storage); (3) a regulating structure consisting of an 8-foot-wide sluiceway and a 30-foot-wide Tainter gate located at the main western dam; (4) a 73-foot-wide, 180-foot-long brick and concrete powerhouse containing two Francis turbine-generator units rated at 2.8 megawatts (MW) each and two vertical Kaplan turbine-generator units rated at 3.0 MW each; (5) navigation lock E-6 of the Erie Canal and Guard Gates 1 and 2 of the Waterford Flight; (6) a switchyard; (7) generator leads and transformer banks; and (8) appurtenant facilities.

The Crescent Project is operated in a run-of-river mode such that outflow from the project approximates inflow, and the impoundment is maintained within 6 inches of the dam crest (or top of the flashboards, when installed). A year-round, continuous minimum flow of 100 cubic feet per second (cfs) is provided at the project. During the navigation season (typically mid-May through mid-October), the 100-cfs minimum flow is provided as part of a fish passage flow (250 cfs) that is released through a notch (absence of flashboards) in the eastern dam; during the remainder of the year (non-navigation season), the minimum flow is typically provided as part of generation flows. An acoustic deterrent system is seasonally deployed upstream of the project, from May through October, to guide blueback herring that are migrating downstream towards non-turbine routes of passage (notches in the flashboards). Average annual generation at the Crescent Project is 58,250 MW-hours. NYPA is not proposing any new project facilities or changes to existing facilities and the operation of the project at this time.

Public Participation

There are three ways to become involved in the Commission's review of this project: you can file a protest to the project, you can file a motion to intervene in the proceeding, and you can file comments on the project. There is no fee or cost for filing protests, motions to intervene, or comments. The deadline for filing protests, motions to intervene, and comments is 5:00 p.m. Eastern Time on May 17, 2024. How to file protests, motions to intervene, and comments is explained below.

The Commission's Office of Public Participation (OPP) supports meaningful public engagement and participation in Commission proceedings. OPP can help members of the public, including landowners, environmental justice communities, Tribal members and others, access publicly available information and navigate Commission processes. For public inquiries and assistance with making filings such as interventions, comments, or requests for rehearing, the public is encouraged to contact OPP at (202) 502-6595 or OPP@ferc.gov.

Protests

Pursuant to section 157.205 of the Commission's regulations under the NGA,¹ any person² or the Commission's staff may file a protest to the request. If no protest is filed within the time allowed or if a protest is filed and then withdrawn within 30 days after the allowed time for filing a protest, the proposed activity shall be deemed to be authorized effective the day after the time allowed for protest. If a protest is filed and not withdrawn within 30 days after the time allowed for filing a protest, the instant request for authorization will be considered by the Commission.

Protests must comply with the requirements specified in section 157.205(e) of the Commission's regulations,³ and must be submitted by the protest deadline, which is May 17, 2024. A protest may also serve as a motion to intervene so long as the protestor states it also seeks to be an intervenor.

Interventions

Any person has the option to file a motion to intervene in this proceeding. Only intervenors have the right to request rehearing of Commission orders issued in this proceeding and to subsequently challenge the Commission's orders in the U.S. Circuit Courts of Appeal.

To intervene, you must submit a motion to intervene to the Commission in accordance with Rule 214 of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure⁴ and the regulations under the NGA⁵ by the intervention deadline for the project, which is May 17, 2024. As described further in Rule 214, your motion to intervene must state, to the extent known, your position regarding the proceeding, as well as your interest in the proceeding. For an individual, this could include your status as a landowner, ratepayer, resident of an impacted community, or recreationist. You do not need to have property directly impacted by the project in order to intervene. For more information about motions to intervene, refer to the FERC website at <https://www.ferc.gov/resources/guides/how-to/intervene.asp>.

All timely, unopposed motions to intervene are automatically granted by operation of Rule 214(c)(1). Motions to intervene that are filed after the intervention deadline are untimely and may be denied. Any late-filed motion to intervene must show good cause for being late and must explain why the time limitation should be waived and provide justification by reference to factors set forth in Rule 214(d) of the Commission's Rules and Regulations. A person obtaining party status will be placed on the service list maintained by the Secretary of the Commission and will receive copies (paper or electronic) of all documents filed by the applicant and by all other parties.

Comments

Any person wishing to comment on the project may do so. The Commission considers all comments received about the project in determining the appropriate action to be taken. To ensure that your comments are timely and properly recorded, please submit your comments on or before May 17, 2024. The filing of a comment alone will not serve to make the filer a party to the proceeding. To become a party, you must intervene in the proceeding.
