Title of Collection: Labeling Requirements for Alternative Fuels and Alternative Fueled Vehicles (Alternative Fuels Rule), 16 CFR part 309.

OMB Control No.: 3084-0094.

Type of Review: Extension without change of currently approved collection.

Affected Public: Private Sector: Businesses and other for-profit entities.

Estimated Annual Burden Hours: 2,900 hours.

Estimated Annual Labor Costs: $103,337.

Non-Labor Costs: $1,350.

Abstract

The Energy Policy Act of 1992 established federal programs to encourage the development of alternative fuels and alternative fueled vehicles (AFVs). Section 406(a) of the Act directed the Commission to establish uniform labeling requirements for alternative fuels and AFVs. 42 U.S.C. 13232(a). Such labels must provide “appropriate information with respect to costs and benefits [of alternative fuels and AFVs], so as to reasonably enable the consumer to make choices and comparisons.” The required labels must be “simple and, where appropriate, consolidated with other labels providing information to the consumer.”

Pursuant to the Act, the Commission published the Alternative Fuels Rule in 1995, and the Rule was later amended in 2013.<sup>1</sup> The Rule requires disclosure of specific information on labels posted on fuel dispensers for non-liquid alternative fuels. To ensure the accuracy of these disclosures, the Rule also requires that sellers maintain records substantiating product-specific disclosures they include on these labels. In addition, the Rule requires that distributors of non-liquid alternative vehicle fuel provide certifications of the fuel rating in each transfer to anyone who is not a consumer.

As required by section 3506(c)(2)(A) of the PRA, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq., the FTC is providing this opportunity for public comment before requesting that OMB extend the existing clearance for the information collection requirements contained in the Alternative Fuels Rule.

Burden Estimates

I. Annual Hours Burden: 2,900 hours.

FTC staff estimates that approximately 9,092 industry participants<sup>2</sup> are subject to the Rule’s information collection requirements. The burden estimates for covered entities are detailed below.<sup>3</sup>

Labeling: Staff estimates that approximately 1,776 covered retailers must revise covered labels annually.<sup>4</sup> Staff estimates that affected retailers require approximately one hour each per year for labeling their fuel dispensers for a total of 1,776 hours (1,776 respondents × 1 hour per year).

Recordkeeping: FTC staff estimates that approximately 9,092 industry participants are subject to the Rule’s recordkeeping requirements. Staff estimates that covered entities require approximately one-tenth of an hour each per year to comply with these requirements. This yields a burden of approximately 910 hours per year (9,092 respondents × 0.1 hours).

Certification: Staff estimates that the Rule’s fuel rating certification requirements will affect approximately 214 industry members (producers, importers, and refiners of CNG, LNG, and hydrogen, and distributors and manufacturers of electric vehicle fuel dispensing systems). Staff anticipates that covered industry participants will spend approximately one hour per year to comply with this requirement for a <sup>2</sup> These industry participants include producers, importers, refiners, distributors, and retailers of non-liquid vehicle fuel such as compressed natural gas (CNG), liquefied natural gas (LNG), and hydrogen; and manufacturers, distributors, and retail operators of electric vehicle fuel dispensing systems.

<sup>3</sup> It is common practice for alternative fuel industry members to determine and monitor fuel ratings in the normal course of their business activities. This is because industry members must know and determine the fuel ratings of their products in order to monitor quality and decide how to market them. “Burden” for PRA purposes is defined to exclude effort that would be expended regardless of any regulatory requirement. 5 CFR 1320.2(b)(2). Other factors also limit the burden associated with the Rule. Certification may be a one-time event or require only infrequent revision. Disclosures on electric vehicle fuel dispensing systems may be useable for several years. Nonetheless, there is still some burden associated with posting labels. There also will be some minimal burden associated with new or revised certification of fuel ratings and recordkeeping.

<sup>4</sup> Staff estimates that approximately 8,878 retailers are subject to the Rule’s labeling requirements. Staff estimates that approximately 20% of covered retailers (1,776) will need to replace their labels annually because many labels remain effective for several years.

total of 214 hours (214 respondents × 1 hour per year).

Accordingly, the estimated annual burden under the Rule is 2,900 hours (1,776 + 910 + 214).

Labor Costs: $103,337.

FTC staff derive labor costs by applying appropriate hourly wage figures to the burden hours described above. According to Bureau of Labor Statistics data,<sup>5</sup> the average compensation for fuel system operators is $42.36 per hour; and $16.60 per hour for automotive service attendants. These are factored into the FTC’s estimates and assumptions below.

Labeling: Staff assumes that labeling is performed by fuel system operators. Applying relevant labor cost figures to the estimated burden hours for labeling yields an estimated annual labor cost of $75,232 (1,776 hours × $42.36).

Recordkeeping: Staff estimates that approximately 1/6 of the total recordkeeping hours are performed by fuel system operators (1/6 of 910 hours = approximately 152 hours; 152 hours × $42.36 = $6,439) and that automotive service attendants account for the remaining 5/6 of recordkeeping hours (5/6 of 910 hours = approximately 759 hours; 759 hours × $16.60 = $12,600).

Accordingly, staff estimates that the total labor cost for recordkeeping for affected industry is approximately $19,039 ($6,439 + $12,600).

Certification: Staff assumes that certification is performed by fuel system operators. Estimated associated labor costs would be $9,066 (214 hours × $42.36).

Accordingly, the estimated annual labor cost under the Rule is $103,337 ($75,232 + $19,039 + $9,066).

II. Non-Labor Costs: $1,350.

Staff believes there are no current start-up costs associated with the Rule, which has been in effect since 1995. Industry members have in place the capital equipment and means necessary to determine automotive fuel ratings and comply with the Rule. Industry members, however, incur the cost of procuring fuel dispenser labels to comply with the Rule.

The estimated annual fuel labeling cost, based on estimates of approximately 8,000 fuel dispensers (assumptions: an estimated 20% of

<sup>5</sup> The wage estimates in this Notice are based on mean hourly wages found in Table 1. National employment and wage data from the Occupational Employment Statistics survey by occupation, May 2023, at <https://www.bls.gov/news.release/ocwage.t01.htm>. The wage rate for fuel system operators is based on data for “Petroleum pump system operators, refinery operators, and gaugers.” The wage rate for automotive attendants is based on data for “Automotive and watercraft service attendants.”

<sup>1</sup> 78 FR 23832 (April 23, 2013). The final amendments consolidated the Commission’s AFV labels with the then new fuel economy labels required by the Environmental Protection Agency thereby eliminating the FTC’s separate labeling requirements for used AFV labels.

8,878 total fuel retailers need to replace labels in any given year with an approximate five-year life for labels—i.e., 1,776 retailers—multiplied by an average of two dispensers per retailer) at thirty-eight cents for each label (per industry sources), is $1,350 ( $$0.38 \times 1,776 \times 2$ ).
