Proposed Project

Application for Training (OMB Control No. 0920–0017, Exp. 9/30/2025)—Revision—National Center for State, Tribal, Local, and Territorial Public Health Infrastructure and Workforce (NCSTLTPHIW), Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC).

Background and Brief Description

The mission of CDC’s Division of Workforce Development (DWD) is to provide leadership in public health training and education, and manage innovative, evidence-based programs to prepare the health workforce to meet public health challenges of the 21st Century. CDC offers training and professional development opportunities (both accredited and non-accredited) in the areas of public health, epidemiology, medicine, economics, information science, veterinary medicine, nursing, public policy, and other related fields.

To administer its broad portfolio of training activities, CDC collects information from the developers of educational content and the learners who participate in professional training opportunities. Information has been collected through two electronic platforms: the CDC TRAIN learning management system and the Training and Continuing Education Online (TCEO) learning management system. CDC’s previous request for OMB approval outlined a multi-year plan to decommission the TCEO platform and transition all learner information collection to the CDC TRAIN platform under a unified data collection and evaluation framework for all CDC course offerings.

This Revision requests removal of data collection instruments relating to the TCEO learning management system, which has been discontinued as of January 2024. During the next OMB approval period, CDC plans to collect all learner data online using the secure, password-protected CDC TRAIN platform. This Revision also consolidates accredited and nonaccredited training evaluation tools into one modular post-course evaluation (taken immediately after a course is completed), and one follow-up evaluation (taken one month after the course is completed). Respondents will include educational developers requesting accreditation for their trainings and public health and healthcare professionals who seek training. CDC will use identifiable information in CDC TRAIN to track participant completion of educational activities to facilitate required reporting to earn continuing education credits, hours, or units. The Revision request includes updated estimates for the number of respondents, burden per response, frequency of information collection, and total burden hours. The proposed changes will reduce burden, streamline data collection efforts and provide CDC with a more effective, efficient, and secure mechanism for collecting, processing, and monitoring training-related information.

CDC will use information collected in CDC TRAIN to evaluate and improve courses based on learner feedback. For accredited trainings, participation is required to review and approve proposals for educational activities to receive continuing education accreditation, to generate learner certificates of attendance and verify training completion, and to ensure compliance with mandatory accreditation standards. Participation in evaluation data collection for non-accredited trainings is voluntary. Aggregate data from the evaluations in CDC TRAIN will be used to improve educational activities and assess learning outcomes.

OMB approval is requested for three years. The total estimated annualized burden will decrease from 288,150 hours to 127,650 hours based on response rates and totals from the previous approval period. There are no costs to respondents other than their time.
