SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: On June 12, 2025, President Trump signed Executive Order 14308 (Empowering Commonsense Wildfire Prevention and Response), which recognized that firefighters across the country are forced to rely on outdated technology and directed the development of a comprehensive technology roadmap.

OSTP seeks input from professionals in the wildland firefighting community to inform the wildfire technology roadmap. For the purposes of this RFI, “wildfire” refers to all fires that burn in the natural environment, including those that transition to the built environment or begin in the built environment and transition to wildlands. The technology roadmap is intended to increase wildfire firefighting capabilities at the Federal, State, local, tribal, and territorial levels, including through enhanced integration or application of artificial intelligence, data sharing, innovative modeling and mapping capabilities, and technology to identify wildland fire ignitions, improve weather forecasts that inform response and evacuation, and improve prevention, suppression, and response capabilities.

OSTP is interested in opportunities to advance novel and emerging technology development and use, such as:

- fostering the commercialization of artificial intelligence and innovative modeling capabilities for use in wildfire detection, monitoring, prevention, suppression, response, and performance measurement;
- creating synthetic wildfire imagery datasets for training and testing computer vision models;
- enabling next-generation lightning mapping to advance fire weather forecasts from sources of wildfire
