Country Newly Selected as Eligible for a Compact

Using the criteria described above, Ecuador, a candidate country under section 606(a) of the Act (22 U.S.C. 7705(a)), was newly selected as eligible for assistance under section 607 of the Act (22 U.S.C. 7706). Ecuador is invited by MCC to develop a potential compact.

Ecuador: Ecuador has demonstrated a commitment to undertaking significant reforms to make progress toward fiscal stability. The country has suffered anemic growth and low foreign direct investment in recent years, presenting a key opportunity to leverage MCC's expertise to address key barriers for the private sector and economic growth. An MCC program can also demonstrate the U.S. Government's commitment to strengthening partnerships in the Western Hemisphere. With Ecuador's strong performance on the MCC scorecard and willingness to implement necessary reforms, an MCC program has the potential to make a lasting impact, drive shared prosperity, and generate clear benefits to both the United States and a key partner in the region.

Countries Newly Selected to Develop Potential Threshold Programs

The Board selected Bolivia and Guatemala to develop potential threshold programs.

Bolivia: The recently elected government of Bolivia faces a daunting task to address an immediate macroeconomic and foreign exchange crisis and longer-term structural economic challenges. As a country experiencing a significant transition, an MCC threshold program can provide an agile mechanism for supporting the Bolivian government's efforts to pursue reforms to lay the groundwork for private sector-led growth. Such a program also offers an opportunity to build the bilateral relationship and generate shared prosperity for Bolivia and the United States.

Guatemala: A former threshold program partner, Guatemala is an important anchor of the U.S. relationship with Central America and has demonstrated a clear commitment to shared prosperity while pursuing needed reforms to strengthen its business environment to attract private investment. An MCC threshold program could support these types of efforts, creating a safer, stronger, and more prosperous future for both Guatemala and the United States.

Ongoing Review of Partner Countries' Policy Performance

The Board emphasized the need for all partner countries to maintain or improve their policy performance. If it is determined during program implementation that a country has demonstrated a significant policy reversal, MCC can hold it accountable by applying MCC's Suspension and Termination Policy available at <https://www.mcc.gov/resources/doc/policy-on-suspension-and-termination/>.
