

19(b)(3)(A)(ii) of the Act<sup>19</sup> and Rule 19b-4(f)(2)<sup>20</sup> thereunder.

At any time within 60 days of the filing of the proposed rule change, the Commission summarily may temporarily suspend such rule change if it appears to the Commission that such action is necessary or appropriate in the public interest, for the protection of investors, or otherwise in furtherance of the purposes of the Act. If the Commission takes such action, the Commission shall institute proceedings to determine whether the proposed rule change should be approved or disapproved.

IV. Solicitation of Comments

Interested persons are invited to submit written data, views and arguments concerning the foregoing, including whether the proposed rule change is consistent with the Act. Comments may be submitted by any of the following methods:

Electronic Comments

- Use the Commission's internet comment form (<https://www.sec.gov/rules/sro.shtml>); or
- Send an email to rule-comments@sec.gov. Please include file number SR-MEMX-2025-35 on the subject line.

Paper Comments

- Send paper comments in triplicate to Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 100 F Street NE, Washington, DC 20549-1090.

All submissions should refer to file number SR-MEMX-2025-35. This file number should be included on the subject line if email is used. To help the Commission process and review your comments more efficiently, please use only one method. The Commission will post all comments on the Commission's internet website (<https://www.sec.gov/rules/sro.shtml>). Copies of the filing will be available for inspection and copying at the principal office of the Exchange. Do not include personal identifiable information in submissions; you should submit only information that you wish to make available publicly. We may redact in part or withhold entirely from publication submitted material that is obscene or subject to copyright protection. All submissions should refer to file number SR-MEMX-2025-35 and should be submitted on or before February 4, 2026.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[Release No. 34-104573]

Order Granting Temporary Exemptive Relief, Pursuant to Section 36(a)(1) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, From Certain Aspects of Rule 3a71-2(a)(1)

January 9, 2026.

I. Introduction

Title VII of the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act of 2010 ("Dodd-Frank Act") established a statutory framework to reduce risk, increase transparency, and promote market integrity within the financial system by, among other things, providing for the registration and regulation of security-based swap dealers ("SBSDs") and major security-based swap participants.<sup>1</sup> Section 3(a)(71)<sup>2</sup> of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 ("Exchange Act"),<sup>3</sup> which was added by Title VII of the Dodd-Frank Act, defines the term "security-based swap dealer" and provides in relevant part that the Commission shall exempt from designation as an SBSD an entity that engages in a de minimis quantity of security-based swap dealing in connection with transactions with or on behalf of its customers.<sup>4</sup>

In 2012, the Commission adopted 17 CFR 240.3a71-2 ("Rule 3a71-2") under the Exchange Act, which provides that to qualify for this de minimis exception all security-based swap positions connected with the person's and its affiliates' dealing activity over the immediately preceding twelve months must fall below one of three separate thresholds, as applicable.<sup>5</sup> Two of the thresholds are subject to temporarily higher, phase-in levels of aggregate gross notional amounts of de minimis security-based swap dealing activity.<sup>6</sup> As set forth in Rule 3a71-2(a)(1)(i), for credit default swaps ("CDSs") that constitute security-based swaps, the de minimis threshold is an aggregate gross notional amount of no more than $3 billion, subject to a phase-in level of an aggregate gross notional amount of no more than $8 billion.<sup>7</sup> As set forth in Rule 3a71-2(a)(1)(ii), for security-based swaps that do not constitute CDSs, the de minimis threshold is an aggregate gross notional amount of no more than $150 million, subject to a phase-in level of an aggregate gross notional amount of no more than $400 million.<sup>8</sup>

The phase-in period for these de minimis security-based swap dealing activity thresholds ends on the "phase-in termination date."<sup>9</sup> In 2022, the Commission announced that the phase-in termination date is November 8, 2026 (the "default phase-in termination date"), absent additional Commission action pursuant to Rule 3a71-2(a)(2)(ii)(A),<sup>10</sup> as discussed below. The Commission calculated the default phase-in termination date pursuant to a formula specified in Rule 3a71-2(a)(2)(ii)(B), which provided that the phase-in termination date will be five years after the "data collection initiation date," which the Commission established, pursuant to Rule 3a71-2(a)(2)(iii), as November 8, 2021.<sup>11</sup>

Under Rule 3a71-2(a)(2)(ii)(A), the Commission may terminate the phase-in period and establish a phase-in termination date, which would replace the default phase-in termination date, after the publication in the Federal Register of a Commission staff report addressing the rules and interpretations further defining the Exchange Act's definition of the term "security-based swap dealer," including the de minimis exception to that definition.<sup>12</sup>

<sup>6</sup> The higher phase-in levels of de minimis security-based swap dealing activity are not available to the extent that a person engages in security-based swap dealing activity with counterparties that are natural persons, other than natural persons who qualify as eligible contract participants by virtue of section 1a(18)(A)(xi)(II) of the Commodity Exchange Act, 7 U.S.C. 1a(18)(A)(xi)(II). <sup>11</sup> Rule 3a71-2(a)(2)(ii)(B).

<sup>12</sup> See 17 CFR 240.3a71-2A ("Rule 3a71-2A"). As appropriate, based on the availability of data and information, the report generally should assess topics including whether any of the de minimis thresholds should be increased or decreased. See Rule 3a71-2A(a)(1). Following the completion of the report, the report shall be published in the

Specifically, nine months after the publication of the report in the Federal Register, the Commission may by order either: (i) terminate the phase-in period for the de minimis thresholds; or (ii) provide notice of its determination that it is necessary or appropriate in the public interest to propose through rulemaking an alternative to the $3 billion and $150 million de minimis thresholds. The Commission's order in either case shall establish a phase-in termination date which would replace the default phase-in termination date.<sup>13</sup> If the Commission does not establish a phase-in termination date as discussed above, the phase-in period will terminate on November 8, 2026.

II. Discussion and Exemptive Relief

The Commission has not yet published a report prepared by Commission staff examining the effect and application of the definitions of "security-based swap dealer" and "major security-based swap participant" pursuant to Rule 3a71-2A.<sup>14</sup> As explained above, nine months after publication of the staff report, the Commission may by order either terminate the phase-in period for the de minimis thresholds or provide notice of its determination that it is necessary or appropriate in the public interest to propose through rulemaking an alternative to the $3 billion and $150 million de minimis thresholds. The phase-in period will otherwise terminate on the default phase-in termination date of November 8, 2026. The staff report is currently in progress and its publication has been delayed; therefore, it is possible that, pursuant to Rule 3a71-2(a)(2)(ii), the Commission may alter the de minimis thresholds based on the staff report and public comments thereon after November 8, 2026, or otherwise change the phase-in termination date.

The requirement to register as an SBSB due to meeting the de minimis thresholds is based on the immediately preceding twelve-month period.<sup>15</sup> As a result, market participants may have begun counting their transactions

Federal Register for public comment. See Rule 3a71-2A(c). The Commission also directed staff to address in this report the rules and interpretations further defining the Exchange Act's definition of the term "major security-based swap participant," to which the de minimis thresholds in Rule 3a71-2 do not apply. See Rule 3a71-2A.

<sup>14</sup> Rule 3a71-2A(b) provides that the staff report should be completed no later than three years following the data collection initiation date established pursuant to Rule 3a71-2(a)(2)(iii). Three years following the data collection initiation date was November 8, 2024.

towards the $3 billion and $150 million, rather than the $8 billion and $400 million, de minimis thresholds starting on November 8, 2025. Absent exemptive relief, market participants who are not yet registered with the Commission as SBSBs would either have to manage their activities to stay below those de minimis thresholds or begin expending efforts and resources to prepare for registration and compliance with the SBSB regime that may prove unnecessary should the Commission, pursuant to Rule 3a71-2(a)(2)(ii)(A), determine to set the de minimis thresholds at levels above $3 billion and $150 million, respectively, or otherwise change the phase-in termination date.

When adopting these provisions under Rule 3a71-2(a), the Commission stated its intent that the Commission should have sufficient time after the staff report is published to receive and review public comment on the report, and to draw conclusions regarding establishing the phase-in termination date or proposing potential changes to the rule implementing the de minimis exception, in a way that also promotes the orderly and predictable termination of the phase-in period.<sup>16</sup>

To facilitate the orderly and predictable termination of the phase-in period,<sup>17</sup> the Commission is providing until May 8, 2028, a temporary exemption, pursuant to section 36(a) of the Exchange Act, from Rules 3a71-2(a)(1)(i) and 3a71-2(a)(1)(ii). Under this exemption, a person that is not currently registered as a security-based swap dealer and that exceeds the de minimis thresholds in Rules 3a71-2(a)(1)(i) and 3a71-2(a)(1)(ii) of $3 billion and $150 million, respectively, shall be deemed not to be an SBSB, and therefore shall not be subject to section 15F of the Exchange Act, provided that the security-based swap positions connected with the dealing activity in which the person—or any other entity controlling, controlled by or under common control with the person—engages over the course of the immediately preceding twelve months have an aggregate gross notional amount of no more than (a) $8 billion with regard to CDSs that constitute security-based swaps and (b) $400 million with regard to non-CDSs that constitute security-based swaps. The effect of this exemption is to continue to apply the phase-in de minimis thresholds for CDSs and non-CDSs that constitute security-based swaps until May 8, 2028. Similarly, to ensure the thresholds are consistent for registration and de-registration, the Commission is providing a temporary exemption for a registered SBSB applying to withdraw its registration pursuant to Rule 3a71-2(c) to the extent that the security-based swap positions connected with the dealing activity in which the SBSB—or any other entity controlled, controlled by or under common control with the SBSB—engages over the course of the immediately preceding twelve months have an aggregate gross notional amount of (a) over $3 billion but no more than $8 billion with regard to CDSs that constitute security-based swaps and (b) over $150 million but no more than $400 million with regard to non-CDSs that constitute security-based swaps until May 8, 2028.<sup>18</sup>

Section 36 of the Exchange Act, subject to certain limitations, authorizes the Commission to conditionally or unconditionally exempt any person, security, or transaction, or any class or classes of persons, securities, or transactions, from any provision or provisions of the Exchange Act, or of any rule or regulation thereunder, to the extent that such exemption is necessary or appropriate in the public interest, and is consistent with the protection of investors.<sup>19</sup>

This temporary exemption is necessary or appropriate in the public interest and consistent with the protection of investors because it will help to facilitate an effective and orderly implementation of the applicable requirements of Rule 3a71-2(a) in a way that promotes the orderly and predictable termination of the phase-in period<sup>20</sup> while preventing entities from incurring potentially unnecessary burdens, depending upon any action the Commission may take to address the de minimis thresholds and the phase-in termination date pursuant to Rule 3a71-2(a)(2)(ii)(A). Effectively extending the phase-in period by 18 months by preventing the lower de minimis thresholds in Rule 3a71-2(a)(1) from going into effect before the Commission has the opportunity to consider the staff report and public comments thereon, is in the public interest because it would (1) prevent the potential for multiple changes to the de minimis thresholds in relatively quick succession, which <sup>18</sup> See Rule 3a71-2(c) (A currently registered SBSB may apply to withdraw that registration, while continuing to engage in security-based swap dealing activity in reliance on Rule 3a71-2, so long as that person has been registered as an SBSB for at least 12 months and satisfies the conditions of the paragraph (a) of the de minimis exception.).

could impose burdens that later prove unnecessary, and (2) allow time for the Commission to take the staff report and public comments thereon into consideration in assessing the appropriate de minimis thresholds.

The additional time provided by a temporary exemption strikes an appropriate balance between continuing the implementation of Title VII of the Dodd-Frank Act and ensuring an orderly termination of the phase-in period.

III. Conclusion

Accordingly, it is hereby ordered, pursuant to section 36(a) of the Exchange Act, that the Commission grants temporary exemptive relief, as set forth in this order, from Rules 3a71–2(a)(1)(i) and 3a71–2(a)(1)(ii), such that a person that is not currently registered as a security-based swap dealer and that exceeds the de minimis thresholds in Rules 3a71–2(a)(1)(i) and 3a71–2(a)(1)(ii) of $3 billion and $150 million, respectively, shall be deemed not to be an SBSB, and therefore shall not be subject to section 15F of the Exchange Act, provided that the security-based swap positions connected with the dealing activity in which the person—or any other entity controlling, controlled by or under common control with the person—engages over the course of the immediately preceding twelve months have an aggregate gross notional amount of no more than (a) $8 billion with regard to CDSs that constitute security-based swaps and (b) $400 million with regard to non-CDSs that constitute security-based swaps, absent additional Commission action, until May 8, 2028.

It is further ordered, pursuant to section 36(a) of the Exchange Act, that the Commission grants temporary exemptive relief, as set forth in this order, from Rules 3a71–2(a)(1)(i) and 3a71–2(a)(1)(ii) to the extent referenced as a condition in Rule 3a71–2(c), such that a person who currently is registered as a security-based swap dealer may apply to withdraw that registration so long as that person has been registered as a security-based swap dealer for at least twelve months and exceeds the de minimis thresholds in Rules 3a71–2(a)(1)(i) and 3a71–2(a)(1)(ii) of $3 billion and $150 million, respectively, provided that the security-based swap positions connected with the dealing activity in which the person—or any other entity controlling, controlled by or under common control with the person—engages over the course of the immediately preceding twelve months have an aggregate gross notional amount of no more than (a) $8 billion with regard to CDSs that constitute security-based swaps and (b) $400 million with regard to non-CDSs that constitute security-based swaps, absent additional Commission action, until May 8, 2028.

By the Commission.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[Release No. 34–104565; File No. SR–NYSE–2025–52]

Self-Regulatory Organizations; New York Stock Exchange LLC; Notice of Filing and Immediate Effectiveness of Proposed Rule Change To Amend Its Price List

January 9, 2026.

Pursuant to Section 19(b)(1)<sup>1</sup> of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (“Act”)<sup>2</sup> and Rule 19b–4 thereunder,<sup>3</sup> notice is hereby given that on December 29, 2025, New York Stock Exchange LLC (“NYSE” or the “Exchange”) filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the “Commission”) the proposed rule change as described in Items I, II, and III below, which Items have been prepared by the self-regulatory organization. The Commission is publishing this notice to solicit comments on the proposed rule change from interested persons.

I. Self-Regulatory Organization’s Statement of the Terms of Substance of the Proposed Rule Change

The Exchange proposes to amend its Price List to (1) extend a fee waiver for new firm application fees for applicants seeking only to obtain a bond trading license (“BTL”) for 2026; and (2) waive the BTL fee for 2026. The proposed rule change is available on the Exchange’s website at www.nyse.com, at the principal office of the Exchange, and at the Commission’s Public Reference Room.

II. Self-Regulatory Organization’s Statement of the Purpose of, and Statutory Basis for, the Proposed Rule Change

In its filing with the Commission, the self-regulatory organization included statements concerning the purpose of, and basis for, the proposed rule change and discussed any comments it received on the proposed rule change. The text of those statements may be examined at the places specified in Item IV below. The Exchange has prepared summaries, set forth in sections A, B, and C below, of the most significant parts of such statements.

A. Self-Regulatory Organization’s Statement of the Purpose of, and the Statutory Basis for, the Proposed Rule Change

1. Purpose

The Exchange proposes to amend its Price List to (1) extend a fee waiver for new firm application fees for applicants seeking only to obtain a BTL for 2026; and (2) waive the BTL fee for 2026.<sup>4</sup> The Exchange proposes to implement the fee change effective January 2, 2026.

The Exchange currently charges a New Firm Fee ranging from $2,000 to $4,000, depending on the type of firm, which is charged per application for any broker-dealer that applies to be approved as an Exchange member organization. The Exchange proposes to amend the Price List to waive the New Firm Fee for 2026 for new member organization applicants that are seeking only to obtain a BTL and not trade equities at the Exchange. The proposed waiver of the New Firm Fee would be available only to applicants seeking approval as a new member organization, including carrying firms, introducing firms, or non-public organizations, which would be seeking to obtain a BTL at the Exchange and not trade equities. Further, if a new firm that is approved as a member organization and has had the New Firm Fee waived converts a BTL to a full trading license within one year of approval, the New Firm Fee would be charged in full retroactively. The Exchange believes that charging the New Firm Fee retroactively within a year of approval is appropriate because it would discourage applicants to claim that they are applying for a BTL solely to avoid New Firm Fees.

<sup>4</sup> The Exchange initially filed to adopt the fee waiver and waive the BTL fee in 2015. See Securities Exchange Act Release No. 74031 (January 12, 2015), 80 FR 2462 (January 16, 2015) (SR–NYSE–2014–78). The Exchange has filed to extend the fee waiver and waive the BTL fee for each calendar year since 2017. See Securities Exchange Act Release Nos. 79710 (December 29, 2016), 82 FR 1395 (January 5, 2017) (SR–NYSE–2016–89); 82418 (December 28, 2017), 83 FR 568 (January 4, 2018) (SR–NYSE–2017–70); 84899 (December 20, 2018), 83 FR 67395 (December 28, 2018) (SR–NYSE–2018–65); 87952 (January 13, 2020), 85 FR 3089 (January 17, 2020) (SR–NYSE–2019–73); 90891 (January 11, 2021), 86 FR 4147 (January 15, 2021) (SR–NYSE–2021–03); 93992 (January 18, 2022), 87 FR 3635 (January 24, 2022) (SR–NYSE–2022–01); 96622 (January 10, 2023), 88 FR 2697 (January 17, 2023) (SR–NYSE–2023–01); 99323 (January 11, 2024), 89 FR 3464 (January 18, 2024) (SR–NYSE–2024–02); and 102056 (December 30, 2024), 90 FR 699 (January 6, 2025) (SR–NYSE–2024–83).
