SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Background

The Department of the Army system of records Controlled Accountable Document Inventory System, A0001 DAMI (February 22, 1993; 58 FR 10002) was established to conduct periodic inventory of classified documents and to determine or validate custodial accountability of those documents. The Army is rescinding A0001 DAMI because the records are now maintained as part of the A0 0001 DAMI, U.S. Army Security and Foreign Disclosure Files, published elsewhere in today's issue of the Federal Register.

DoD SORNs have been published in the Federal Register and are available from the address in FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT or at the Privacy, Civil Liberties, and Transparency Directorate website at <https://dpcl.d.defense.gov>.

II. Privacy Act

Under the Privacy Act, a “system of records” is a group of records under the control of an agency from which information is retrieved by the name of an individual or by some identifying number, symbol, or other identifying particular assigned to the individual. [Docket ID: USA–2026–HQ–0067]

Privacy Act of 1974; System of Records

AGENCY: Department of the Army, Department of Defense (DoD).

ACTION: Notice of a Modified System of Records.

SUMMARY: In accordance with the Privacy Act of 1974, the Department of the Army is modifying and reissuing a current system of records notice (SORN) titled “Personnel Security Clearance Information Files,” A0380–67 DAMI. The SORN is being retitled “U.S. Army Security and Foreign Disclosure Files,” with a new identifier of A0 0001 DAMI. Originally established to facilitate the processing of personnel security clearance actions, the SORN also documented clearances granted or denied and confirmed eligibility for access to classified information or assignment to sensitive positions. A separate notice rescinding Army SORN A0001 DAMI, “Controlled Accountable Document Inventory System,” is being published elsewhere in this issue of the Federal Register. This update incorporates the DoD standard routine uses and supports additional information sharing outside of the DoD. It also expands the authorities for maintaining the system, integrates records previously managed under the Controlled Accountable Document Inventory System, addresses records maintained across all general intelligence security disciplines, and expands on the purposes of such uses. Additionally, the update revises system locations and managers. These changes align the SORN with modernized automation systems and ensure compliance with applicable regulatory requirements.

DATES: This system of records is effective upon publication; however, comments on the Routine Uses will be accepted on or before February 23, 2026. The Routine Uses are effective at the close of the comment period, unless comments have been received from interested members of the public that require modification and republication of the notice.

ADDRESSES: You may submit comments, identified by docket number and title, by any of the following methods:

* Federal Rulemaking Portal: <https://www.regulations.gov>. Follow the instructions for submitting comments.

* Mail: Department of Defense, Office of the Director of Administration and
