SUMMARY: We, the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service (Service), are announcing the availability of documents supporting Colorado Parks and Wildlife's (CPW) application for an enhancement of survival permit (permit) for the greenback cutthroat trout (Oncorhynchus clarkii stomias, GBCT) under the Endangered Species Act of 1973, as amended. CPW's permit application includes a programmatic conservation benefit agreement (CBA) for the GBCT, which would enable CPW and nonfederal landowners to implement conservation measures for the species. The documents available for review and comment are the applicant's CBA and our draft environmental action statement and low-effect screening form, which support a categorical exclusion under the National Environmental Policy Act. We invite comments from the public and Federal, Tribal, State, and local governments.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: We, the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service (Service), have received an application from Colorado Parks and Wildlife (CPW). The applicant has applied for a 20-year enhancement of survival permit (permit) under the Endangered Species Act of 1973, as amended (ESA; 16 U.S.C. 1531 et seq.). The application addresses the potential take of the greenback cutthroat trout (Oncorhynchus clarkii stomias) associated with the implementation of a conservation benefit agreement (CBA) on nonfederal lands throughout the South Platte River Basin and Bear Creek in the Arkansas River Basin, in Colorado.

Applicant's Conservation Benefit Agreement

CPW has submitted this CBA to implement reintroductions of the GBCT on enrolled nonfederal lands throughout the South Platte River Basin in Colorado, and Bear Creek in the Arkansas River Basin. This includes the counties of Larimer, Boulder, Gilpin, Clear Creek, Park, Jefferson, Douglas, El Paso, and Teller. Through the CBA, CPW and participating landowners will work to restore GBCT populations; improve management, protection, enhancement, and restoration of instream habitat; prevent non-native fish invasion; improve water quality; reduce erosion; reduce sedimentation; improve riparian habitat; and/or improve land use practices on enrolled lands during the term of the CBA. The requested permit duration is 20 years, and the CBA provides regulatory assurances to enrolled landowners: as long as enrolled landowners are properly implementing the CBA, the Service will not impose additional requirements or restrictions beyond those voluntarily agreed to and described in the CBA.

On May 19, 2026, the Department of Justice lodged a proposed Agreement and Order on Modification to Consent Decree (“Modification”) with the United States District Court for the Western District of Arkansas in the lawsuit entitled United States and State of Arkansas v. City of Fort Smith, Arkansas, Civil Action No. 2:14-cv-002266-PKH.

The lawsuit was initiated on January 2, 2015, by the United States and the State of Arkansas, alleging illegal discharges of untreated sewage from Fort Smith’s sanitary sewer system (“SSOs”) in violation of Section 301(a) of the CWA, 33 U.S.C. 1311, and the City’s failure to properly operate and maintain its sewer system in accordance with the City’s National Pollutant Discharge Elimination System permits. The complaint was resolved by a Consent Decree entered as a judgment on April 6, 2015, that requires the City to properly operate and maintain its sewer system and to complete the assessment and remediation of condition defects and capacity constraints in the sewer system over a period of twelve (12) years (by January 2, 2027) in accordance with interim deadlines for the work. The Modification extends the Consent Decree term by 11.5 years for a total of 23.5 years (June 31, 2038) to complete rehabilitation of the sewer system and revises interim milestones and deadlines to allow the City greater flexibility in prioritizing rehabilitation projects. The Modification also requires the City to ensure adequate funding for the work through specific measures.
