Extension of Lebanon Designation for Temporary Protected Status

AGENCY: U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS), Department of Homeland Security (DHS).

ACTION: Notice of extension of Temporary Protected Status (TPS) designation.

SUMMARY: The designation of Lebanon for Temporary Protected Status (TPS), which was set to expire on May 27, 2026, is automatically extended to November 27, 2026. Under the TPS statute, if the Secretary does not determine whether a foreign state continues to meet the conditions for designation for TPS at least 60 days before the expiration of the country's current TPS designation, the period of designation is automatically extended for six months. Rapidly unfolding events in Lebanon in March 2026 impacted the Department's ability to conduct a thorough review of prevailing country conditions for the Secretary's timely consideration and determination.

DATES: The six-month extension of Lebanon for TPS is effective May 28, 2026, and will remain in effect through November 27, 2026.

Registration Information

Automatic Six-Month Extension of TPS Designation of Lebanon: Registration is not required for the automatic six-month extension of the designation of Lebanon for TPS. The automatic extension begins on May 28, 2026, and will end on November 27, 2026. The extension allows existing TPS beneficiaries to retain TPS through November 27, 2026, if they otherwise continue to meet the eligibility requirements for TPS.¹ This extension automatically extends the validity of Employment Authorization Documents (EADs) previously issued under the TPS designation of Lebanon for six months, from May 28, 2026, through November 27, 2026. Existing TPS beneficiaries who wish to apply for an EAD for the first time, or who already have an EAD and would like to obtain an updated EAD with an expiration date of November 27, 2026 on the face of the card, may submit Form I-765, Application for Employment Authorization, and the appropriate fee(s).² TPS remains available to otherwise qualified nationals of Lebanon (or in the case of an alien with no nationality, an alien who last habitually resided in Lebanon) who have been continuously residing in the United States since October 16, 2024, have been continuously physically present in the United States since

November 27, 2024, and meet other eligibility criteria.³

Purpose of This Action

The automatic extension allows TPS beneficiaries from Lebanon to maintain TPS through November 27, 2026, so long as they continue to meet the eligibility requirements for TPS. Current TPS beneficiaries are reminded that, no later than sixty days prior to November 27, 2026, the Secretary intends to review the conditions in Lebanon and decide whether extension or termination is warranted in accordance with the TPS statute. During this period, beneficiaries are encouraged to prepare for their return to Lebanon, including requesting updated travel documents from the government of Lebanon, in the event Lebanon's TPS designation is not extended again and if they have no other lawful basis for remaining in the United States.

Through this Federal Register notice, DHS automatically extends the validity of EADs previously issued under the TPS designation of Lebanon for six months, from May 28, 2026, through November 27, 2026. As proof of continued employment authorization through November 27, 2026, TPS beneficiaries can show their EAD with a Category of A12 or C19 and a "Card Expires" date of May 27, 2026. This notice explains how TPS beneficiaries and their employers may determine if an EAD is automatically extended and how this affects the Form I-9, Employment Eligibility Verification; E-Verify; and USCIS Systematic Alien Verification for Entitlements (SAVE) processes.

Aliens who have an Application for Temporary Protected Status (Form I-821) for Lebanon or a Lebanon TPS-related Application for Employment Authorization (Form I-765) that was still pending as of May 28, 2026, do not need to file either application again. If USCIS approves an alien's pending Form I-821, USCIS will grant the alien TPS through November 27, 2026. Similarly, if USCIS approves a pending Lebanon TPS-related Form I-765, USCIS will issue the alien a new EAD that will be valid through the same date, November 27, 2026.

What is Temporary Protected Status (TPS)?

• TPS is a temporary immigration status granted to eligible nationals of a foreign state designated for TPS under the Immigration and Nationality Act (INA), or to eligible aliens without nationality who last habitually resided in the designated foreign state, regardless of their country of birth.

• During the TPS designation period, TPS beneficiaries are eligible to remain in the United States, generally may not be removed, are authorized to work, and may obtain EADs if they continue to meet the requirements of TPS.

• TPS beneficiaries may also apply for and be granted travel authorization as a matter of DHS discretion.

• To qualify for TPS, beneficiaries must meet the eligibility standards at INA section 244(c)(1)–(2), 8 U.S.C. 1254a(c)(1)–(2).

• When the Secretary terminates a foreign state's TPS designation, beneficiaries return to one of the following:

○ The same immigration status or category that they maintained before TPS, if any (unless that status or category has since expired or terminated); or ○ Any other lawfully obtained immigration status or category they received while registered for TPS, as long as it is still valid beyond the date TPS terminates.

When was Lebanon designated for TPS?

Lebanon was designated for Temporary Protected Status on November 27, 2024, based on a determination that Lebanon was experiencing ongoing armed conflict and extraordinary and temporary conditions that prevented the safe return of Lebanese nationals and that it was not contrary to the national interest of the United States to permit such Lebanese nationals to remain in the United States temporarily.⁴

Why is the TPS designation for Lebanon being automatically extended through November 27, 2026?

The designation of Lebanon for TPS is set to expire on May 27, 2026. At least 60 days before the expiration of a country's TPS designation or extension, the Secretary, after consultation with appropriate Government agencies, must review the conditions in a foreign state designated for TPS to determine whether the conditions for the TPS designation continue to be met.⁵ If the Secretary does not make a determination that a foreign state no longer meets the conditions for designation of TPS at least 60 days before the expiration of the country's current designation, the period of designation is automatically extended for six additional months (or, in the Secretary's discretion, 12 or 18 months).⁶ The dynamic and quickly unfolding events in Lebanon in March 2026 impacted the Department's ability to provide a thorough review of prevailing country conditions in time for the Secretary's timely consideration. As such, neither former Secretary Noem nor Secretary Mullin, who was sworn in on March 24, 2026, made a determination on Lebanon's TPS designation by the March 28, 2026 statutory deadline.

Following U.S.-Israeli strikes in Iran, Hezbollah, reportedly under the guidance of the Islamic Revolutionary Guard, launched rockets and drones towards Israel on March 2, 2026, signaling its entry into the broader regional escalation linked to the conflict with Iran.⁷ Subsequent cross-border attacks have continued.⁸ On March 3, 2026, the U.S. Embassy in Beirut stated it would close indefinitely because of ongoing regional tensions.⁹ On March 16, 2026, Israel's Defense Minister announced that the Israeli Defense Forces had initiated a ground operation.¹⁰ On March 24, 2026, Israel's Defense Minister announced that Israeli forces would assume control over a significant portion of southern Lebanon as part of their ongoing campaign against Hezbollah.¹¹

Concurrently with these dynamic and rapidly evolving events, a transition in DHS leadership occurred, with Secretary Noem departing and Secretary Mullin being sworn in as the new Secretary of Homeland Security on March 24, 2026. This leadership change further limited the time available for former Secretary Noem or Secretary Mullin to thoroughly review the country conditions and make an informed decision by March 28, 2026, the statutory deadline. Therefore, because the Secretary did not make a determination, the TPS designation of Lebanon is automatically extended for six months, ending on November 27, 2026, by operation of the TPS statute.¹² See INA 244(b)(3)(C), 8 U.S.C. 1254a(b)(3)(C).

The statute affords the Secretary discretion to further extend the designation for 12 months or 18 months. Id. The Secretary elected to extend the designation for a period of six months in alignment with Executive Order 14159, Protecting the American People Against Invasion, which states that “designations of Temporary Protected Status are consistent with the provisions of section 244 of the INA (8 U.S.C. 1254a), and that such designations are appropriately limited in scope and made for only so long as may be necessary to fulfill the textual requirements of that statute.” 90 FR 8443, 8446. During this period, DHS will review, in consultation with appropriate agencies, updated country conditions in Lebanon and evaluate whether permitting Lebanese nationals “to remain temporarily in the United States is contrary to the national interest of the United States.” In doing so, the Secretary will be able to make a determination by the next statutory deadline of September 28, 2026. Notice of the Extension of Designation of Lebanon for TPS

Pursuant to INA sec. 244(b)(3)(A) and (C), 8 U.S.C. 1254a(b)(3)(A) and (C), the TPS designation for Lebanon is automatically extended for six months, from May 28, 2026, through November 27, 2026.

Markwayne Mullin,

Secretary, U.S. Department of Homeland Security.

Eligibility for Temporary Protected Status

DHS designated Lebanon for TPS based on ongoing armed conflict and extraordinary and temporary conditions, from November 27, 2024, to May 27, 2026.¹³ Beneficiaries of TPS for Lebanon under this designation will ¹² There have been previous instances in which a TPS designation has been automatically extended. See, e.g., Extension of South Sudan Designation for Temporary Protected Status, 90 FR 19217 (May 6, 2025). continue to retain TPS from May 28, 2026, to November 27, 2026, through a six-month automatic extension. TPS remains available to otherwise qualified nationals of Lebanon (or in the case of an alien with no nationality, an alien who last habitually resided therein) who have been continuously residing in the United States since October 16, 2024. Assuming they continue to meet the eligibility requirements for TPS, current beneficiaries do not need to take additional action in order for their TPS to be extended.

Aliens who have a Lebanon TPS application (Form I-821) that was still pending as of May 28, 2026, do not need to file the Form I-821 application again. If USCIS approves an alien’s Form I-821, USCIS will grant the alien TPS through November 27, 2026.

Eligibility for Employment Authorization

Everyone must provide their employer with documentation showing that they have the legal right to work in the United States. TPS beneficiaries are eligible to obtain an EAD, which proves their legal right to work while the EAD is valid.

If you already have an EAD with an expiration date of May 27, 2026, this Federal Register notice automatically extends your EAD through November 27, 2026, without any further action on your part. You may present this Federal Register notice or any other additional documentation other than your EAD to use this automatic extension but are not required to. This extension automatically extends the validity of certain EADs previously issued under the TPS designation of Lebanon for six months, from May 28, 2026, through November 27, 2026.

Beneficiaries with a Lebanon TPS-related Form I-765 that is still pending as of May 28, 2026, do not need to file the application again. If USCIS approves a pending Lebanon TPS-related Form I-765, USCIS will issue the alien a new EAD that will be valid through November 27, 2026.

Existing TPS beneficiaries who wish to apply for an EAD for the first time, or who already have an EAD and would like to obtain an updated EAD with an expiration date of November 27, 2026 on the face of the card, may submit Form I-765, Application for Employment Authorization, and pay the Form I-765 fee (or request a fee waiver, which you may submit on Form I-912).¹⁴

¹⁴ Please visit the USCIS Form I-765, Application for Employment Authorization, web page at <https://www.uscis.gov/i-765/> for information about filing

You are not required to submit Form I-765 or have an EAD to be granted or to maintain TPS.

Can my TPS-related EAD be automatically extended?

Yes. If you already have an EAD with an expiration date of May 27, 2026, this Federal Register notice automatically extends your EAD through November 27, 2026, without any further action on your part. You do not need to present this Federal Register notice or any other additional documentation other than your EAD to use this automatic extension.

Filing Information

Filing a new application for an EAD based on the six-month automatic extension of TPS for Lebanon is unnecessary. As mentioned throughout, this Federal Register notice automatically extends your EAD through November 27, 2026, without any further action on your part. Indeed, USCIS acknowledges that given the six-month automatic extension of TPS designation for Lebanon, there may not be sufficient time for the agency to receive, review, adjudicate and issue new EADs on the basis of the automatic extension of TPS for Lebanon. However, USCIS offers the option to applicants for TPS under Lebanon’s designation to file requests for EADs online, by mail, or, under certain circumstances, by uploading a completed Form I-765 with a fee or fee waiver request in Portable Document Format (PDF) through your USCIS online account.¹⁵ More information about filing your Form I-765 and fee waiver request through a PDF upload is available at <https://www.uscis.gov/file-online/forms-available-to-file-online>. If you request a fee waiver, you must submit your application by mail or PDF upload.

instructions. Fees for the Form I-765 are described in 8 CFR 106.2 and the fee waiver-related regulations are described in 8 CFR 106.3. In addition, USCIS Form G-1055, Fee Schedule, provides the current fees required for the Form I-765, which includes fees required under Public Law 119-21. You are not required to submit Form I-765 or have an EAD to be granted or to maintain TPS. Aliens should be aware that these requests may not be processed before November 27, 2026.

If you were granted TPS by an immigration judge (IJ) or the Board of Immigration Appeals (BIA) and you wish to request an EAD, you may file Form I-765 online, mail your Form I-765 to the appropriate address in Table 1, or submit a PDF upload. If you file online, you will be prompted to include the fee.¹⁹ If you file by mail, you must include the fee or fee waiver request. If you file by PDF upload, you must include the fee or a fee waiver request. When you request an EAD based on an IJ or BIA grant of TPS, include with your application a copy of the order from the IJ or BIA granting you TPS. This will help us verify your grant of TPS and process your application.

Travel

TPS beneficiaries and TPS applicants with pending Form I-821 applications who wish to travel outside of the United States should consult the USCIS website for guidance.

General Employment-Related Information for TPS Applicants and Their Employers

How can I obtain information on the status of my TPS application and EAD request?

To get case status information about your TPS application, as well as the status of your TPS-based EAD request, you can check Case Status Online at <https://uscis.gov> or visit the USCIS Contact Center at <https://www.uscis.gov/contactcenter>. If you still need assistance, you may ask a question about your case online at <https://egov.uscis.gov/e-request/Intro.do> or call the USCIS Contact Center at 800–375–5283 (TTY 800–767–1833).

Am I eligible to receive an automatic extension of my current EAD through November 27, 2026, through this Federal Register notice?

Yes. Regardless of your country of birth, if you currently have a Lebanon

TPS-based EAD with a Category of A12 or C19 and a “Card Expires” date of May 27, 2026, this Federal Register notice automatically extends your EAD through November 27, 2026.

If hired, what documentation may I show to my employer as evidence of identity and employment authorization when completing Form I-9?

You can find the Lists of Acceptable Documents on Form I-9, Employment Eligibility Verification, as well as the Acceptable Documents web page at <https://www.uscis.gov/i-9-central/acceptable-documents>. Employers must complete Form I-9 to verify the identity and employment authorization of all new employees. Within three business days of hire, employees must present acceptable documents to their employers as evidence of identity and employment authorization to satisfy Form I-9 requirements.

You may present one selection from List A (which provides evidence of both identity and employment authorization) or one selection from List B (which provides evidence of your identity) together with one selection from List C (which provides evidence of employment authorization), or you may present an acceptable receipt as described in these lists. Employers may not reject a document based on a future expiration date. You can find additional information about Form I-9 on the I-9 Central web page at <https://www.uscis.gov/I-9Central>. An EAD is an acceptable document under List A. See the section “How do my employer and I complete Form I-9 using my automatically extended EAD for a new job?” of this Federal Register notice for more information.

If your EAD states A12 or C19 under Category and has a “Card Expires” date of May 27, 2026, this Federal Register notice extends it automatically, and you may choose to present your EAD to your employer as proof of identity and employment eligibility for Form I-9 through November 27, 2026. Your country of birth noted on the EAD does not have to reflect the TPS-designated country of Lebanon for you to be eligible for this extension. You may, but are not required to, show this Federal Register notice to your employer to explain what to do for Form I-9 and to show that USCIS has automatically extended your EAD through November 27, 2026.

What documentation may I present to my employer for Form I-9 if I am already employed but my current TPS-related EAD is set to expire?

Your employer is required by law to ask you about your continued employment authorization. Your employer may need to reexamine your automatically extended EAD to check the “Card Expires” date and Category code if your employer did not keep a copy of your EAD when you initially presented it. Once your employer has reviewed the “Card Expires” date and Category code, they should update the EAD expiration date in Section 2 of Form I-9. See the section “What updates should my current employer make to Form I-9 if my EAD has been automatically extended?” of this Federal Register notice for more information.

You may show this Federal Register notice to your employer to explain what to do for Form I-9 and to show that USCIS has automatically extended your EAD through November 27, 2026; however, you are not required to do so. The last day of this automatic EAD extension is November 27, 2026. Before you start work on November 28, 2026, your employer is required by law to reverify your employment authorization on Form I-9.

By the end date of your automatic EAD extension, you must present any document from List A or any document from List C on Form I-9 Lists of Acceptable Documents, or an acceptable

List A or List C receipt described in these lists to reverify employment authorization.

Your employer may not specify which List A or List C document you must present and cannot reject an acceptable receipt.

If I have an EAD based on another immigration status, can I obtain a new TPS-based EAD?

Yes, if you are eligible for TPS, you can obtain a new TPS-based EAD, even if you already have an EAD or work authorization based on another immigration status. If you want to obtain a new TPS-based EAD with an expiration date on the face of the card of November 27, 2026, you must file Form I-765 and pay the associated fee (unless USCIS grants your fee waiver request).

Can my employer require that I provide any other documentation to complete Form I-9, such as evidence of my status, proof of my Lebanese citizenship, or a Form I-797 showing that I registered for TPS?

No. When completing Form I-9, employers must accept any documentation you choose to present from the Form I-9 Lists of Acceptable Documents, or an acceptable List A, List B, or List C receipt, that reasonably appears to be genuine and that relates to you. Employers may not request other documentation, such as proof of Lebanese citizenship or proof of registration for TPS, when completing Form I-9 for new hires or reverifying the employment authorization of current employees. If you present an EAD that USCIS has automatically extended, employers should accept it as a valid List A document if the EAD reasonably appears to be genuine and to relate to you. Refer to the “Note to Employees” section of this Federal Register notice for important information about your rights if your employer rejects lawful documentation, requires additional documentation, or otherwise discriminates against you based on your citizenship or immigration status or your national origin.

How do my employer and I complete Form I-9 using my automatically extended EAD for a new job?

When using an automatically extended EAD to complete Form I-9 for a new job before November 28, 2026:

1. For Section 1, you should:
 - a. Check “An alien authorized to work until” and enter November 27, 2026, as the “expiration date”; and

- b. Enter your USCIS number or A-Number where indicated. (Your EAD or other document from DHS will have your USCIS number or A-Number printed on it; the USCIS number is the same as your A-Number without the A prefix.)

2. For Section 2, employers should:
 - a. Determine whether the EAD is auto-extended by ensuring it is in category A12 or C19 and has a “Card Expires” date of May 27, 2026;

- b. Write in the document title;
 - c. Enter the issuing authority;
 - d. Provide the document number; and
 - e. Write November 27, 2026, as the expiration date.

Before the start of work on November 28, 2026, employers must reverify the employee’s employment authorization on Form I-9.

What updates should my current employer make to Form I-9 if my EAD has been automatically extended?

If you presented a TPS-related EAD that was valid when you first started your job and USCIS has now automatically extended your EAD, your employer may need to re-examine your current EAD if they do not have a copy of the EAD on file. Your employer should determine whether your EAD is automatically extended by ensuring that it contains Category A12 or C19.

Your employer should examine your EAD to see if it has a “Card Expires” date of May 27, 2026. Your employer may not rely on the country of birth listed on the card to determine whether you are eligible for this extension.

If your employer determines that USCIS has automatically extended your EAD, they should update Section 2 of your previously completed Form I-9 as follows:

1. Write EAD EXT and November 27, 2026, as the last day of the automatic extension in the Additional Information field; and
2. Initial and date the correction.

Note: This is not considered a reverification. Employers do not reverify the employee until either the automatic extension has ended, or the employee presents a new document to show continued employment authorization, whichever is sooner. By November 28, 2026, when the employee’s automatically extended EAD has expired, employers are required by law to reverify the employee’s employment authorization on Form I-9.

If I am an employer enrolled in E-Verify, how do I verify a new employee whose EAD has been automatically extended?

Employers may create a case in E-Verify for a new employee by entering the EAD document number and expiration date from Section 2 of Form I-9 into the corresponding fields in E-Verify.

If I am an employer enrolled in E-Verify, what do I do when I receive a “Work Authorization Documents Expiring” alert for an automatically extended EAD?

If you have an employee who provided a TPS-related EAD when they first started working for you, you will receive a “Work Authorization Documents Expiring” case alert when the auto-extension period for this EAD is about to expire. You must reverify your employee’s employment authorization on Form I-9 by the date their automatic EAD extension ends. Employers may not use E-Verify for reverification.

Note to All Employers

Employers are reminded that the laws requiring proper employment eligibility verification and prohibiting unfair immigration-related employment practices remain in full force. This Federal Register notice does not supersede or in any way limit applicable employment verification rules and policy guidance, including those rules setting forth reverification requirements. For general questions about the employment eligibility verification process, employers may call USCIS at 888-464-4218 (TTY 877-875-6028) or email USCIS at I-9Central@uscis.dhs.gov. For questions about avoiding discrimination during the employment eligibility verification process (Form I-9 and E-Verify), employers may call the U.S. Department of Justice, Civil Rights Division, Immigrant and Employee Rights Section (IER) Employer Hotline at 800-255-8155 (TTY 800-237-2515). Employers may also email IER at IER@usdoj.gov or get more information online at <https://www.justice.gov/ier>.

Note to Employees

For general questions about the employment eligibility verification process, employees may call USCIS at 888-897-7781 (TTY 877-875-6028) or email USCIS at I-9Central@uscis.dhs.gov. Employees or job applicants may also call the U.S. Department of Justice, Civil Rights Division, Immigrant and Employee Rights Section (IER) Worker Hotline at 800-255-7688 (TTY 800-237-2515) for information regarding employment discrimination based on citizenship, immigration status, or national origin, including discrimination related to Form I-9 and E-Verify.

To comply with the law, employers must accept any document or combination of documents from the Lists of Acceptable Documents if the documentation reasonably appears to be genuine and to relate to the employee, or an acceptable List A, List B, or List C receipt as described in these lists. Employers may not require extra or additional documentation other than what is required to complete Form I-9. Further, employers participating in E-Verify who receive an E-Verify case result of “Tentative Non-confirmation” (mismatch) must promptly inform employees of the mismatch and give these employees an opportunity to resolve the mismatch. A mismatch means that the information entered into E-Verify from Form I-9 differs from records available to DHS.

Employers may not terminate, suspend, delay training, withhold or lower pay, or take any adverse action against an employee because of a mismatch while the case is still pending with E-Verify. A Final Non-confirmation (FNC) case result occurs if E-Verify cannot confirm an employee’s employment eligibility. An employer may terminate employment based on a case result of FNC. Work-authorized employees who receive an FNC may call USCIS for assistance at 888-897-7781 (TTY 877-875-6028). For more information about E-Verify-related discrimination or to report an employer for discrimination in the E-Verify process based on citizenship, immigration status, or national origin, contact IER’s Worker Hotline at 800-255-7688 (TTY 800-237-2515). Additional information about proper nondiscriminatory Form I-9 and E-Verify procedures is available on the IER website at <https://www.justice.gov/ier> and the USCIS and E-Verify websites at <https://www.uscis.gov/i-9-central> and <https://www.e-verify.gov>.

Note Regarding Federal, State, and Local Government Agencies (Such as Departments of Motor Vehicles)

For Federal purposes, if you present an EAD that has been automatically extended by this Federal Register notice, you do not need to show any other document, such as this Federal Register notice, to prove that you qualify for this extension. While Federal Government agencies must follow the guidelines laid out by the Federal Government, State and local government agencies establish their own rules and guidelines when granting certain benefits. Each state may have different laws, requirements, and determinations about what documents you need to provide to prove eligibility for certain benefits. Whether you are applying for a Federal, State, or local government benefit, you may need to provide the government agency with documents that show you are a TPS beneficiary or applicant or show you are authorized to work based on TPS or other status, or that may be used by DHS to determine if you have TPS or another immigration status. Examples of such documents are:

- Your current EAD with a TPS category code of A12 or C19, even if your country of birth noted on the EAD does not reflect the TPS-designated country of Lebanon;
- Your Form I-94, Arrival/Departure Record;
- Your Form I-797, Notice of Action, reflecting approval of your Form I-765; or
- Form I-797 or Form I-797C, Notice of Action, reflecting approval or receipt of a past or current Form I-821, if you received one from USCIS.

Check with the government agency requesting documentation about which document(s) the agency will accept.

Some State and local government agencies use SAVE, <https://www.uscis.gov/save>, to confirm the current immigration status of applicants for public benefits. While SAVE can verify that an alien has TPS or a pending TPS application, each agency’s procedures govern whether they will accept an unexpired EAD, Form I-797, Form I-797C, or Form I-94. If an agency accepts the type of TPS-related document you present, such as an EAD, the agency should accept your automatically extended EAD, regardless of the country of birth listed on the EAD. It may assist the agency if you:

- a. Give the agency a copy of the relevant Federal Register notice showing the extension of TPS-related documentation in addition to your recent TPS-related document with your A-Number, USCIS number, or Form I-94 number;
- b. Explain that SAVE will be able to verify the continuation of your TPS using this information; and
- c. Ask the agency to initiate a SAVE query with your information and follow through with additional verification steps, if necessary, to get a final SAVE response verifying your TPS.

You can also ask the agency to look for SAVE notices or contact SAVE if they have any questions about your immigration status or automatic extension of TPS-related documentation. In most cases, SAVE provides an automated electronic response to benefit-granting agencies within seconds, but occasionally verification can be delayed.

You can check the status of your SAVE verification by using Case-Check at <https://www.uscis.gov/save/save-casecheck>. Case-Check is a free service that lets you follow the progress of your SAVE verification case using your date of birth and one immigration identifier number (such as your A-Number, USCIS number, or Form I-94 number) or Verification Case Number. If an agency has denied your application based solely or in part on a SAVE response, the agency must allow you to appeal the decision in accordance with the agency’s procedures. If the agency has received and acted on or will act on a SAVE verification and you do not believe the SAVE response is correct, the SAVE website, <https://www.uscis.gov/save/for-benefit-applicants>, has detailed information on how to correct or update your immigration record, make an appointment, or submit a written request to correct records.
