SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Background

Section 203 of the National Housing Act (12 U.S.C. 1709(a)) authorizes the Secretary to insure single family mortgages upon such terms as the Secretary may prescribe. Since the Single Family Mortgage Insurance Program's inception, the Federal Housing Administration (FHA) has required, as a condition of eligibility, that all residential properties securing insured mortgages satisfy certain Minimum Property Requirements (MPRs). These MPRs are designed to ensure that FHA-insured mortgages are collateralized by properties that are safe, sound, and secure, thereby protecting borrowers and the fiscal integrity of the Mutual Mortgage Insurance Fund (MMIF). FHA's MPRs are detailed throughout FHA's Single Family Policy Handbook 4000.1.

Separately, section 526 of the National Housing Act (12 U.S.C. 1735f-4) requires the Secretary to establish minimum property standards for newly constructed residential housing other than manufactured housing. Unlike the administratively developed MPRs, FHA's Minimum Property Standards (MPS) are expressly mandated by statute and apply to new construction. They are intended to ensure that newly constructed homes securing FHA-insured mortgages are safe, sound, and secure, and that they comply with applicable minimum energy efficiency requirements. FHA's MPS are codified at 24 CFR part 200, subpart S. The Single Family Policy Handbook 4000.1 provides additional guidance regarding these requirements. FHA's MPS are not the subject of this RFI.

The FHA-approved Mortgagee is responsible for determining whether the property securing the FHA-insured mortgage satisfies FHA's MPRs. When an appraisal report or inspection by a qualified entity identifies conditions that prevent the property from meeting FHA's property acceptability criteria, the Mortgagee must ensure that the necessary repairs are completed before the mortgage is eligible for FHA insurance. Through this process,
