SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Discussion

The NRC is discontinuing DG–1422, "Preparing Probabilistic Fracture Mechanics Submittals." DG–1422 describes a framework to develop the contents of a licensing submittal that the staff of the NRC considers acceptable when performing PFM analyses in support of regulatory applications. This DG was intended to revise Regulatory Guide (RG) 1.245, "Preparing Probabilistic Fracture Mechanics Submittals." The NRC provided an opportunity for public comment on Revision 0 (ADAMS Accession No. ML23291A298) and Revision 1 (ADAMS Accession No. ML24312A308) to DG–1422 in the Federal Register on February 29, 2024 (89 FR 14782), and August 8, 2025 (90 FR 38512), respectively. After reviewing the public comments, the staff found that the proposed guidance does not provide the clarity sought for preparing regulatory applications using PFM as a technical basis. In addition, the staff has determined that the expected benefit to nuclear stakeholders is not sufficient to justify further action to revise RG–1.245.

Although DG–1422 will not be issued as final guidance, the comments received during the public comment period may be considered by the NRC staff in the future for the development of any related guidance. Should the NRC develop such guidance, it will inform the public through a new notice of availability of the documents for public comment.

This notice documents final staff action on docket NRC–2024–0036. No further action is expected for this docket.

II. Submitting Suggestions for Improvement of Regulatory Guides

A member of the public may, at any time, submit suggestions to the NRC for improvement of existing RGs or for the development of new RGs. Suggestions can be submitted on the NRC's public website at <https://www.nrc.gov/reading-rm/doc-collections/reg-guides/contactus.html>. Suggestions will be considered in future updates and enhancements to the "Regulatory Guide" series.

Authority: 42 U.S.C. 2011 et seq.

Dated: June 2, 2026.

For the Nuclear Regulatory Commission.

Acting Chief, Regulatory Guide and Programs Management Branch, Division of Engineering, Office of Nuclear Regulatory Research.

(If you are deaf or hard of hearing, or have a speech disability, please dial 7-1-1 to access telecommunications relay services.)

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: This information collection activity will gather qualitative and quantitative customer and stakeholder feedback in an efficient, timely manner, in accordance with PBGC's commitment to improving service delivery. By qualitative feedback we mean information that provides useful insights on the public's perceptions and opinions. By quantitative feedback we mean numeric scores evaluating PBGC services and customer satisfaction using the American Customer Satisfaction Index (ACSI) methodology. This feedback provides insights into customer or stakeholder perceptions, experiences and expectations, provides early warnings of issues with service, and focuses attention on areas where changes in PBGC's communication with the public, in training of staff, or in operations might improve the delivery of products or services. These collections will allow for ongoing, collaborative and actionable communications between PBGC and its customers and stakeholders. These collections also allow feedback to contribute directly to the improvement of program management.

The solicitation of feedback targets areas, such as: timeliness, appropriateness, accuracy of information, courtesy, efficiency of service delivery, and resolution of issues with service delivery. Responses will be assessed to plan and inform efforts to improve or maintain the quality of service offered to the public. If this information were not collected, vital feedback from customers and stakeholders on PBGC's services would be unavailable.

PBGC only submits a collection for approval under this generic clearance if it meets the following conditions:

- The collections are voluntary;
- The collections are low-burden for respondents (based on considerations of total burden hours, total number of respondents, or burden-hours per respondent) and are low-cost for both the respondents and the Federal Government;
- The collections are non-controversial and do not raise issues of concern to other Federal agencies;
- Any collection is targeted to the solicitation of opinions from respondents who have experience with the program or may have experience with the program in the near future;
- Personally identifiable information (PII) is collected only to the extent necessary and is not retained;
- Except for information that will be included in PBGC's annual report, information gathered will be used only internally for general service improvement and program management purposes and is not intended for release outside of the agency;
- Information gathered will not be used for the purpose of substantially informing influential policy decisions; and
- Information from qualitative surveys gathered will yield qualitative results; the collections will not be designed or expected to yield statistically reliable results or be used as though the results are generalizable to the population of interest;
- Information from quantitative surveys will be based on statistical methods and will yield quantitative results, such as satisfaction scores that can be generalized to the population.

As a general matter, these information collections will not result in any new system of records containing privacy information and will not ask questions of a sensitive nature, such as sexual behavior and attitudes, religious beliefs, and other matters that are commonly considered private.

Annually, over the next three years, PBGC estimates that it will conduct three activities involving about 2,325 respondents, each of whom will provide one response. The number of respondents will vary by activity: 25 for usability testing, 50 for focus groups (5 groups of 10 respondents), and 2,250 for customer satisfaction surveys.

PBGC estimates the annual burden of this collection of information as 713 hours: 2 hours per response for usability testing (total 50 hours); 2 hours per response for focus groups (total 100 hours); and 15 minutes per response for customer satisfaction surveys (total 563 hours). No cost burden to the public is anticipated. PBGC is proposing to add additional language in its survey to make it clear that respondents should not add PII.

An agency may not conduct or sponsor, and a person is not required to respond to, a collection of information unless it displays a currently valid OMB control number.

PBGC is soliciting public comments to—

- Evaluate whether the collection of information is necessary for the proper performance of the functions of the agency, including whether the information will have practical utility;
- Evaluate the accuracy of the agency's estimate of the burden of the collection of information, including the validity of the methodology and assumptions used;
- Enhance the quality, utility, and clarity of the information to be collected; and
- Minimize the burden of the collection of information on those who are to respond, including the use of appropriate automated, electronic, mechanical, or other technological collection techniques or other forms of information technology, e.g., permitting electronic submission of responses.

Joseph Krettek,

Assistant General Counsel, Legislative and Regulatory Division, Pension Benefit Guaranty Corporation.
