Abstract of Proposed Collection

Forms in this collection are completed by panel physicians to record the medical information of aliens seeking entry to the United States, including visa applicants; refugees; follow-to-join refugees and asylees; and certain parolees. The forms request medical information necessary to determine whether an alien has a medical or other condition affecting his or her eligibility for a visa or immigration benefit. The information requested includes the result of any tests required for the diagnosis of diseases identified as communicable diseases of public health significance, as well as other evaluations identified as necessary to confirm a medical ineligibility under INA § 212(a)(1), 8 U.S.C. 1182(a)(1) or to comply with other requirements, such as those relating to a public charge ineligibility under INA § 212(a)(4). Collecting this information is essential to protecting U.S. public health interests and ensuring immigrants are not likely to become public charge after admission.

Methodology

A panel physician designated by the consular post performs a medical examination of the applicant and completes the forms according to instructions issued by the Centers for Disease Control (CDC). Panel physicians submit the DS–7794 electronically. When a medical case cannot be electronically completed with the DS–7794, respondents must submit the DS–2054, DS–3025, DS–3026, and DS–3030 as a packet to the appropriate embassy or consulate through secure email, courier service, or by providing the completed forms to the applicant in a sealed envelope. The information collected is retained by the Bureau of Consular Affairs. It is also provided to the CDC, the Department of Homeland Security, and any other U.S. government agencies with statutory or lawful authority to use such information, including for law enforcement and immigration enforcement purposes.

Morvared Namdarkhan,

Assistant Secretary, Bureau of Consular Affairs, Department of State.
