Abstract: Collecting plants in national parks is generally prohibited unless allowed by law, treaty rights, or exceptions under 36 CFR 2.1(c). Under 36 CFR part 2, members of federally recognized Tribes may gather plants for traditional, non-commercial purposes when their Tribe has an approved agreement with the National Park Service (NPS). These regulations support Tribal sovereignty and consistent NPS practices.

Under 36 CFR 2.6(f), the NPS and a Tribe may develop an agreement outlining how plant gathering will occur. A permit issued under 36 CFR 1.6 then authorizes specific activities. Only enrolled Tribal members with a long-standing historical connection to the park may gather plants, and the Tribe's connection must predate the park's establishment. Gathering must be sustainable and for traditional uses only.

This information collection includes:

- A Tribe's request to enter into a plant-gathering agreement.
- Information required to develop the agreement under 36 CFR 2.6(f).
- Documentation submitted if a Tribe appeals a denied request, such as evidence of historical connection, traditional practices, or potential resource impacts.
