transactions by an indirect participant under Rule 17ad–22(e)(6)(i).[124]

Accordingly, the Proposed Rule Change is consistent with the requirements of Rule 17ad–22(e)(6)(i).[125]

IV. Conclusion

On the basis of the foregoing, the Commission finds that the Proposed Rule Change is consistent with the requirements of the Act, and in particular, Section 17A(b)(3)(F) of the Act [126] and Rules 17Ad–22(e)(1); (e)(2)(i) and (v); (e)(3); (e)(4)(iii); and (e)(6)(i) thereunder.[127]

It is therefore ordered pursuant to Section 19(b)(2) of the Act that the proposed rule change (SR–ICC–2026–002) be, and hereby is, approved.[128]

For the Commission by the Division of Trading and Markets, pursuant to delegated authority.[129]

The self-regulatory organization has prepared summaries, set forth in Sections A, B, and C below, of the most significant aspects of such statements.

A. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Purpose of, and the Statutory Basis for, the Proposed Rule Change

1. Purpose

The Exchange proposes to amend the Market Data Fees section of the Fee Schedule to increase the fee for real-time access to the Exchange's top of book proprietary market data feed, TOPS, which the Exchange currently offers for $500 per month. TOPS is an uncompressed data feed,[7] available on a Real-Time and Delayed basis,[8] that provides aggregated top of book quotations for all displayed orders resting on the Order Book [9] and execution information (i.e., last sale information) for executions on the Exchange.[10] The Exchange proposes to increase the monthly fee for Real-Time access to TOPS to $1,000 per month.

As is the case currently, the amount of the monthly fee charged for Real-Time access to the TOPS data feed would cover all uses of the data feed and would be the same for each Data Subscriber,[11] regardless of whether the Data Subscriber is using the data feed internally or distributing it externally. The Exchange is not proposing to adopt additional fees, such as external distribution fees, non-display fees, or user fees for the TOPS data feed.

In general, the Exchange believes that exchanges, in setting fees of all types, should meet very high standards of transparency to demonstrate why each new fee or fee increase meets the Exchange Act requirements. The Exchange believes this high standard is especially important when an exchange imposes fees for its own depth of book market data because each exchange is the exclusive source of its own depth of book market data.

The Exchange believes the proposed fee is reasonable when compared with the fees charged by other exchanges for comparable market data products, notwithstanding that the other exchanges may have different fee structures. More specifically, as described in the Statutory Basis section, the proposed fee is lower than the aggregate fees charged by other exchanges with market share similar to or lower than IEX, for comparable market data products.

The Exchange notes that Real-Time access to TOPS is optional. The Exchange is not required to make Real-Time access to TOPS available to Members or market data customers, nor is any customer or Member of the Exchange required, either by any Exchange rule or the federal securities laws, to purchase Real-Time access to the TOPS data feed. Moreover, the Exchange offers Delayed access to TOPS free of charge.[12] As of May 15, 2026, approximately 22% of Members subscribe to TOPS and would be subject to the proposed fee increase.

The Exchange plans to implement the proposed fee change on October 1, 2026, subject to effectiveness of this proposed rule change, in order to provide an opportunity for Data Subscribers to update their subscriptions to suit their particular market data needs. On July 2, 2026, the Exchange announced the planned implementation of the proposed fee increase for Real-Time access to TOPS on October 1, 2026, subject to the filing and effectiveness of an SEC rule filing.[13]

2. Statutory Basis

IEX believes that the proposed rule change is consistent with the provisions of Section 6(b) of the Act [14] in general and furthers the objectives of Section 6(b)(4) of the Act,[15] in particular, in that it is designed to provide for the equitable allocation of reasonable dues, fees, and other charges among its Members and other persons using its facilities. In addition, the Exchange believes that the proposed fee is consistent with the purposes of Section 6(b)(5) [16] of the Act in that it is designed to promote just and equitable principles of trade, to foster cooperation and coordination with persons engaged in regulating, clearing, settling, processing information with respect to, and facilitating transactions in securities, to remove impediments to a free and open market and national market system, and, in general, to protect investors and the public interest, and particularly, is not designed to permit unfair discrimination between customers, issuers, brokers, or dealers.

As described in the Purpose section, the proposed fee for Real-Time access to TOPS would continue to be an all-inclusive access fee, as the current fee for TOPS does, covering all use cases. IEX does not charge additional fees for external distribution or non-display use of TOPS and is not proposing to do so. In contrast, other exchanges charge additional fees for external distribution, non-display, and per user in addition to an internal distribution/access fee. In addition, IEX bundles quote data and last sale data together in the TOPS feed and makes all of the combined data available for a single fee. In contrast, certain other exchanges offer last sale data in a separate data feed for an additional fee.[17]

Based on publicly available information as of May 1, 2026, the Exchange compared the proposed fee to the fees charged by other equities

''Delayed IEX Market Data'' is IEX Market Data that is accessed, used or distributed at least fifteen (15) minutes after it was made available by the Exchange. See IEX Fee Schedule—Market Data Fees, available at https://www.iex.io/resources/trading/fee-schedule#market-data-fees. IEX only provides Real-Time IEX Market Data and will not itself delay the dissemination of IEX Market Data to Data Subscribers.

The term ''System'' means the electronic communications and trading facility designated by the Board through which securities orders of Members are consolidated for ranking, execution, and, when applicable, routing. See IEX Rule 1.160(nn).

[10] See IEX Rule 11.330(a)(1). The Exchange also offers two additional Real-Time market data products, DEEP and DEEP+. DEEP is an uncompressed data feed that provides aggregated depth of book quotations for all displayed orders resting on the Order Book at each price level, and execution information (i.e., last sale information) for executions on the Exchange. See IEX Rule 11.330(a)(2). DEEP+ is an uncompressed data feed that provides order-by-order depth of book quotations for all displayed orders resting on the Order Book at each price level, and execution information (i.e., last sale information) for executions on the Exchange. See IEX Rule 11.330(a)(3).

A Data Subscriber must enter into a Data Subscriber Agreement with IEX in order to receive Real-Time IEX market data. exchanges with market share similar to or lower than IEX for comparable data products. IEX's year-to-date market share as of May 1, 2026 was approximately 3.78%. As described more fully below, IEX believes the proposed fee is reasonable because, for the use case of internal distribution alone, it is equal to the fee charged by MIAX Pearl Equities (''MIAX Pearl'') for a comparable market data product, which has a lower market share than IEX.[18] Furthermore, when taking into account the fact that the proposed fee is an all-inclusive fee that covers not only internal distribution, but also external distribution and non-display uses, the proposed fee is lower than the aggregate fees charged by other exchanges with similar or lower market share for the same uses of similar data products. A more detailed discussion of these comparisons follows.

* NYSE American charges the Per User Access Fee to (i) a subscriber that receives a data feed and uses the market data product only for Professional Users and Non-Professional Users in a display-only format, including for internal use and external redistribution in a display-only format, and (ii) a Redistributor that subscribes to the NYSE American BBO and NYSE American Trades data feeds, and does not subscribe to any other Products listed on the NYSE American fee schedule other than the NYSE American OpenBook data feed and/or the NYSE American Aggregated Lite data feed, and uses these market data products for external distribution only.

Internal Distribution

Current reporting data[19] for the TOPS Real-Time market data feed reflects that 100% of current TOPS subscribers use the data for internal distribution purposes. The proposed fee would be equal to the fees currently charged by MIAX Pearl for internal distribution of its Top of Market data feed, a comparable market data product to TOPS. MIAX Pearl charges $1,000 per month for internal distribution of its Top of Market data feed.[20] MIAX Pearl's market share was approximately 0.92% as of May 1, 2026, or less than one quarter of the Exchange's market share for the same time period. MIAX Pearl, however, also charges user fees for internal distribution whereas IEX does not charge any user fees. Accordingly, in a situation where a MIAX Pearl subscriber had a non-zero number of Professional users in an internal distribution subscription, IEX's proposed fee would be slightly lower than the total cost of a MIAX Pearl internal distribution subscription for its top of book market data product.[21]

MEMX, 24X and NYSE American each charge a fee of $750 for internal distribution of or general access to their respective top of book data feeds.[22] While their fees are lower than the proposed fee, their data feeds are not comparable to IEX's TOPS in that they do not include last sale data. MEMX and 24X each charge $500/month for their MEMOIR Last Sale and 24X Last Sale data feeds, respectively.[23] NYSE American offers last sale data in a separate product—the NYSE American Trades data feed—which has a general access fee of $750/month.[24] Accordingly, the proposed fee of $1,000 is less than the total fees for internal distribution of the comparable data feeds offered by MEMX, 24X, and NYSE American. In addition, as of May 1, 2026, those exchanges' respective market share were significantly lower than IEX's market share: MEMX's market share was approximately 40% lower than IEX's, 24X's market share was approximately 97% lower, and NYSE American's market share was approximately 92% lower.

External Distribution

Based on current reporting data, approximately 14% of current TOPS subscribers report distributing the data feed externally in Real-Time to unaffiliated third-parties. As noted above, other exchanges charge a separate fee, in addition to an internal distribution fee, for external distribution of their comparable top of book market data feeds.

The proposed fee of $1,000 would cover any external distribution and would be lower than the fees charged by Cboe BZX, MIAX Pearl, MEMX, and 24X for external distribution of their comparable top of book data feeds. Cboe BZX charges $3,250 ($750 internal distribution/access fee plus $2,500 external distribution fee) for external distribution of the BZX Top data feed.[25] MIAX Pearl charges $3,000 ($1,000 internal distribution/access fee plus $2,000 external distribution fee) for external distribution of its Top of Market data feed. MEMX and 24X each charge $2,750 ($750 internal distribution/access fee plus $2,000 external distribution fee) for external distribution of their MEMOIR Top data feeds.[26] In contrast, IEX does not charge any additional fee for redistribution of TOPS and is not proposing to do so. addition, as of May 1, 2026, all of the above-referenced exchanges had market share lower than IEX's, as reflected in the table above.

Non-Display

The proposed fee of $1,000 per month includes all Non-Display [27] uses, and the Exchange is not proposing a separate fee for Non-Display use. As summarized in the table above, the proposed fee would be within the range of fees charged by exchanges with lower market share than IEX for non-display use of their comparable market data feeds. A more detailed discussion of the comparison follows.

In comparison, non-display use of the NYSE American comparable data feed would be subject to an access fee ($750), non-display fees ranging from $500 to $1,500, depending on the specific non-display uses, plus per user fees for display use. The aggregate of such fees for such use of the NYSE American comparable data feed would thus range from a minimum of $1,250 (plus user fees) to $2,250 per month—in each case more than IEX's proposed monthly fee of $1,000.

Similarly, internal non-display use of the MIAX Pearl comparable data feed would be subject to an internal distribution fee of $1,000, a non-display fee of $1,000 (for non-trading purposes), and a non-display fee of $1,000 (for trading purposes).[28] In addition, redistribution of the MIAX Pearl comparable data feed to nonaffiliates for display use by such recipients would incur an additional external distribution fee of $2,000.[29] In the aggregate, non-display use of any type of the MIAX Pearl comparable data feed would be more costly compared to the same non-display use of IEX TOPS under the proposed fee.

The Proposed Fee Is Equitably Allocated and Not Unfairly Discriminatory

The Exchange believes that its proposed fee for Real-Time access to the TOPS data feed is reasonable, fair, equitable, and not unfairly discriminatory. The Exchange believes the proposed fee is fair and equitable because subscribing to the TOPS data feed is optional and the fee would apply uniformly to all Data Subscribers, irrespective of their relationship with the Exchange (i.e., Member, non-Member, etc.) or what type of business they operate.

Moreover, the proposed $1,000 monthly fee would apply equally to all Data Subscribers. The decision to subscribe to Real-Time access to TOPS or any other market data feed offered by IEX is within the control of any particular market participant, and each market participant has the ability to choose the market data product (or combination of products) best suited to its business objectives. Each Data Subscriber would be subject to the same comparatively low fee and can also receive the same data on a 15-minute Delayed basis for no fee. As a result, the proposed fee also does not favor certain categories of market participants in a manner that would impose a burden on competition because each market participant can select the market data product best suited to its needs. Thus, the Exchange believes that the proposed fee of $1,000 per month for Real-Time access to TOPS is not unfairly discriminatory.

Accordingly, based on the foregoing analysis, IEX believes that the proposed fee for Real-Time access to TOPS is consistent with the Act.

B. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement on Burden on Competition

IEX does not believe that the proposed rule change will result in any burden on competition that is not necessary or appropriate in furtherance of the purposes of the Act.

The Exchange does not believe that the proposed rule change will result in any burden on intra-market competition that is not necessary or appropriate in furtherance of the purposes of the Act. Use of Real-Time TOPS is optional. As discussed in the Statutory Basis section, each Data Subscriber would be subject to the same comparatively low fee and can also receive the same data on a 15-minute Delayed basis for no fee. As a result, the proposed fee also does not favor certain categories of market participants in a manner that would impose a burden on competition because each market participant can select the market data product best suited to its needs. Moreover, the Exchange will continue to make Real-Time access to TOPS available to market participants on a fair and impartial basis, and on terms that are not unfairly discriminatory, as discussed in the Statutory Basis section.

Further, as discussed in the Statutory Basis section, the proposed fee is within the range of fees charged by other exchanges for comparable market data products and less than the fees charged for such products by exchanges with market share similar to or lower than IEX. Thus, IEX does not believe that the proposed relatively low fee would operate as a barrier to entry, or impose a significant cost burden, on smaller Members or Data Subscribers.

The Exchange also does not believe that the proposed rule change will impose any burden on inter-market competition that is not necessary or appropriate in furtherance of the purposes of the Act. As discussed in the Statutory Basis section, other exchanges charge higher fees for comparable market data products. Market participants are not required to subscribe to any market data feed. The Exchange does not believe that increasing the fees for Real-Time access to TOPS will harm inter-market competition. Moreover, competing exchanges are free to adopt comparable fee structures subject to the Commission rule filing process.

C. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement on Comments on the Proposed Rule Change Received From Members, Participants, or Others

Written comments were neither solicited nor received.

III. Date of Effectiveness of the Proposed Rule Change and Timing for Commission Action

The foregoing rule change has become effective pursuant to Section 19(b)(3)(A)(ii) [30] of the Act.

At any time within 60 days of the filing of the proposed rule change, the Commission summarily may temporarily suspend such rule change if it appears to the Commission that such action is necessary or appropriate in the public interest, for the protection of investors, or otherwise in furtherance of the purposes of the Act. If the Commission takes such action, the Commission shall institute proceedings under Section 19(b)(2)(B) [31] of the Act to determine whether the proposed rule

[27] "Non-Display" use refers to accessing, processing, or consuming Real-Time IEX Market Data for a purpose other than (i) solely facilitating Data Subscriber's display of the Real-Time IEX Market Data or (ii) solely internally or externally distributing the Real-Time IEX Market Data. Non-Display use includes, but is not limited to, internally matching buy and sell orders within an organization, automated trading, order routing, order management, investment analysis, risk management, surveillance, compliance, and portfolio valuation. See IEX Market Data Policies, supra note 19, Section 13.

[28] IEX understands that a non-display trading fee charged by other exchanges would apply where a data recipient uses the market data to operate an exchange, an ATS, or a single dealer platform; and a non-display fee would apply where the data recipient uses the market data for internal trading purposes, such as algorithmic trading.

A. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Purpose of, and Statutory Basis for, the Proposed Rule Change

1. Purpose

The purpose of this proposed rule change is to (i) introduce a definition of Data Vendor; (ii) codify the existing definition (as defined in the Exchange's applicable North American Market Data Policies) of Extranet Service Provider; (iii) codify an existing practice that permits an External Distributor of both Cboe One Summary and Cboe One Premium to be liable only for the External Distribution Fee for Cboe One Premium; and (iv) create a program for Data Vendors in order to incentivize Data Vendors to build out the applicable feeds and make them commercially available to subscribers.[3] The proposed program will provide fee waivers (as described below) for External Distribution Fees for Data Vendors for the Cboe One Summary Feed and Cboe One Premium Feed.

Proposed Definitions

In connection with this proposed program, the Exchange first proposes to adopt a definition for a specific category of participants. Specifically, the Exchange proposes to establish the term ''Data Vendor'' to mean ''an External Distributor that (i) is actively engaged, as part of its primary business objective, in the solicitation of unaffiliated third-party Distributors to redistribute a transformed Market Data Product; (ii) does not maintain a brokerage relationship with Users in connection with the receipt or use of the applicable Market Data Product; and (iii) is not an Extranet Service Provider.'' As part of this new definition, and as further described below, the Exchange proposes to codify the existing definition of Extranet Service Provider within the Cboe Global North American Market Data Policies to be within its Fee Schedule.

The Exchange has also established objective, verifiable criteria for determining eligibility as a Data Vendor. The following criteria, which will be reflected in the Exchange's Fee Schedule, must be satisfied: (1) the External Distributor must identify itself as a Data Vendor in publicly available marketing materials; (2) the External Distributor must transform the applicable Market Data Product before redistribution, which may include aggregation across multiple data

[3] The Exchange initially submitted the proposed rule change on July 1, 2026 (SR–CboeEDGA–2026–023). On July 15, 2026, the Exchange withdrew that filing and submitted this filing.
