public interest, for the protection of investors, or otherwise in furtherance of the purposes of the Act. If the Commission takes such action, the Commission will institute proceedings to determine whether the proposed rule change should be approved or disapproved.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[Release No. 34–106779; File No. SR–LTSE–2026–25]

Self-Regulatory Organizations: Long-Term Stock Exchange, Inc.; Notice of Filing and Immediate Effectiveness of Proposed Rule Change To Amend LTSE Rule 3.291

October 30, 2026.

Pursuant to the provisions of Section 19(b)(1) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (''Act''),[1] and Rule 19b–4 thereunder,[2] notice is hereby given that on October 20, 2026, Long-Term Stock Exchange, Inc. (''LTSE'' or the ''Exchange'') filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (''Commission'') the proposed rule change as described in Items I, II and III below, which Items have been prepared by the self-regulatory organization. The Commission is publishing this notice to solicit comments on the proposed rule change from interested persons.

I. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Terms of Substance of the Proposed Rule Change

The Exchange is filing with the Commission a proposed rule change to amend LTSE Rule 3.291, Influencing or Rewarding Employees of Others; Gratuities, to conform to the rules of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority, Inc. (''FINRA'') for purposes of an agreement between the Exchange and FINRA pursuant to Rule 17d–2 under the Act.[3]

The text of the proposed rule change is available at the Exchange's website at https://longtermstockexchange.com/ and at the principal office of the Exchange.

II. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement on the Purpose of, and Statutory Basis for, the Proposed Rule Change

In its filing with the Commission, the Exchange included statements concerning the purpose of and basis for the proposed rule change and discussed any comments it received on the proposed rule change. The text of these statements may be examined at the places specified in Item IV below. The self-regulatory organization has prepared summaries, set forth in Sections A, B, and C below, of the most significant aspects of such statements.

A. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Purpose of, and Statutory Basis for, the Proposed Rule Change

1. Purpose

The Exchange proposes to amend LTSE Rule 3.291, Influencing or Rewarding Employees of Others; Gratuities, to conform the rule so that it is substantially similar to FINRA Rule 3220. The Exchange notes that this filing is based on a proposal recently submitted by FINRA, and approved by the Commission, to amend FINRA Rule 3220 (Influencing or Rewarding Employees of Others).[4]

Pursuant to Rule 17d–2 under the Act,[5] the Exchange and FINRA entered into an agreement to allocate regulatory responsibility for common rules (the ''17d–2 Agreement''). The 17d–2 Agreement covers common members of the Exchange and FINRA and allocates to FINRA regulatory responsibility, with respect to common members, for the following: (i) examination of common members of the Exchange and FINRA for compliance with certain federal securities laws, rules and regulations and rules of the Exchange that the Exchange has certified as identical or substantially similar to FINRA rules; (ii) investigation of common members of the Exchange and FINRA for violations of certain federal securities laws, rules or regulations, or Exchange rules that the Exchange has certified as identical or substantially similar to a FINRA rule; and (iii) enforcement of compliance by common members with certain federal securities laws, rules and regulations, and the rules of the Exchange that the Exchange has certified as identical or substantially similar to FINRA rules.[6]

The 17d–2 Agreement included a certification by the Exchange that states that the requirements contained in certain Exchange rules are identical to, or substantially similar to, certain FINRA rules that have been identified as comparable. To conform to comparable FINRA rules for purposes of the 17d–2 Agreement, the Exchange proposes conforming the text of LTSE Rule 3.291 so that it is substantially similar to FINRA Rule 3220.

Currently, LTSE Rule 3.291 is excluded from the 17d–2 Agreement because it is not identical, or substantially similar, to FINRA Rule 3220. Current LTSE Rule 3.291 prohibits a Member or person associated with a Member from directly or indirectly, giving or permitting to be given anything of value, including gratuities, in excess of one hundred dollars per individual per year to any person, principal, proprietor, employee, agent or representative of another person where such payment or gratuity is in relation to the business of the employer of the recipient of the payment or gratuity. FINRA Rule 3220 currently prohibits gifts in excess of $300.00, where the gift or gratuity is in relation to the business of the employer of the recipient. Unlike FINRA Rule 3220, current LTSE Rule 3.291 does not include provisions covering: supervision and record keeping requirements; an exclusion for payments made pursuant to bona fide, written employment contracts; gifts incidental to business entertainment; valuation of gifts; aggregation of gifts; personal gifts; bereavement gifts; de minimis gifts and promotional or commemorative items; donations due to federally declared major disasters; or gifts to a Member's associated persons or individual retail customers. LTSE Rule 3.291 was, therefore, excluded from the 17d–2 Agreement because it was not identical or substantially similar to FINRA Rule 3220. To harmonize its rules with FINRA, the Exchange proposes to conform the rule text of LTSE Rule 3.291 to text that is substantially similar to FINRA Rule 3220 so that it may be incorporated into the 17d–2 Agreement in its entirety.

The Exchange believes that these changes will help to avoid confusion among Members of the Exchange that are also members of FINRA by harmonizing LTSE Rule 3.291 with FINRA Rule 3220. The proposed changes to LTSE Rule 3.291 are designed to enable the Exchange to incorporate LTSE Rule 3.291 into the 17d–2 Agreement, further reducing duplicative regulation of Members that are also members of FINRA. For the avoidance of doubt, LTSE Rule 3.291 would equally apply to Exchange-only Members as the Exchange believes it appropriately protects against improprieties, such as conflicts of interest, that might arise when a Member or person associated with a Member gives items of value to an employee of another person, such as an institutional customer, vendor or counterparty with the hope of strengthening the relationship with the customer.

First, the Exchange proposes to amend LTSE Rule 3.291(a) to increase the gift limit from $100 to $300 per individual per year. FINRA stated that the current gift limit of $100 has been in place since 1992.[7] FINRA increased the gift limit from $100 to $300 to account for past inflation since 1992 and to account for expected future inflation for approximately ten years, thereby reducing the frequency of future upward adjustments to account for inflation.[8] Consistent with FINRA's determination, the Exchange believes that a $300 gift limit would continue to permit the exchange of business courtesies while helping to guard against excessiveness, and reasonably reflects changes to purchasing power due to inflation since the gift limit was last raised in 1992 as well as approximately ten years of expected future inflation.

Second, the Exchange proposes to add a new paragraph (d) to LTSE Rule 3.291 that would authorize FINRA staff to conditionally or unconditionally grant an exemption from any provision of LTSE Rule 3.291 for good cause shown, provided that such exemption is consistent with the purpose of the Rule, the protection of investors, and the public interest. Specifically, the Exchange proposes that pursuant to LTSE Rule Series 9.600 (Procedures for Exemptions), FINRA staff, for good cause shown after taking into consideration all relevant factors, may conditionally or unconditionally grant an exemption from any provision of this Rule to the extent that such exemption is consistent with the purpose of the Rule, the protection of investors, and the public interest. This proposed provision mirrors the exemptive relief authority added by FINRA in new Rule 3220(d).[9] Given the scope of LTSE Rule 3.291, which applies to gifts given to a wide range of recipients where the payment is in relation to the business of the employer of the recipient, and given the diversity of Member sizes, structures, businesses, and distribution models, the Exchange believes it would be useful and appropriate to have the ability to provide relief from a particular provision of the Rule under specific factual circumstances.

Third, FINRA Rule 3220 incorporated published guidance interpreting FINRA Rule 3220, including NASD Notice to Members 06–69,[10] FINRA's Frequently Asked Questions on Gifts, Business Entertainment, and Non-Cash Compensation,[11] as well as an interpretive letter regarding bereavement gifts (the ''Aly Letter'').[12] To maintain substantive alignment with FINRA Rule 3220, the Exchange proposes to adopt corresponding Supplementary Material .01 through .09 to LTSE Rule 3.291. Each proposed Supplementary Material section is described below.

Proposed Supplementary Material .01 (Gifts Incidental to Business Entertainment) would state that a gift given during the course of a business entertainment event is subject to LTSE Rule 3.291 unless it is consistent with the requirements of proposed Supplementary Material .04 (Personal Gifts) or .06 (De Minimis Gifts and Promotional or Commemorative Items) which is substantially similar to FINRA Rule 3220 Supplementary Material .04 and .06. For the purpose of the $300 limit, the cost of the business entertainment event itself would not be included in the value of the gift.

Proposed Supplementary Material .02 (Valuation of Gifts) would require Members to value gifts (other than tickets for sporting or other events) at cost, exclusive of tax and delivery charges, and would require Members to value tickets for sporting or other events at the higher of cost or face value. If gifts are given to multiple recipients, Members must record the names of each recipient and calculate and record the value of the gift on a pro rata, per-recipient basis, for purposes of ensuring compliance with the $300 limit in LTSE Rule 3.291(a). FINRA Rule 3220 at Supplementary Material .02 requires Members to value gifts (other than tickets for sporting or other events) at cost rather than at the higher of cost or market value reduces complexity and subjectivity because market value can be difficult and burdensome to determine, while distinguishing tickets for sporting or other events accounts for the fact that such tickets are commonly purchased on secondary markets at costs that differ from face value.

Proposed Supplementary Material .03 (Aggregation of Gifts) would require Members to aggregate all gifts given by the Member and each associated person of the Member to a particular recipient over the course of the year for purposes of ensuring compliance with the $300 limit in LTSE Rule 3.291(a), and would require each Member to state in its procedures whether it is aggregating all gifts given by the Member and its associated persons on a calendar year, fiscal year, or on a rolling basis beginning with the first gift to any particular recipient. The aggregation requirement would not apply to personal gifts under proposed Supplementary Material .04 or to gifts of de minimis value or promotional or commemorative items under proposed Supplementary Material .06 as they are already not subject to the gift limit. This proposed provision which is substantially similar to FINRA Rule 3220.03 would help ensure that persons who give multiple gifts in a year to the same recipient do not circumvent the gift limit.

Proposed Supplementary Material .04 (Personal Gifts) would state that gifts that are given for infrequent life events (e.g., a wedding gift or a congratulatory gift for the birth of a child) are not subject to the restrictions in LTSE Rule 3.291(a) or the recordkeeping requirements in LTSE Rule 3.291(c), provided the gifts are customary and reasonable, personal in nature, and not in relation to the business of the employer of the recipient. In determining whether a gift is ''personal in nature and not in relation to the business of the employer of the recipient,'' Members should consider a number of factors, including the nature of any pre-existing personal or family relationship between the person giving the gift and the recipient and whether the associated person paid for the gift. When the Member bears the cost of the gift, either directly or by reimbursing an associated person, the Exchange will presume that such gift is not personal in nature and instead is in relation to the business of the employer of the recipient. This provision is substantially similar to FINRA Rule 3220 at Supplementary Material .04.

Consistent with FINRA Rule 3220 at Supplementary Material .05 (Bereavement Gifts), LTSE Rule 3.291 at proposed Supplementary .05 separates bereavement gifts from personal gifts. Proposed Supplementary Material .05 would state that bereavement gifts that are customary and reasonable are not considered to be in relation to the business of the employer of the recipient and, therefore, are not subject to the restrictions in LTSE Rule 3.291(a) or the recordkeeping requirements in LTSE Rule 3.291(c). This provision is substantially similar to FINRA Rule 3220 at Supplementary Material .05.

Proposed Supplementary Material .06 (De Minimis Gifts and Promotional or Commemorative Items), at paragraph (a), would state that gifts of a de minimis value (e.g., pens, notepads, or modest desk ornaments) or promotional items of nominal value that display the Member's logo (e.g., umbrellas, tote bags, or shirts) are not subject to the restrictions in LTSE Rule 3.291(a) or the recordkeeping requirements in LTSE Rule 3.291(c), provided that the value of the gift or promotional item is substantially below the $300 limit. Proposed Supplementary Material .06(b) would state that customary and reasonable solely decorative items commemorating a business transaction are not subject to the restrictions in LTSE Rule 3.291 or the recordkeeping requirements in LTSE Rule 3.291. These provisions are substantially similar to FINRA Rule 3220 at Supplementary Material .06.

Proposed Supplementary Material .07 (Donations Due to Federally Declared Major Disasters) would state that donations by a Member or an associated person to any person, principal, proprietor, employee, agent or representative of another person to provide assistance to the individual for losses sustained in a natural event that the President has declared to be a major disaster, such as a wildfire, hurricane, tornado, earthquake, or flood, are not considered ''in relation to the business of the employer of the recipient'' for purposes of LTSE Rule 3.291(a) and are not subject to the restrictions in LTSE Rule 3.291(a) or the recordkeeping requirements of LTSE Rule 3.291(c). This provision is substantially similar to FINRA Rule 3220 at Supplementary Material .07 which recognizes that the nature of such disasters is unpredictable and catastrophic.

Proposed Supplementary Material .08 (Supervision and Recordkeeping) would state that the Exchange's supervision rules at LTSE Rule 5.110 require a Member to have a supervisory system reasonably designed to achieve compliance with LTSE Rule 3.291.[13] To meet these standards, Members would be required to have systems and procedures reasonably designed to ensure that payments and gratuities in relation to the business of the employer of the recipient given by the Member and its associated persons to employees of another person are (a) reported to the Member; (b) reviewed for compliance with LTSE Rule 3.291; and (c) maintained in the Member's records. Such procedures must be reasonably designed to ensure that an associated person who is giving a payment or gratuity is not responsible for determining whether such payment or gratuity is in relation to the business of the recipient's employer. Members are not required to maintain records of gifts that are consistent with the requirements of proposed Supplementary Material .04 through .07. Requiring a person other than the associated person giving the gift to assess the nature of the gift is intended to encourage objectivity in making such determinations and is substantially similar to FINRA Rule 3220 at Supplementary Material .08.

Proposed Supplementary Material .09 (Gifts to a Member's Associated Persons or Individual Retail Customers) would state that LTSE Rule 3.291 does not apply to gifts from a Member to its own associated persons, or to gifts from a Member or an associated person to individual retail customers. The Exchange believes that proposed Supplementary Material .09 would clarify, and improve awareness and understanding of, the scope of LTSE Rule 3.291 and is substantially similar to FINRA Rule 3220 at Supplementary Material .09.

The Exchange believes the proposed rule change would promote efficiency without reducing protection for investors and the public interest. The proposed changes to LTSE Rule 3.291 to conform to the rules of FINRA improve transparency, awareness, and understanding of the rule's requirements. The Exchange believes these proposed changes would also help facilitate compliance with LTSE Rule 3.291 and would provide regulatory certainty to Members. Because the Exchange proposes to make conforming amendments that are substantially similar to FINRA's amendments to FINRA Rule 3220, Members that are also FINRA members would continue to be subject to a substantially similar rule when conducting business on the Exchange. In addition, Members that are not FINRA members would continue to be subject to LTSE Rule 3.291 to the extent that such Members conduct business with the public.

2. Statutory Basis

The Exchange believes that the proposed rule change is consistent with the provisions of Section 6 of the Act,[14] in general, and furthers the objectives of Section 6(b)(5) of the Act,[15] in particular, in that it is designed to promote just and equitable principles of trade, to foster cooperation and coordination with persons engaged in [13] The Exchange's supervision requirements for Members are set forth in LTSE Rule 5.110 (Supervision). To the extent applicable, Members would look to the applicable supervision rules of the Exchange to establish and maintain a supervisory system reasonably designed to achieve compliance with LTSE Rule 3.291.

facilitating transactions in securities, to remove impediments to and perfect the mechanism of a free and open market and a national market system and, in general, to protect investors and the public interest.

As noted above, the proposed rule change conforms LTSE Rule 3.291 to FINRA Rule 3220 so that it is substantially similar to FINRA's rule, thereby promoting uniform standards across the securities industry. The Exchange also notes the changes proposed herein align LTSE Rule 3.291 with a recent filing submitted by FINRA and approved by the Commission.[16] The Exchange believes further that these changes will help to reduce and avoid potential confusion among Members of the Exchange that are also members of FINRA by harmonizing LTSE Rule 3.291 with FINRA Rule 3220. The proposed rule change is designed to enable the Exchange to incorporate LTSE Rule 3.291 into the 17d–2 Agreement, further reducing duplicative regulation of Members that are also members of FINRA. For the avoidance of doubt, LTSE Rule 3.291 would equally apply to Exchange-only Members as the Exchange believes it appropriately protects against improprieties that might arise when substantial gifts or monetary payments are given to certain persons.

The Exchange believes the proposed rule change would promote efficiency without reducing protection for investors and the public interest. The proposed changes to LTSE Rule 3.291 to conform to the rules of FINRA improve transparency, awareness, and understanding of the Rule's requirements. The Exchange believes these proposed changes would also help facilitate compliance with LTSE Rule 3.291.

B. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement on Burden on Competition

The Exchange does not believe that the proposed rule change will impose any burden on competition that is not necessary or appropriate in furtherance of the purposes of the Act. The proposed rule change is not designed to address any competitive issues but rather to provide greater harmonization among Exchange and FINRA rules of similar purpose, resulting in less burdensome and more efficient regulatory compliance for common members and facilitating FINRA's performance of its regulatory functions under the 17d–2 Agreement. As such, the Exchange does not believe that the proposed rule change will impose any burden on competition not necessary or appropriate in furtherance of the purposes of the Act.

C. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement on Comments on the Proposed Rule Change Received From Members, Participants, or Others

The Exchange neither solicited nor received comments on the proposed rule change.

III. Date of Effectiveness of the Proposed Rule Change and Timing for Commission Action

The proposed rule change is effective upon filing pursuant to Section 19(b)(3) of the Exchange Act [17] and paragraph (f)(6) of Rule 19b–4 thereunder,[18] in that the proposed rule change does not significantly affect the protection of investors or the public interest; does not impose any significant burden on competition; and does not become operative for 30 days after filing or such shorter time as the Commission may designate.

At any time within 60 days of the filing of the proposed rule change, the Commission summarily may temporarily suspend the rule change if it appears to the Commission that the action is necessary or appropriate in the public interest, for the protection of investors, or would otherwise further the purposes of the Act. If the Commission takes such action, the Commission shall institute proceedings to determine whether the proposed rule should be approved or disapproved.
