have been exempted from compliance with the statutory standards applicable to exchanges. Because competitors are free to modify their own fees in response, and because market participants may readily adjust their order routing practices, the Exchange believes that the degree to which fee changes in this market may impose any burden on competition is extremely limited.

The proposal will not impose an undue burden on inter-market or intra-market competition. The proposed deletions are not designed to address a competitive issue, but rather to ensure that the Exchange's fee schedule accurately reflects the protocols and fees currently available to market participants. Because CORE FIX will not be deployed, no market participant will lose access to an available protocol, lose an applicable waiver, or become subject to a new or changed fee as a result of deleting the obsolete CORE FIX production, disaster recovery, Testing Facility, and waiver references. The deletions will apply uniformly to all members and other market participants and will not disadvantage any category of Exchange participant. To the contrary, removing obsolete and inapplicable text will promote a clearer and more transparent fee schedule for all participants.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[Release No. 34–106781; File No. SR–PHLX–2026–66]

Self-Regulatory Organizations; Nasdaq PHLX LLC; Notice of Filing and Immediate Effectiveness of a Proposed Rule Change To Amend the Exchange's Transaction Fees at Equity 7, Section 3, To Delete Obsolete References to the CORE FIX Order Entry Protocol

October 30, 2026.

Pursuant to Section 19(b)(1)[1] of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (''Act'')[2] and Rule 19b–4 thereunder,[3] notice is hereby given that on October 22, 2026, Nasdaq PHLX LLC (''PHLX'' or ''Exchange'') filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (''Commission'') the proposed rule change as described in Items I, II, and III below, which Items have been prepared by the Exchange. The Commission is publishing this notice to solicit comments on the proposed rule change from interested persons.

I. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Terms of Substance of the Proposed Rule Change

The Exchange proposes amend the Exchange's transaction fees at PHLX Equity 7, Section 3, to delete obsolete references to the CORE FIX order entry protocol.

The text of the proposed rule change is available on the Exchange's website at https://listingcenter.nasdaq.com/rulebook/phlx/rulefilings, and at the principal office of the Exchange.

II. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Purpose of, and Statutory Basis for, the Proposed Rule Change

In its filing with the Commission, the Exchange included statements concerning the purpose of and basis for the proposed rule change and discussed any comments it received on the proposed rule change. The text of these statements may be examined at the places specified in Item IV below. The Exchange has prepared summaries, set forth in sections A, B, and C below, of the most significant aspects of such statements.

A. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Purpose of, and the Statutory Basis for, the Proposed Rule Change

1. Purpose

The purpose of the proposed rule change is to amend the Exchange's transaction fees at PHLX Equity 7, Section 3, to remove obsolete references to the CORE FIX order entry protocol.

On October 22, 2026, the Exchange filed with the Commission a proposal, with immediate effectiveness, to abandon plans to deploy the CORE FIX order entry protocol. The Exchange now proposes to delete from its equities fee schedule (PHLX Equity 7) all references to CORE FIX, which had been added to the fee schedule in anticipation of testing and deploying CORE FIX.

Specifically, the Exchange proposes to make the following changes:

1. In Equity 7, Section 3, under Port Fees, remove the reference and associated price for CORE FIX, including the tag to note ''1'' (which was incorrectly attached to the price for OUCH, another order entry protocol offered by the Exchange), as well as the corresponding note ''1''. This rule established, in relevant part, a fee for CORE FIX of $400, per month, per port. Note ''1'' read ''Temporary 30-Day Fee Waiver for CORE FIX Ports. The Exchange shall offer users a 30-day waiver of the CORE FIX port fee for up to five newly added CORE FIX ports. This fee waiver shall be offered for a three-month period, beginning on October 10, 2022.''

2. In Equity 7, Section 3, under Port Fees, remove the reference to CORE FIX in the line-item concerning ''Disaster recovery port.'' This rule established, in relevant part, a fee of $25, per month, per port, for a CORE FIX disaster recovery port.

3. In Equity 7, Section 3, under Testing Facilities, remove the tag to note ''1'', as well as the corresponding note ''1''. This rule establishes, in relevant part, a fee of $300 per port, per month, for subscribers that conduct tests of their access protocol connections through the Exchange Testing Facility. Note ''1'' read ''Temporary 30-Day Fee Waiver for CORE FIX Testing Facility Ports. The Exchange shall offer subscribers a 30-day waiver of the $300 Testing Facility fee in this paragraph (a) for up to five newly added CORE FIX Testing Facility ports. This fee waiver shall be offered for a three-month period, beginning on September 22, 2022.''

2. Statutory Basis

The Exchange believes that its proposal is consistent with Section 6(b) of the Act,[4] in general, and furthers the objectives of Sections 6(b)(4) and 6(b)(5) of the Act,[5] in particular, in that it provides for the equitable allocation of reasonable dues, fees and other charges among members and issuers and other persons using any facility, and is not designed to permit unfair discrimination between customers, issuers, brokers, or dealers.

The Exchange's proposed changes to its schedule of credits are reasonable in several respects. As a threshold matter, the Exchange is subject to significant competitive forces in the market for equity securities transaction services that constrain its pricing determinations in that market. The fact that this market is competitive has long been recognized by the courts. In NetCoalition v. Securities and Exchange Commission, the D.C. Circuit stated as follows: ''[n]o one disputes that competition for order flow is 'fierce.' . . . As the SEC explained, '[i]n the U.S. national market system, buyers and sellers of securities, and the broker-dealers that act as their order-routing agents, have a wide range of choices of where to route orders for execution'; [and] 'no exchange can afford to take its market share percentages for granted' because 'no exchange possesses a monopoly, regulatory or otherwise, in the execution of order flow from broker dealers'. . . .'' [6]

The Commission and the courts have repeatedly expressed their preference for competition over regulatory intervention in determining prices, products, and services in the securities markets. In Regulation NMS, while adopting a series of steps to improve the current market model, the Commission highlighted the importance of market forces in determining prices and SRO revenues and, also, recognized that current regulation of the market system ''has been remarkably successful in promoting market competition in its broader forms that are most important to investors and listed companies.'' [7]

Numerous indicia demonstrate the competitive nature of this market. For example, clear substitutes to the Exchange exist in the market for equity security transaction services. The Exchange is only one of several equity venues to which market participants may direct their order flow. Competing equity exchanges offer similar tiered pricing structures to that of the Exchange, including schedules of rebates and fees that apply based upon members achieving certain volume thresholds.

Within this environment, market participants can freely and often do shift their order flow among the Exchange and competing venues in response to changes in their respective pricing schedules. As such, the proposal represents a reasonable attempt by the Exchange to increase its liquidity and market share relative to its competitors.

The Exchange's proposal is also reasonable, equitable and not unfairly discriminatory because it removes obsolete references to CORE FIX and related temporary waiver language from the fee schedule. The Exchange has determined not to deploy CORE FIX, and the provisions proposed for deletion therefore would not govern an active protocol or an active fee offering. Removing references to the CORE FIX production port fee, CORE FIX disaster recovery port fee, CORE FIX Testing Facility ports, and related temporary waiver language will not change the availability, pricing, or functionality of any service currently used by members, and will apply equally to all market participants. Instead, the proposal will make Equity 7, Section 3 easier to navigate, understand, and administer by eliminating text that could otherwise create confusion regarding unavailable protocol functionality, obsolete fees, and waiver language that will not apply. For these reasons, the Exchange believes that the proposal is consistent with an equitable allocation of reasonable dues, fees, and other charges and is not designed to permit unfair discrimination.

B. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement on Burden on Competition

The Exchange does not believe that the proposed rule change will impose any burden on competition not necessary or appropriate in furtherance of the purposes of the Act. In terms of inter-market competition, the Exchange notes that it operates in a highly competitive market in which market participants can readily favor competing venues if they deem fee levels at a particular venue to be excessive, or rebate opportunities available at other venues to be more favorable. In such an environment, the Exchange must continually adjust its fees to remain competitive with other exchanges and with alternative trading systems that have been exempted from compliance with the statutory standards applicable to exchanges. Because competitors are free to modify their own fees in response, and because market participants may readily adjust their order routing practices, the Exchange believes that the degree to which fee changes in this market may impose any burden on competition is extremely limited.

The proposal will not impose an undue burden on inter-market or intra-market competition. The proposed deletions are not designed to address a competitive issue, but rather to ensure that the Exchange's fee schedule accurately reflects the protocols and fees currently available to market participants. Because CORE FIX will not be deployed, no market participant will lose access to an available protocol, lose an applicable waiver, or become subject to a new or changed fee as a result of deleting the obsolete CORE FIX production, disaster recovery, Testing Facility, and waiver references. The deletions will apply uniformly to all members and other market participants and will not disadvantage any category of Exchange participant. To the contrary, removing obsolete and inapplicable text will promote a clearer and more transparent fee schedule for all participants.
