SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[Release No. 34–106846; File No. SR–NasdaqTX–2026–055]

Self-Regulatory Organizations; Nasdaq Texas, LLC; Notice of Filing and Immediate Effectiveness of a Proposed Rule Change To Increase the Exchange's Options Regulatory Fee (ORF)

November 9, 2026.

Pursuant to Section 19(b)(1) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (''Act''),[1] and Rule 19b–4 thereunder,[2] notice is hereby given that on October 29, 2026, Nasdaq Texas, LLC (''NTX'' or ''Exchange'') filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (''Commission'') the proposed rule change as described in Items I and II below, which Items have been prepared by the Exchange. The Commission is publishing this notice to solicit comments on the proposed rule change from interested persons.

I. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Terms of Substance of the Proposed Rule Change

The Exchange proposes to increase the NTX Options Regulatory Fee (''ORF'') rate that will be effective on November 1, 2026. Additionally, the Exchange proposes a non-substantive amendment to Options 7, Section 5, to delete obsolete rule text that described a prior ORF collection methodology.

While the changes proposed herein are effective upon filing, the Exchange has designated the proposed rule change to be operative on November 1, 2026.

The text of the proposed rule change is available on the Exchange's website at https://listingcenter.nasdaq.com/rulebook/nasdaqtx/rulefilings, and at the principal office of the Exchange.

II. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Purpose of, and Statutory Basis for, the Proposed Rule Change

In its filing with the Commission, the Exchange included statements concerning the purpose of and basis for the proposed rule change and discussed any comments it received on the proposed rule change. The text of these statements may be examined at the places specified in Item IV below. The Exchange has prepared summaries, set forth in sections A, B, and C below, of the most significant aspects of such statements.

[1] 15 U.S.C. 78s(b)(1).

[2] 17 CFR 240.19b–4.

A. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Purpose of, and Statutory Basis for, the Proposed Rule Change

1. Purpose

At this time, NTX proposes to increase the ORF rate from $0.0200 to $0.0240 per contract side, effective November 1, 2026. This rate change is influenced by a review of regulatory costs and realized options volumes at the Exchange. Additionally, the Exchange proposes a non-substantive change to Options 7, Section 5, to delete obsolete rule text that described a prior ORF collection methodology.

NTX assesses ORF for options transactions cleared by The Options Clearing Corporation (''OCC'') in the customer[3] range, however ORF is assessed to each NTX Options Participant[4] for executions that occur on NTX Options. Specifically, the ORF is collected by OCC on behalf of NTX Options from Participants and non-Participants for all customer transactions executed on NTX Options. ORF is assessed and collected on ultimately cleared customer contracts, taking into account adjustments for CMTA that were provided to NTX Options the same day as the trade.[5] Further, the Exchange bills ORF according to the clearing instructions provided on the execution. More specifically, NTX Options assesses ORF based on the clearing instruction provided on the execution on trade date and does not take into consideration CMTA changes or transfers that occur at OCC.[6]

[3] ORF is assessed by NTX Options and collected via the OCC from Customers, Professional Customers, and Broker-Dealers that are not affiliated with a clearing member. These market participants clear in the ''C'' range at OCC. On NTX Options, a ''Customer'' applies to any transaction that is identified by a Participant for clearing in the Customer range at OCC which is not for the account of broker or dealer or for the account of a ''Professional''; a ''Professional'' means any person or entity that (i) is not a broker or dealer in securities, and (ii) places more than 390 orders in listed options per day on average during a calendar month for its own beneficial account(s) pursuant to Options 1, Section 1(a)(48); and a ''Broker-Dealer'' applies to any transaction which is not subject to any of the other transaction fees applicable within a particular category.

[4] The term ''Options Participant'' or ''Participant'' mean a firm, or organization that is registered with the Exchange pursuant to Options 2A of these Rules for purposes of participating in options trading on NTX Options as a ''NTX Options Order Entry Firm'' or ''NTX Options Market Maker.'' See Options 1, Section 1(a)(40).

[5] Adjustments to CMTA that occur at OCC are not taken into account.

[6] Adjustments that were made the same day as the trade on the Exchange will be taken into account.

NTX Options ensures that ORF Regulatory Revenue [7] does not exceed a material portion of Options Regulatory Costs.[8] More specifically, NTX Options endeavors to ensure that ORF Regulatory Revenue generated from ORF does not exceed 82% of Options Regulatory Costs. The Exchange will notify Participants via an Options Trader Alert of any change in the amount of the fee at least 30 calendar days prior to the effective date of the change.[9]

As is the case today, NTX Options will monitor ORF Regulatory Revenue to ensure that it, in combination with other regulatory fees and fines, does not exceed Options Regulatory Costs. In determining whether an expense is considered an Options Regulatory Costs, the Exchange will continue to review all costs and make determinations whether there is a nexus between the expense and a regulatory function. The Exchange notes that fines collected by the Exchange in connection with a disciplinary matter will continue to offset Options Regulatory Costs.

ORF Regulatory Revenue is designed to recover a material portion of the Options Regulatory Costs to the Exchange for the supervision and regulation of Participants' transactions, including performing routine surveillances, investigations, examinations, financial monitoring, and policy, rulemaking, interpretive, and enforcement activities. Options Regulatory Costs include direct regulatory expenses [10] and certain indirect expenses in support of the regulatory function.[11]

2. Statutory Basis

The Exchange believes the proposed rule change is consistent with the Act and the rules and regulations thereunder applicable to the Exchange and, in particular, the requirements of Section 6(b) of the Act.[12] Specifically, the Exchange believes the proposed rule change is consistent with Section 6(b)(4) of the Act,[13] which provides that Exchange rules may provide for the equitable allocation of reasonable dues, fees, and other charges among its members, and other persons using its facilities. Additionally, the Exchange believes the proposed rule change is consistent with the Section 6(b)(5) [14] requirement that the rules of an exchange not be designed to permit unfair discrimination between customers, issuers, brokers, or dealers.

The Exchange believes the proposed increase of the ORF rate is reasonable because of lower-than-expected options volumes at the Exchange have resulted in lower-than-expected ORF Regulatory Revenue. Increasing the ORF rate would increase the ORF Regulatory Revenue, while continuing to ensure that ORF Regulatory Revenue does not exceed a material portion of the Exchange's Options Regulatory Costs. As noted above, the ORF is designed to recover a material portion, but not all, of the Exchange's Options Regulatory Costs.

The Exchange designed the ORF to generate ORF Regulatory Revenue that would be less than the Exchange's Options Regulatory Costs, thereby ensuring that such revenue, in combination with other regulatory fees and fines, does not exceed Options Regulatory Costs. This is consistent with the view of the Commission that regulatory fees be used for regulatory purposes and not to support the Exchange's business operations. As discussed above; however, after review of its Options Regulatory Costs and ORF Regulatory Revenue, which includes revenues from ORF and other regulatory fees and fines, the Exchange determined that absent an increase in the ORF rate it may collect ORF Regulatory Revenue that would fall significantly short of its Options Regulatory Costs. Indeed, the Exchange notes that when taking into account options volume, it estimates that the current ORF rate, if left unchanged, may generate ORF Regulatory Revenue that would fall short of the targeted 82% of the Exchange's projected Options Regulatory Costs. As such, the Exchange believes it is reasonable and appropriate to increase the ORF rate from $0.0200 to $0.0240 per contract side.

The Exchange also believes the proposed fee change is equitable and not unfairly discriminatory because collecting 82% of Options Regulatory Costs is appropriate and correlates to the degree of regulatory responsibility and Options Regulatory Costs borne by the Exchange with respect to customer transactions. The Exchange's proposal continues to ensure that Options Regulatory Revenue, in combination with other regulatory fees and fines, does not exceed Options Regulatory Costs. Fines collected by the Exchange in connection with a disciplinary matter will continue to offset Options Regulatory Costs. Continuing to cap ORF collected at 82% of Options Regulatory Costs is reasonable, equitable and not unfairly discriminatory as the Options Regulatory Revenue collected will offset the corresponding Options Regulatory Costs associated with on exchange customer transactions. The Exchange will review the ORF Regulatory Revenue and will amend the ORF if it finds that its ORF Regulatory Revenue exceeds its projections.

Finally, deleting obsolete rule text at Options 7, Section 5, is a non-substantive change that is designed to keep the Exchange rule book current, and thus make it easier to understand.

B. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement on Burden on Competition

The Exchange does not believe that the proposed rule change will impose any burden on intra-market competition not necessary or appropriate in furtherance of the purposes of the Act because this collection accounts for customer executions, which will continue to be capped at 82% of Options Regulatory Costs. Furthermore, the Exchange will continue to review its ORF Regulatory Revenue and would amend the ORF if it finds that its ORF Regulatory Revenue exceeds its projections.

The proposed change to the ORF rate does not impose an undue burden on inter-market competition because ORF is a regulatory fee that supports regulation in furtherance of the purposes of the Act. The Exchange notes, however, the proposed change is not designed to address any competitive issues. The Exchange is obligated to ensure that the amount of ORF Regulatory Revenue, in combination with its other regulatory fees and fines, does not exceed Options Regulatory Cost.

Finally, deleting obsolete rule text at Options 7, Section 5, is a non-substantive change and, therefore, has no impact on competition.

[7] ORF Regulatory Revenue is the amount of revenue collected from the ORF.

[8] Options Regulatory Costs are those regulatory costs for options that comprise a subset of the Exchange's regulatory budget that are specifically related to options regulatory expenses and encompasses the cost to regulate all Participants' options activity.

[9] Participants were notified of the ORF rate changes for November 1, 2026, via an Options Trader Alert on September 28, 2026. See Options Trader Alert #2026–41.

[10] The direct expenses include in-house and third-party service provider costs to support the day-to-day regulatory work such as surveillances, investigations and examinations.

[11] The indirect expenses include support from such areas as Office of the General Counsel, technology, finance and internal audit.

C. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement on Comments on the Proposed Rule Change Received From Members, Participants, or Others

No written comments were either solicited or received.

III. Date of Effectiveness of the Proposed Rule Change and Timing for Commission Action

The foregoing rule change has become effective pursuant to Section 19(b)(3)(A) of the Act [15] and paragraph (f) of Rule 19b–4 [16] thereunder. At any time within 60 days of the filing of the proposed rule change, the Commission summarily may temporarily suspend such rule change if it appears to the Commission that such action is necessary or appropriate in the public interest, for the protection of investors, or otherwise in furtherance of the purposes of the Act. If the Commission takes such action, the Commission will institute proceedings to determine whether the proposed rule change should be approved or disapproved.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[Release No. 34–106849; File No. SR–Phlx–2026–70]

Self-Regulatory Organizations; Nasdaq PHLX LLC; Notice of Filing and Immediate Effectiveness of Proposed Rule Change To Amend the Exchange's Fees at Equity 7, To Establish an Optional Nasdaq PSX Monthly Subscription Fee Program

November 9, 2026.

Pursuant to Section 19(b)(1) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (''Act'') [1], and Rule 19b–4 thereunder,[2] notice is hereby given that on October 29, 2026, Nasdaq PHLX LLC (''Phlx'' or ''Exchange'') filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (''SEC'' or ''Commission'') the proposed rule change as described in Items I, II, and III, below, which Items have been prepared by the Exchange. The Commission is publishing this notice to solicit comments on the proposed rule change from interested persons.

I. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Terms of Substance of the Proposed Rule Change

The Exchange proposes to amend the Exchange's fees at Equity 7, to establish an optional Nasdaq PSX Monthly Subscription Fee Program (''Program'').

These amendments are effective upon filing. However, they will become operative on November 2, 2026. Therefore, interested firms can sign up for the Program by October 30, 2026, and start operating under the Program in the trading month that begins on November 2, 2026.

The text of the proposed rule change is available on the Exchange's website at https://listingcenter.nasdaq.com/rulebook/phlx/rulefilings, and at the principal office of the Exchange.

II. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Purpose of, and Statutory Basis for, the Proposed Rule Change

In its filing with the Commission, the Exchange included statements concerning the purpose of and basis for the proposed rule change and discussed any comments it received on the proposed rule change. The text of these statements may be examined at the places specified in Item IV below. The Exchange has prepared summaries, set forth in sections A, B, and C below, of the most significant aspects of such statements.

A. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Purpose of, and Statutory Basis for, the Proposed Rule Change

1. Purpose

The purpose of the proposed rule change is to amend the Exchange's fee schedule at Equity 7, by establishing an optional Nasdaq PSX Monthly Subscription Fee Program. The rule text for the Program will be located in Section 3 of Equity 7.

The Exchange is proposing to establish the Program as a completely voluntary and optional monthly alternative to its regular fee schedule, which charges firms [3] separate fees for each product or service they consume, including per share executed fees for removing liquidity on the Exchange during the month. Although the existing fee schedule is competitive and works well for many firms, the Exchange observes that for some firms, the existing fee schedule fails to incentivize increased participation on the Exchange. To address this concern, and to make participation in the Exchange more predictable and ultimately more attractive, the Exchange proposes to offer its firms the option to pay a single subscription fee each month.

Under the Program, a firm would be charged a flat fee of $650,000 a month. This fee will include an allocation of up to five order entry ports (i.e. OUCH, FIX, RASH) on Nasdaq PSX. It will also include liquidity-removing executions on Nasdaq PSX during the month—up to and including 0.125% of Consolidated Volume [4] in the prior

[3] As spelled out in the rule text, for purposes of the Program, the term ''firm'' refers either to a member organization, or a group of affiliated member organizations that have been aggregated pursuant to Equity 7, Section 3 (''Aggregation of Activity of Affiliated Member Organizations'').

[4] Equity 7, Section 3, defines ''Consolidated Volume'' for purposes of Equity 7 as ''the total
