SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[Release No. 34–106900; File No. SR–NYSE–2026–37]

Self-Regulatory Organizations; New York Stock Exchange LLC; Order Instituting Proceedings To Determine Whether To Approve or Disapprove a Proposed Rule Change To Amend Sections 303A.00 and 303A.07 of the NYSE Listed Company Manual

November 13, 2026.

I. Introduction

On July 31, 2026, New York Stock Exchange LLC (''NYSE'' or the ''Exchange'') filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (''Commission''), pursuant to Section 19(b)(1) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (''Act'')[1] and Rule 19b–4 thereunder,[2] a proposed rule change to amend Sections 303A.00 and 303A.07 of the NYSE Listed Company Manual (''Manual'') to extend the transition period in which a listed company must establish and internal audit function. The proposed rule change was published for comment in the Federal Register on August 18, 2026.[3] On September 25, 2026, pursuant to Section 19(b)(2) of the Act,[4] the Commission designated a longer period within which to take action on the proposed rule change.[5] The Commission is instituting proceedings pursuant to Section 19(b)(2)(B) of the Act[6] to determine whether to approve or disapprove the proposed rule change.

II. Description of the Proposed Rule Change

Section 303A.07(c) of the Manual states that each company listed on the Exchange must have an internal audit function. The Exchange states that the purpose of the internal audit function is to provide an issuer's management and audit committee with ongoing assessments of the issuer's risk management processes and system of internal controls.[7] The function may be outsourced to a third-party service provider other than an issuer's independent auditor.

Sections 303A.00 and 303A.07 of the Manual provide a transition period for certain issuers to become compliant with the internal audit function.[8] Pursuant to Section 303A.07, issuers must have an internal audit function in place no later than the first anniversary of their listing date. The Exchange proposes to extend the transition period to implement an internal audit function from one year to five years.

According to the Exchange, issuers have expressed concern that developing a capable internal audit function within the first year of listing presents challenges as issuers adjust to life as a newly public company. In expressing concern over the current one-year compliance period, issuers often cite competing business and regulatory obligations requiring management's attention and the challenges of building an internal audit function to assess a company's internal control environment while a company is still in its early stages and continuing to grow. The Exchange states that it believes that having a robust internal audit function is a key component of sound corporate governance, but agrees that providing issuers with additional time to develop such function will result in a more effective function.[9]

The Exchange further states that, during the proposed five-year transition period, other requirements will continue to provide sufficient assurance that issuers listed on the Exchange are appropriately managing risk. All issuers listed on the Exchange are required to have an Audit Committee comprised of at least three independent directors.[10] The Audit Committee of an issuer listed on the Exchange must have a written charter that requires it to ''at least annually, obtain and review a report by the [company's] independent auditor describing: the firm's internal quality-control procedures; any material issues

[8] Section 303A.00 of the Manual provides a one-year transition period for companies listing in connection with an initial public offering, carve-out or spin-off transaction. Section 303A.07 states that all listed companies must have an internal audit function within one year of listing.

raised by the most recent internal quality-control review.'' [11] In addition, Section 404(a) of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act [12] obligates management to maintain an adequate internal control structure for financial reporting and annually assess its effectiveness. Section 404(b) of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act [13] requires a company's independent auditor to provide an attestation on management's internal control assessment. In addition, the CEO and CFO certifications required by Sections 302 and 906 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act [14] require an additional level of management responsibility for internal control oversight. The Exchange states that the Sarbanes-Oxley Act and its provisions discussed herein was enacted after the Exchange first adopted its internal audit requirement and that, in this regard, the internal audit function may be viewed as a supplement for the statutory protections embodied in the Sarbanes-Oxley Act.[15] The Exchange also states that Nasdaq Stock Market (''Nasdaq'') does not require companies listed on that exchange to maintain an internal audit function.[16]

III. Proceedings To Determine Whether To Approve or Disapprove SR–NYSEAMER–2026–17 and Grounds for Disapproval Under Consideration

The Commission is instituting proceedings pursuant to Section 19(b)(2)(B) of the Act [17] to determine whether the proposed rule change should be approved or disapproved. Institution of such proceedings is appropriate at this time in view of the legal and policy issues raised by the proposed rule change. Institution of proceedings does not indicate that the Commission has reached any conclusions with respect to any of the issues involved. Rather, as described below, the Commission seeks and encourages interested persons to provide additional comment on the proposed rule change to inform the Commission's analysis of whether to approve or disapprove the proposed rule change.

Pursuant to Section 19(b)(2)(B) of the Act,[18] the Commission is providing notice of the grounds for disapproval under consideration. The Commission is instituting proceedings to allow for additional analysis of, and input from commenters with respect to, the proposed rule change's consistency with the Act, and in particular, Section 6(b)(5) of the Act,[19] which requires, among other things, that the rules of a national securities exchange be designed to prevent fraudulent and manipulative acts and practices, to promote just and equitable principles of trade, to remove impediments to and perfect the mechanism of a free and open market and a national market system, and, in general, to protect investors and the public interest, and not be designed to permit unfair discrimination between customers, issuers, brokers, or dealers.

As discussed above, the Exchange's proposal would extend the transition period in which a listed company must establish an internal audit function from one year to five years. The Commission has received a significant number of comment letters on the proposed rule change, most of which oppose the proposal.[20] Commenters state, among other things, that the period of time immediately following initial listing is precisely when independent oversight matters most and that the alternative safeguards mentioned in the proposal are not adequate substitutes for an internal audit function.[21]

The Commission asks that commenters address the sufficiency of the Exchange's statements in support of the proposal, which are set forth in the Notice, in addition to any other comments they may wish to submit about the proposed rule change. In particular, the Commission seeks comment on whether the proposal to change the transition period for newly listed companies to establish an internal audit function from one year to five years includes sufficient analysis to support a conclusion that the proposal is consistent with the requirements of Section 6(b)(5) of the Act.[22] The Commission also seeks comment on the issues raised by commenters.[23]

IV. Procedure: Request for Written Comments

The Commission requests that interested persons provide written submissions of their data, views, and arguments with respect to the issues identified above, including the issues raised by commenters, as well as any other concerns they may have with the proposal. In particular, the Commission invites the written views of interested persons concerning whether the proposed rule change is consistent with Sections 6(b)(5), or any other provision of the Act, or the rules and regulations thereunder. Although there do not appear to be any issues relevant to approval or disapproval that would be facilitated by an oral presentation of data, views, and arguments, the Commission will consider, pursuant to Rule 19b–4 under the Act,[24] any request for an opportunity to make an oral presentation.[25]

Interested persons are invited to submit written data, views, and arguments regarding whether the proposed rule change should be approved or disapproved by December 9, 2026. Any person who wishes to file a rebuttal to any other person's submission must file that rebuttal by December 23, 2026. The Commission asks that commenters address the sufficiency of the Exchange's statements in support of the proposal, in addition to any other comments they may wish to submit about the proposed rule change.

Comments may be submitted by any of the following methods:

Electronic Comments

- Use the Commission's internet comment form (https://www.sec.gov/rules/sro.shtml); or
- Send an email to rule-comments@sec.gov. Please include file number SR–NYSE–2026–37 on the subject line.

[OMB Control No. 3235–0176]

Agency Information Collection Activities; Submission for OMB Review; Comment Request; Extension: Rules 8b–1 to 8b–5; 8b–10 to 8b–22; and 8b–25 to 8b–31

Upon Written Request, Copies Available From: Securities and Exchange Commission, Office of FOIA Services, 100 F Street NE, Washington, DC 20549–2736

Notice is hereby given that, pursuant to the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq.), the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC or ''Commission'') is submitting to the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) this request for extension of the previously approved collection of information discussed below.

Rules 8b–1 to 8b–5; 8b–10 to 8b–22; and 8b–25 to 8b–31 (''rules under Section 8(b)'') (17 CFR 270.8b–1 to 8b–31) under the Investment Company Act of 1940 (15 U.S.C. 80a–1 et seq.) (''Investment Company Act'') set forth the procedures for preparing and filing a registration statement under the Investment Company Act. These procedures are intended to facilitate the registration process. These rules generally do not require respondents to report information.[1]

The Commission believes that it is appropriate to estimate the total respondent burden associated with preparing each registration statement form rather than attempt to isolate the impact of the procedural instructions under Section 8(b) of the Investment Company Act, which impose burdens only in the context of the preparation of the various registration statement forms. Accordingly, the Commission is not submitting a separate burden estimate for the rules under Section 8(b), but instead will include the burden for these rules in its estimates of burden for each of the registration forms under the Investment Company Act. The Commission is, however, submitting an hourly burden estimate of one hour for administrative purposes.

The collection of information under the rules under Section 8(b) is mandatory. The information provided under the rules under Section 8(b) is not kept confidential.

An agency may not conduct or sponsor, and a person is not required to respond to, a collection of information unless it displays a currently valid OMB control number.

The public may view and comment on this information collection request at: https://www.reginfo.gov/public/do/PRAViewICR?ref_nbr=202608–3235–001 or email comment to MBX.OMB.OIRA.SEC_desk_officer@omb.eop.gov within 30 days of the day after publication of this notice, by December 21, 2026.

Dated: November 13, 2026.

[1] Although the rules under Section 8(b) of the Investment Company Act are generally procedural in nature, two of the rules require respondents to disclose some limited information. Rule 8b–3 (17 CFR 270.8b–3) provides that whenever a registration form requires the title of securities to be stated, the registrant must indicate the type and general character of the securities to be issued. Rule 8b–22 (17 CFR 270.8b–22) provides that if the existence of control is open to reasonable doubt, the registrant may disclaim the existence of control, but it must state the material facts pertinent to the possible existence of control. The information required by both of these rules is necessary to ensure that investors have clear and complete information upon which to base an investment decision.
