in secure areas in folders in locked rooms with access limited to authorized agency personnel protected by twenty-four-hour guard service and electronic surveillance. Access to DEA facilities is restricted to DEA employees and persons transacting business within the building who are escorted by DEA employees.

Internet connections are protected by multiple firewalls. Users of individual DOJ computers can only gain access to that computer by a valid user identification and password or other method of authentication. Built into the information technology system's defense-in-depth architecture are standard encryption practices, including encryption at rest and in transmission. Security personnel conduct periodic vulnerability scans using DOJ-approved software to ensure security compliance, and security and audit logs are enabled for all computers to assist in troubleshooting and forensics analysis during incident investigations.

Role-based access controls are employed to allocate logical access to a specific job function or area of responsibility. Access to these records is granted based upon need-to-know and least privilege principles. Access that has not been explicitly permitted is denied by default. The system uses role-based access controls to ensure users have the proper permission to access and view documents with personally identifiable information (PII). All information technology system accounts are verified annually and promptly deactivated when user role-based requirements change. The System Administrators at the Office of Training conduct permission reviews of assigned roles and the associated role-based access controls on a regular basis. All applicable access controls are implemented and audited annually by a third-party auditing organization via the service provider.

DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE

Notice of Lodging of Proposed Consent Decree Amendment Under the Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation and Liability Act

On November 17, 2026, the Department of Justice lodged a proposed Consent Decree Amendment with the United States District Court for the District of New Jersey in the lawsuit entitled United States, et al. v. Morton Thiokol, Inc. et al., Civil Action No. 2:83–cv–4787.

The proposed Amendment modifies a consent decree with Morton Thiokol, Inc. that was entered in 1988 (Morton Consent Decree). The Morton Consent Decree required Morton Thiokol to perform a cleanup at the Goose Farm Superfund Site in Plumsted Township, New Jersey (Site) in accordance with a 1985 EPA record of decision. During post cleanup sampling, Morton Thiokol discovered further contamination in the Site's soils. In September 2025, EPA issued an amended record of decision addressing the remaining contamination. The proposed Amendment provides for the cleanup of this contamination.

As a result of Morton Thiokol having undergone a series of corporate transitions, Morton Thiokol no longer exists and Morton International LLC takes responsibility for Morton Thiokol's liabilities. Accordingly, the proposed Amendment also adds Morton International to the Morton Consent Decree and requires it to perform the additional soil cleanup.

The publication of this notice opens a period for public comment on the Consent Decree Amendment. Comments should be addressed to the Assistant Attorney General, Environment and Natural Resources Division and should refer to United States, et al. v. Morton Thiokol, Inc. et al. D.J. Ref.
