with minimal engagement. This trend reduces the committee's ability to provide meaningful input and limits its value as an advisory mechanism. Furthermore, these ongoing recruitment, retention, and engagement challenges require a disproportionate amount of staff time to manage, even as the committee's overall effectiveness wanes. Together, these factors demonstrate that the grantee's request is reasonable and that approving this waiver will reduce administrative burden, conserve resources, and streamline recovery efforts.

After reviewing the State of North Carolina's request and based on the good cause provided herein, the Department is waiving the alternative requirement found in the second paragraph of section V.A.3.c. of the August 2019 Notice. HUD notes the State's administrative and financial burden of forming a citizen advisory committee for its CDBG-MIT grants and, in alignment with section III.A.6.a. of the Universal Notice, waives this requirement. As an alternative requirement the grantee is subject to the requirement in section III.A.6.a. of the Universal Notice that states, ''HUD encourages grantees to gather feedback and recommendations on key program decisions from a citizen advisory group at least annually.'' If the State decides later that they do wish to work with a citizen advisory committee, the State can determine the cadence of the meetings and how the group would provide feedback to the grantee. This waiver and alternative requirement applies to the second paragraph of section V.A.3.c. of the August 2019 Notice as it relates to citizen advisory committees for CDBG-MIT funds under Public Law 115–123 and Public Law 116–20 for the State of North Carolina only. The State must continue to follow the first paragraph of section V.A.3.c. as it relates to the availability and accessibility of the Action Plan, substantial amendments, and performance reports, as well as other citizen participation requirements in section V.A.3.
