DEPARTMENT OF ENERGY

Preventing Outages and Enhancing the Resilience of the Electric Grid Formula Grants to States and Indian Tribes

AGENCY: Office of Electricity, Department of Energy.

ACTION: Notice of intent.

SUMMARY: The U.S. Department of Energy (DOE or the Department) and National Energy Technology Laboratory (NETL) intends to issue on behalf of the DOE Office of Electricity (OE), Amendment 000010 to DE–FOA–0002736 Infrastructure Investment and Jobs Act (IIJA)—Preventing Outages and Enhancing the Resilience of the Electric Grid Formula Grants to States and Indian Tribes in Quarter (Q) 1 Fiscal Year (FY) 2027. Amendment 000010 to DE–FOA–0002736 will provide access to FY 2025 and FY 2026 formula grant allocations, which are available at www.netl.doe.gov/iijahub/grid-resilience. This ''Notice of Intent'' is for informational purposes only. The Department is not seeking comments on the information in this notice and all information contained in this notice is subject to change.

ADDRESSES: Requests for more information should be addressed by electronic mail to OEGridResilinece@doe.gov and OETribalAssistance@doe.gov.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Matthew Landi, (240) 541–1534, matthew.landi@hq.doe.gov.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: DOE and NETL intends to issue on behalf of the DOE Office of Electricity (OE), Amendment 000010 to DE–FOA–0002736 Infrastructure Investment and Jobs Act (IIJA)—Preventing Outages and Enhancing the Resilience of the Electric Grid Formula Grants to States and Indian Tribes in Q1 FY 2027. This grant program is authorized under section 40101(d) of the Infrastructure Investment and Jobs Act (IIJA).[1] The forthcoming Administrative and Legal Requirements Document (ALRD) Amendment 000010 will support Administration and Congressional goals to (1) strengthen grid reliability and security by fortifying America's electric grid through implementation of President Trump's Executive Order 14156, ''Declaring a National Energy Emergency,'' [2] (2) identify and exercise all lawful authorities to strengthen the nation's electric grid to reliably meet growing electricity demand, (3) demonstrate measurable improvements in energy resilience in the United States, (4) mitigate severe weather-related risk, (5) modernize grid infrastructure so that it enables consumer access to lower-cost energy, and (6) address other evolving system needs over the coming decades.

The purpose of the forthcoming ALRD Amendment 000010 is to allow for submission of applications for the FY 2025 and FY 2026 allocations. The process for requesting a FY 2025 and FY 2026 allocation depends on whether the applicant is an existing grant recipient or a new grant applicant:

- Existing Grant Recipients that have already received grants for FY 2022, FY 2023, or FY 2024 of the Program will have 120 days from issuance of the ALRD amendment to request their FY 2025 and FY 2026 allocation, in accordance with the Terms and Conditions of their current Grant award.
- New Grant Applicants are eligible applicants (as defined in ALRD Amendment 0000010) that did not receive a grant FY 2022, FY 2023, or FY 2024. New Grant Applicants will have 120 days from issuance of the ALRD amendment to submit a grant application for a FY 2025 and FY 2026 allocation. Several one-time actions, identified in the Submission and Application Requirements discussion, must be completed before an application can be submitted, including registration with the System for Award Management (SAM), obtaining a Unique Entity Identifier (UEI), and registering with FedConnect.net. Prospective New Grant Applicants are encouraged to address these items as soon as possible, as some may take several weeks to complete. Additional instructions for New Grant Applicants will be provided in the ALRD Amendment 000010.

The current ALRD (Amendment 000010) is available at www.fedconnect.net/FedConnect/?doc=DE–FOA–0002736&agency=DOE.

Planned Technical Objectives and Scope

The Preventing Outages and Enhancing the Resilience of the Electric Grid Formula Grant program (Program) is authorized under section 40101(d) of the Infrastructure Investment and Jobs Act (IIJA).[3] The objective of this Program is to improve the resilience of the electric grid against disruptive events. Per IIJA section 40101(a)(1), a disruptive event is ''an event in which operations of the electric grid are disrupted, preventively shut off, or cannot operate safely due to extreme weather, wildfire, or a natural disaster.'' 42 U.S.C. 18711(a)(1). To achieve this objective, funding provided by DOE under this Program may be used to implement a wide range of resilience measures intended to mitigate the impact of disruptive events, including: [4]

(a) Weatherization technologies and equipment;

(b) Fire-resistant technologies and fire prevention systems;

(c) Monitoring and control technologies;

(d) The undergrounding of electrical equipment;

(e) Utility pole management;

(f) The relocation of power lines or the reconductoring of power lines with low-sag, advanced conductors;

(g) Vegetation and fuel-load management;

(h) The use or construction of distributed energy resources for enhancing system adaptive capacity during disruptive events, including:

a. Microgrids; and

b. Battery-storage subcomponents;

(i) Adaptive protection technologies;

(j) Advanced modeling technologies;

(k) Hardening of power lines, facilities, substations, of other systems; and

(l) The replacement of old overhead conductors and underground cables.

Funding may also be used for the training, recruitment, retention, and reskilling of skilled and properly credentialled workers in order to perform the work required for the particular resilience measures listed above and described by the State or Indian tribe in their Program Narrative, as described in more detail in ALRD section IV.B.ii.4. In accordance with 2 CFR 910.126, Competition, and section 40101(d) of the IIJA, eligibility for awards under this formula grant
